

By HAL BOYLE

With the First Army (AP)—"Mae" is the most contented in Europe since the Second Infantry Division doughboys dug her private foxhole.

She gave only four quarts of milk daily before the infantrymen got t shovels and dug her a shelter in the German artillery.

Her worries over, Daisy Mae owed her gratitude in the only y she knew.

"Now that the old gal doesn't ve to sweat out Jerry shells, she's ding 10 quarts of milk a day," id Sgt. Joseph A. Mongelluzzo of tisbury, Pa.

Another Nazi Error

The most disillusioned kraut of e week was the German prisoner o was knocked down and caped after he shoved a gun into little paratrooper private's ribs.

Back in a prisoner camp, the gry Nazi waited until Capt. Wil Young turned his back and en showered the captain with end-house haymakers—apparenty ping to score a quick knockout d make his escape.

Instead of shooting the prisoner, took off his pistol, tossed it one of the guards and then proed with his fists to bounce the ll battlin' Nazi off all four walls.

"I used to do that for a living," ould the befuddled German.

Back in California, Young used climb through the ropes under c ring name of Billy Ryan.

"We Split and Git"

Six-foot Capt. Roy G. McCracken, Pueblo, Col., saw five German ratroopers as he moved up and a tank-dozer to clear a road enemy mines.

He grabbed three of the Germans i his long arms and held them oner as the other two fled. A tle later he stepped in front of the nkdozer and saw a German paraooper captain leading up two plaons.

He grabbed the enemy officer but e latter tore himself free and arted to run. McCracken dropped in with two rifle shots. Asked hat he did then, McCracken grinnd and said:

"We split and git!"

Financial Crisis

When the German steamroller kept over Belgium, Sgt. Raymond. Savage of Leeds, Ala., was left ehind to destroy maps and papers. e had just finished his task when e enemy nabbed him.

Later he had cause to be glad y caught him when they did. e and two other captured doughoys were being questioned when merican artillery shelled the area. y everyone scattered and the three 'anks escaped to their own lines.

"I was just about to burn my money when the Heinies got me," aid Savage, "if they had taken me i only a few seconds later I ould e out a month's pay."

Tossup But Yankee Won

Capt. John M. Stephens introduced three German machinegunners to his own model "secret eapon"—his radio—and they really ere impressed.

Leading his assault platoon in an ttock on a Belgian village, the yler, Tex., company commander ound a corner and almost stepped n three Germans manning a machinegun.

As the Jerries swung the gun to ward him, Stephens tugged valiantly t his pistol caught in his snowrammed holster.

"I guess it was an automatic relex when I lifted up my radio to hrow at them," the captain said, maybe they thought it was a new eapon or grenade because they hrew up their hands and surrndered without a shot. It was a ossup who was most scared."

CANCEL PLANS FOR CAMP HERE

Unsettled conditions surrounding aseball are given by A. L. Banister, resident of the Columbus, Ohio, aseball team of the American Asociation, as the reasons for canceling the proposed training camp at Gettysburg college this spring.

The following letter was recently eceived by Mares Sherman, former resident of the Chamber of Commerce, from Mr. Banister:

"In view of the unsettled conditions surrounding baseball at this time, many of which have developed since I last wrote to you, we have decided to simplify our spring training plans as much as possible.

"Under these conditions we wish to train as close to Columbus as possible. Therefore we will be unable to take advantage of your very kind offers of assistance in locating at Gettysburg. I appreciate very much the interest taken in our problems by you and hope that at some future date we can be able to accept your hospitality at spring training."

8TH BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Lucy Walter, who resides with her daughter, Mrs. Arthur Vaughn, Biglerville road, is celebrating her 8th birthday anniversary today.

Allies Forge Ahead On Nazi Fronts

OFFICERS WILL GIVE "E" AWARD TO RUBBER CO.

Major Albert K. Dannenbaum, research and development expert from the Philadelphia Quartermaster depot, will make the presentation of the Army-Navy "E" award to the Blue Ridge Rubber company of Littlestown and its 1,000 employees at special ceremonies Wednesday at Littlestown.

The presentation program will be held in St. Aloysius hall at 12:30 p. m.

Lt. Edward B. Harvey, United States Navy Reserve, assistant public relations officer for the Fourth Naval District, Philadelphia, will give the pin citation to the company.

Announcement of the "E" production award for high achievement in the production of materials needed by the armed forces was made February 3 following official notification from Robert P. Patterson, Undersecretary of War.

Will Raise "E" Flag

The program will open with a musical prelude by the 323rd Army Service Forces band from the Carlisle barracks. Chief Warrant Officer Natasalusy will direct the band which will then play while the entire assembly sings "America." Merwin C. Fuss, president of the Taneytown Chamber of Commerce, will act as master of ceremonies, and give greetings.

Presentation of the award will be made by Major Dannenbaum and the Army-Navy "E" flag will be raised by a color guard from the 32nd Medical battalion from the Carlisle barracks. Ernest W. Dunbar, vice president of the company, will accept the award with the assistance of Mrs. Marie Rosensteel for the employees.

Will Present Pins

Following the pin citation by Lieutenant Harvey the presentation of the "E" plus will take place. They will be presented by Donovan R. Brown, a wounded veteran, to Leroy W. Wantz, for the management; and Mrs. Rosensteel, Mrs. Katherine P. Albaugh, Mrs. Miriam Wachter and Oscar Saylor for the employees.

Mrs. Albaugh will formally accept the pins and the program will close with the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" by the audience accompanied by the band.

Major Dannenbaum is a research specialist on rubber, synthetic rubber and coated fabric products at the Philadelphia Quartermaster depot, where he is assigned to the research and development division. He has served in this capacity since (Please Turn to Page 2)

1ST PRESIDENT MADE 1ST GIFT IN "Y" DRIVE

With the first contribution in the current financial campaign coming from its first president, Mrs. M. Hadwin Fischer, Philadelphia, the Gettysburg YWCA announced today, its first list of donors.

The "Y" is seeking a minimum of $2,000 with which to conduct its festivities during the coming year. The finance committee is in charge of the campaign which opened last week.

Today's list of contributors was issued by Miss Margaret Myers, who is at the "Y" office daily to receive contributions and reports from the solicitors that are busy in Gettysburg and other county communities.

The first list of names follows:

Gettysburg — Mrs. M. Hadwin Fischer, Edward Barbehenn, Mrs. Nathaniel C. Barbehenn, Mrs. Mervin Bream, Miss Eicholtz, Mrs. Gervus Little, Mrs. James H. McGlaughlin, Mrs. Nelson O. Sixeas, Mrs. May Palmer, J. E. King, Mrs. Lester Johnson, Mrs. Clyde Stover, Mrs. Pearl Harbaugh, Mrs. Fred Harbaugh, Mrs. J. A. Dickson, Mrs. John Hewitt, Mrs. David Lott, Miss Amy Ross, Mrs. Marian Sanders, Coffman and Fisher, Gettysburg National bank, Gettysburg Auto Parts Company, Mrs. Francis Knox, Tot Shop, Edna Ann shop, Stumey's meat market, Mrs. J. E. Codori, Eli Lock, Harry W. Oyler, Sr., First Dist. S. S. association, A. S. Keltogg, Gettysburg R. D. — Mrs. Herbert Wilson.

Bendersville — Miss Florence Morrison.

Biglerville — Miss Clara A. Myers and Rice, Trew and Rice.

NOW IN BELGIUM

Pvt. Woodrow Eckert has arrived safely in Belgium according to word received here today by his wife, Mrs. Phyllis Eckert, West Middle street.

Pvt. C. E. Ferguson Injured In Action

Pvt. Carlton E. Ferguson, 20, son of Mrs. Rhoda Ferguson, East Stevens street, was injured in action in Luxembourg January 23, the War Department notified the soldier's mother by telegram, Thursday.

The youth, who worked at the Gettysburg Panel company plant before he enlisted on March 1, 1943, served in an infantry unit of the Second Army. Previously he was attached to a gas supply outfit and also had trained with a tank destroyer unit.

Mrs. Ferguson, who has not heard directly from her son since last October, never knew his whereabouts since he landed overseas December 17, 1943. Censors always removed the name of the country from which he wrote. The location also was deleted from a letter from his commanding officer—praising the local soldier's services.

The family moved here from Blue Ridge Summit about three years ago. Ferguson trained at Ft. Jackson, S. C., and Camp Forrest, Tenn.

SCHOOLMEN TO SPONSOR PUBLIC FORUM FEB. 21

The first adult forum program to be open to the public will be held by the Adams County Council of School Administrators, Wednesday, February 21, at Gettysburg college when the topic for discussion will be "A Wholesome Program for the Youth of Adams County."

Prof. Leslie V. Stock, of Biglerville, president of the council and coordinator of the program, announced a panel of 16 persons from the county who have been invited to take part in the discussion.

Included in that group are the Rev. Nevin R. Frantz, president of the Adams County Ministerium; Judge W. C. Sheely, president judge of the county courts; Burgess Fred G. Pfeffer, of Gettysburg; Mrs. Elizabeth Grieb, of the local Child Welfare office; Paul A. Kinsey, as a representative of the Gettysburg Youth Center and Rotary club; Miss Mary Ramer, as representative of the Youth Center and Soroptimist club; the Rev. Dr. Dwight F. Putman, pastor of the College Lutheran church; Mrs. A. R. Wentz and Mrs. Glenn L. Bream, representing the YWCA; Dr. Fred Tilberg, district chairman for the Black Walnut (Adams county) district, York-Adams area council, Boy Scouts of America; Mrs. Romeo Capozzi and Mrs. Mervin U. Bream, and Miss Marion Topper, York Springs, representing the Girl Scouts; J. Calvin Gilbert, representing the Elks; Prof. Guile W. Lefever, representing the Gettysburg high school and the Lions club, and O. H. Benson, chairman of the Adams County Free Library association.

List of Questions

The meeting will open at 8 o'clock in the main lobby of the Student Christian association building on the college campus at the corner of West Stevens and North Washington streets.

Professor Stock listed today as some of the questions that will serve as a guide in the discussion, the following:

What extension of health service and medical care should be made available to the youth of the county in order to assure adequate care?

Is there a need to regulate child labor in order to safeguard youth in wartime employment?

Other Topics

Is there a need to develop closer (Continued from Page 1)

Pvt. C. E. Laughman Reported Wounded

Pvt. Charles E. Laughman, 21-year-old member of an Airborne Division, was slightly wounded in Belgium on January 8, the War Department has notified his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice E. Laughman, Hanover R. D. 3.

Private Laughman entered the service on April 8, 1943. Before going into uniform he was employed by the Stacey & Wilton company. He trained at Camp Mackall, N. C., and Camp Forrest, Tenn., before going overseas in September, 1944. He served in England, France and Belgium before being wounded.

CONFINED TO HOME

Paul L. Roy, editor of The Gettysburg Times, is confined to his home on Hanover street. Following a recurrence of an old ailment, his physicians have ordered him to discontinue all activities "for a month or so."

Weather Forecast

Fair tonight and Tuesday; slightly warmer Tuesday.

FEBRUARY TWELFTH—... FEBRUARY TWENTY-SECOND

MEMORIALS TO GREAT AMERICANS

ABRAHAM LINCOLN—
"Let us have faith that right makes might and in that faith let us to the end, dare to do our duty as we understand it."

GEORGE WASHINGTON—
"Integrity and firmness are all I can promise. These, be the voyage long or short, shall never fail me."

AND TO THE AMERICAN IDEALS OF FAITH·COURAGE·INTEGRITY·HUMANITY

Here And There News Collected At Random

One hundred and thirty-six years ago today Abraham Lincoln, 16th President of the United States, was born in a log cabin near the south fork of Nolin River, Hardin county, Kentucky.

No man in this great country, born of such humble circumstances and with so little promise, ever achieved the greatness of Lincoln. More shrines have been erected to his memory than any other mortal. The influence of his greatness increases year by year. He is more often quoted than any other American. His Gettysburg Address will live forever. The oftener you read it the more you'll like it.

On the anniversary of George Washington's birth in 1803, President Lincoln issued General Order No. 16, to be read to the army and navy. He used excerpts from Washington's farewell address to the army. This (Please Turn to Page 5)

Times Will Publish Pictures Of Children 'Without Charge'

Arrangements have been made to publish the photographs of every child in Gettysburg and Adams county in The Gettysburg Times in the very near future. The arrangements involve no expense to the parents.

The Times has contracted with The Woltz Studios, of Des Moines, Iowa, well known children's photographers, to come to Gettysburg and take the picture of every child in town and in the county. As soon thereafter as it is physically possible to make the prints and the engravings, considering the manpower shortage, the pictures will be published in The Gettysburg Times.

Sittings On 3 Days

There is no expense involved for the parents, unless they desire to purchase photographs, voluntarily. It is not compulsory.

Next Friday, Saturday and Monday, February 16, 17 and 19, photographers will come to Gettysburg and set up a studio in the IOOF hall, Chambersburg street and will photograph the children from 12 o'clock noon until 8 o'clock in the evening on each of the three days. Children must be accompanied by at least one parent or a guardian.

All parents or guardians need do is to take their children to the IOOF hall on either of the three days mentioned above as guests of The Gettysburg Times. There is no charge. Parents or guardians need not be subscribers to The Times. Neither are they obligated to purchase pictures after they are taken. After the pictures have been taken

BILL EVERHART BROADCASTS ON ARMY PROGRAM

Radio listeners in Adams county who hear the Army Hour Sunday afternoon between 3:30 and 4:30 o'clock over the National Broadcasting system enjoyed an interview from the western front with William C. Everhart, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Curtis Everhart, Fairfield road, Sunday, telling of his battle experiences.

Everhart was the first soldier to be interviewed in the broadcast. The announcer introduced him as Acting Sgt. Everhart although his previous rank was private first class, according to his parents.

The county soldier told of the part his outfit took in the capture of Schmidt, 13 miles inside Germany, which was announced last Thursday.

Brother Coming Home

Everhart entered the service in March, 1943, when he was a student at Gettysburg college, and trained at Camp Wheeler, Ga.; University (Please Turn to Page 2)

BULLETINS

Rome, Feb. 12 (AP)—American Fifth Army troops who drove to within two and one-half miles of Massa in the Italian west coast area have withdrawn slightly in the face of repeated enemy counterattacks and heavy German artillery and mortar fire, Allied headquarters announced today.

Washington, Feb. 12 (AP)—Cautioning that the future "is full of promise and danger," President Roosevelt today called on Congress to carry out the Bretton Woods agreements for world economic cooperation.

Brussels, Feb. 12 (AP)—Belgian Premier Achille van Acker, labor minister in the dissolved cabinet of Hubert Pierlot, has formed a new "National Unity" government retaining Paul Henri Spaak as minister of foreign affairs and deputy premier.

Washington, Feb. 12 (AP)—Henry Wallace's House opposition (Please Turn to Page 2)

Yanks Close Trap On Japs In Manila

Manila, Feb. 12 (AP)—Manila's bitterly-resisting Japanese defenders were trapped in a narrowing triangle between Manila bay and the winding Pasig river today as increasing numbers of American troops and armor poured in for the kill, aided by artillery and marine divebombers.

Major Gen. Verne D. Mudge's First Cavalry Division columns thrust deep into south Manila from the east yesterday after fording the Pasig again. Gen. Douglas MacArthur reported.

They swept over the Nelson airstrip and through the Santa Ana district southeast of the flame-blackened business district, fashioning a firm vise on the entrenched enemy defense garrison in the ninth day of the bloody battle for the capital.

Use Airborne Troops

Major Gen. Robert S. Beightler's 37th Infantry Division, meanwhile, fought through the residential Ermita district, along the south Manila bay shore, in the face of withering artillery fire from Japanese heavy guns and mortars mounted on or behind 10-foot thick walls of the old Intramuros (walled city) immediately north.

American artillery shells and rockets raked the enemy positions with deadly accuracy.

Airborne 11th Division Yanks under Major Gen. Joseph M. Swing were battling around Nichols Field, at the southern outskirts, and sent units northward to within a half mile of the American Polo club.

Corregidor Seared

In five days of fighting around Nichols Field the Americans captured 12 large guns—10 eight inch cannon and two six-inchers.

Seventy-five marine divebombers added their weight to the artillery pounding the desperate enemy. They tore devastatingly into a stubborn Japanese position near Fort William McKinley, at the southern edge of the capital.

Sheets of flame spread over Corregidor, historic fortress at the entrance to Manila bay, Saturday night indicating American bombs might have set off ammunition.

Littlestown Soldier Killed In Action

Sgt. Robert Collins, aged about 23, son of Nettie Collins, South Queen street, Littlestown, was killed in action in France January 28, according to a War Department telegram received by his mother last Wednesday evening.

Sgt. Collins was a tall gunner on a bomber. He had been in service for about two years and trained at camps in Mississippi and Texas before going overseas several months ago.

His last letter to his mother was written on January 6.

SERVICE MAN'S PAYMENT

State Treasurer G. Harold Wagner announced Saturday that one $20 payment was made during the past week to a returned Gettysburg veteran under the Service Men's Readjustment act.

RELIEF PAYMENTS DROP

Direct relief payments made to needy residents of Adams county last week decreased by $2.80. Payments totaled $319.10.

Canadians Push Past Kleve; Yanks Clear Pruem

Paris, Feb. 12 (AP)—Kleve, northern anchor of the Siegfried line, was captured today by the Canadian First Army.

By JAMES M. LONG

Paris, Feb. 12 (AP)—Canadian First Army troops pushed beyond the devastated Siegfried line anchor city of Kleve today, leaving groups behind to mop up the last nests of snipers in basements and garrets of the ruins.

In the center of the front, the U. S. Fourth Division cleared half of the major road junction of Pruem behind the widely breached Siegfried line. This fortified traffic center is eight miles inside Germany and 45 from the Rhine city of Koblenz, American occupation headquarters after the last war.

Between the focal points of battle floods loosed by the German breaching of the Schwammenauel dam flood gates immobilized the U. S. Ninth and British Second Army lined up along the Roer which was a rampaging river two miles wide at one point. Water sank 46 feet from the top of the dam and defeated the five mile long reservoir flooding the Roer valley.

Capture Gennep

The British and Canadian troops of Gen. Henry Crerar's command won control of three-fourths of the Reichswald thickets of fir trees and crossed in force the Spoy canal linking Kleve (pop. 20,000) to the Rhine, four miles north.

The Dutch border town of Gennep (pop. 3,272) was captured and the Niers river to the east was crossed. Vandugars passed a road through the shell splintered Reichswald a mile north of Kessel, which lies four miles northwest of the west wall road center of Goch. The prisoner bag rose to 4,000, most of them teen-age youth or infirm men.

Fighting in the Rhine elbow between the medieval fortress ruins of Kleve and the river was described as almost an amphibious operation because of the extensive thaw and flooding of the easily drowned German and Dutch flatlands.

Giving Up Pruem

Supreme headquarters said the flood peak on the Roer apparently had been reached and that water could be expected to subside during the next few days to something approaching normal.

The U. S. First Army which reached the great dam mopped up the west and north sides of the Roer to Heimbach, 13 miles deep in Germany.

The Germans apparently were giving up Pruem (2,840) which was under Third Army frontal and flanking pressure from the north-east and southwest.

Across new Sure river invasion bridgeheads, the Third Army extended its hold north of Echternach to an area two miles deep and five wide.

The U. S. Seventh Army in Alsace virtually cleared Oberhoffen, eastern anchor of the German Moder river line and were striving to push the Wehrmacht back from Drusenheim, between the Haguenau forest and the Rhine. The French army farther south was credited with destroying 75 per cent of the German 19th Army in cleaning up the Colmar salient.

Showers Handicap Planes

Scattered showers along the whole front handicapped air support and kept the ground sodden.

In general, the pace of the attack was slower. Nazi artillery was more active. German self propelled guns, the "hunting panthers," and snipers made going difficult in the Reichswald.

Nowhere along the widening 17-mile Kleve front were the Germans able to hold the crushing weight of the Allied assault, however. A front dispatch said the defense strategy appeared to be confused and lacking in coordination.

Beat Off Nazi Attack

The Canadians at Kleve said that veteran German parachute troops, moved from Alsace, were stiffening the sagging Nazi lines. The Canadians bag of prisoners in this battle, mounting in ferocity in Kleve's streets, rose to 3,500 yesterday.

At Pruem the Third Army's invasion of the Reich gathered momentum as the border line Sure river was bridged by pontoons at one point, enabling men and supplies to bolster three bridgeheads welded from 10 crossings on a 26-mile front.

Reds Circle Breslau; Race 27 Miles Thru Silesia Lines

(By The Associated Press)

London, Feb. 12—Marshal Ivan Konev, virtually encircling Breslau in Silesia and racing ahead 15 to 27 miles a day, has forced two bridgeheads across the Bober river 75 miles or less from Dresden, German broadcasts said today.

The Germans said Konev's tanks had broken into Breslau on the Bober, while to the north they had smashed through German defenses some 12 miles north of Sagan. This point is about 90 miles southeast of Berlin and only 30 miles south of Marshal Zhukov's First White Russian Army which the Germans said had crossed the Oder south of Fuerstenberg.

Khukov the Germans said, had made a spurt to within 15 miles of Stettin, Berlin's Baltic port. The Germans said Zhukov's right wing had penetrated to both sides of Madue See, a lake north of Pyritz, where they were menacing the rear of Stargard, a strongpoint of Stettin's eastern defenses.

Threatens Berlin Flank

Sagan is 27 miles west of the farthest point which Moscow has reported as reached.

The breakthrough here threatened to roll up the southern flank of Berlin's defenses, while the spearhead pointed at Stettin threatened the northern flank.

The drive to Bunzlau took the First Ukrainian Army three-fourths the way across lower Silesia to within 22 miles of Czechoslovakia.

Overrun Pomerania

On the Berlin front, Moscow dispatches said some of the most recent units rushed up to the battle over new communications systems were fresh bridge-building outfits—a clear indication that Marshal Gregory Zhukov might be ready almost any time to open the battle of Berlin.

The two kingpins of Berlin's defense along the Oder, Kuestrin and Frankfurt, were beginning to wear away under incessant day and night artillery pounding, Moscow said.

To the northeast of Berlin the Russians had captured the strongpoint of Deutsch Krone and overrun 30 other places in Pomerania.

In the offensive toward Stettin, Berlin's Baltic port, the Germans still were uncertain of the position of many Soviet spearheads, Moscow said.

Garrison Cut Off

"It is safe to say, however, that almost all connections between Danzig and Stettin have been interrupted and that tank units are close to the Oder near Stettin," said Moscow dispatches.

The fall of Deutsch Krone, 63 miles from the Baltic, virtually settled the fate of the encircled German garrison in the railroad town of Schneidemuehl, 12 miles to the southeast.

The Germans said the Russians had broken into the center of Schneidemuehl.

Below Breslau, the German command reported a strong new strike on the upper Oder between Bieleko in Polish Silesia and Ratibor in German Silesia toward the Moravian gateway to Vienna and Prague.

Above Breslau the Russians had captured Liegnitz, a transportation center 40 miles west and slightly north of Breslau.

Say Nazis Smashed

Almost within Russian grasp were the Silesian cities of Schweidnitz, Striegan, Jauer, Goldberg, among the last of the towns before Konev reaches Czechoslovakia in his southwestward drive.

While the Russians consolidated their Oder river positions for a frontal assault due east of Berlin, the new Soviet gains to the south increased the peril to the German capital by clamping a hold on a 37-mile section of the Berlin-Breslau trunk railway and threatening momentarily to spill across the four-lane superhighway between the two cities.

Konev's big drive and the capture yesterday of Deutsch-Krone, Nazi citadel and 12-way road hub in Pomerania, by units of Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov's First White Russian Army, prompted the Moscow radio to declare early today that Hitler's war machine has been smashed and cannot stand up to the continuous, widening Soviet pressure.

BROTHER DIES

Mrs. Clyde E. Stover has been called to Brownsville, Md., because of the death of her brother, George Thomas Brown. Dr. and Mrs. Stover went to Brownsville today.

Allies Forge Ahead On Nazi Fronts

OFFICERS WILL GIVE "E" AWARD TO RUBBER CO.

Major Albert K. Dannenbaum, research and development expert from the Philadelphia Quartermaster depot, will make the presentation of the Army-Navy "E" award to the Blue Ridge Rubber company of Littlestown and its 1,000 employees at special ceremonies Wednesday at Littlestown.

The presentation program will be held in St. Aloysius hall at 12:30 p. m. Lt. Edward B. Harvey, United States Navy Reserve, assistant public relations officer for the Fourth Naval District, Philadelphia, will give the pin citation to the company. Announcement of the "E" production award for high achievement in the production of materials needed by the armed forces was made February 3 following official notification from Robert P. Patterson, Undersecretary of War.

Will Raise "E" Flag
The program will open with a musical prelude by the 323rd Army Service Forces band from the Carlisle barracks. Chief Warrant Officer Nafafalus will direct the band which will then play while the entire assembly sings "America." Merwin C. Fuss, president of the Taneytown Chamber of Commerce, will act as master of ceremonies, and give greetings.

Presentation of the award will be made by Major Dannenbaum and the Army-Navy "E" flag will be raised by a color guard from the 32nd Medical Battalion from the Carlisle barracks. Ernest W. Dunbar, vice president of the company, will accept the award with the assistance of Mrs. Marie Rosensteel for the employees.

Will Present Pins
Following the pin citation by Lieutenant Harvey the presentation of the "E" pins will take place. They will be presented by Donovan R. Brown, a wounded veteran, to Leroy W. Wanz, for the management; and Mrs. Rosensteel, Mrs. Katherine F. Albaugh, Mrs. Miriam Wachter and Oscar Saylor for the employees.

Mrs. Albaugh will formally accept the pins and the program will close with the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" by the audience accompanied by the band.

Major Dannenbaum is a research specialist on rubber, synthetic rubber and coated fabric products at the Philadelphia Quartermaster depot, where he is assigned to the research and development division. He has served in this capacity since (Please Turn to Page 2)

1ST PRESIDENT MADE 1ST GIFT IN "Y" DRIVE

With the first contribution in the current financial campaign coming from its first president, Mrs. M. Hadwin Fischer, Philadelphia, the Gettysburg YWCA announced today, its first list of donors.

The "Y" is seeking a minimum of $2,000 with which to conduct its festivities during the coming year. The finance committee is in charge of the campaign which opened last week.

Today's list of contributors was issued by Miss Margaret Myers, who is at the "Y" office daily to receive contributions and reports from the solicitors that are busy in Gettysburg and other county communities.

The first list of names follows: Gettysburg — Mrs. M. Hadwin Fischer, Edward Barbehenn, Mrs. Nathaniel C. Barbehenn, Mrs. Merwin Bream, Miss Eicholtz, Mrs. Gervus Little, Mrs. James H. McGlaughlin, Mrs. Nelson O. Sixes, Mrs. May Palmer, J. E. King, Mrs. Lester Johnson, Mrs. Clyde Stover, Mrs. Pearl Harbaugh, Mrs. Fred Harbaugh, J. Mrs. J. A. Dickson, Mrs. John Hewitt, Mrs. David Lott, Miss Ann Ross, Mrs. Marian Sanders, Coffman and Fisher, Gettysburg National bank, Gettysburg Auto Parts Company, Mrs. Francis Knox, Tot Shop, Edna Ann shop, Shaney's meat market, Mrs. J. E. Codori, Eli Lock, Harry W. Oyler, Sr., First Dist. S. S. association, A. S. Kellogg.

Gettysburg R. D. — Mrs. Herbert Wilson.

Bendersville — Miss Florence Morrison.

Biglerville — Miss Clara A. Myers and Rice, Trew and Rice.

NOW IN BELGIUM
Pvt. Woodrow Eckert has arrived safely in Belgium according to word received here today by his wife, Mrs. Phyllis Eckert, West Middle street.

89TH BIRTHDAY
Mrs. Lucy Walter, who resides with her daughter, Mrs. Arthur Vaughn, Biglerville road, is celebrating her 89th birthday anniversary today.

Pvt. C. E. Ferguson Injured In Action

Pvt. Carlton E. Ferguson, 20, son of Mrs. Rhoda Ferguson, East Stevens street, was injured in action in Luxembourg January 23, the War Department notified the soldier's mother by telegram, Thursday.

The youth, who worked at the Gettysburg Panel company plant before he enlisted on March 1, 1943, served in an infantry unit of the Second Army. Previously he was attached to a gas supply outfit and also had trained with a tank destroyer unit.

Mrs. Ferguson, who has not heard directly from her son since last October, never knew his whereabouts since he landed overseas December 17, 1943. Censors always removed the name of the country from which he wrote. The location also was deleted from a letter from his commanding officer—praising the local soldier's services.

The family moved here from Blue Ridge Summit about three years ago. Ferguson trained at Ft. Jackson, S. C., and Camp Forrest, Tenn.

SCHOOLMEN TO SPONSOR PUBLIC FORUM FEB. 21

The first adult forum program to be open to the public will be held by the Adams County Council of School Administrators, Wednesday, February 21, at Gettysburg college when the topic for discussion will be "A Wholesome Program for the Youth of Adams County."

Prof. Leslie V. Stock, of Biglerville, president of the council and coordinator of the program, announced a panel of 16 persons from the county who have been invited to take part in the discussion.

Included in that group are the Rev. Nevil R. Frantz, president of the Adams County Ministerium; Judge W. C. Sheely, president judge of the county courts; Burgess Fred G. Pfeiffer, of Gettysburg; Mrs. Elizabeth Grieb, of the local Civil Welfare office; Paul A. Kinsey, as a representative of the Gettysburg Youth Center and Rotary club; Miss Mary Ramer, as representative of the Youth Center and Soroptimist club; the Rev. Dr. Dwight F. Putnam, pastor of the College Lutheran church; Mrs. A. R. Wentz and Mrs. Glenn L. Bream, representing the YWCA; Dr. Fred Tilberg, district chairman for the Black Walnut (Adams county) district, York-Adams area council, Boy Scouts of America; Mrs. Romeo Capozzi and Mrs. Mervin U. Bream, and Miss Marion Topper, York Springs, representing the Girl Scouts; J. Calvin Gilbert, representing the Elks; Prof. Guile W. Lefever, representing the Gettysburg high school and the Lions club, and O. H. Benson, chairman of the Adams County Free Library association.

List of Questions
The meeting will open at 8 o'clock in the main lobby of the Student Christian association building on the college campus at the corner of West Stevens and North Washington streets.

Professor Stock listed today as some of the questions that will serve as a guide in the discussion, the following:

What extension of health service and medical care should be made available to the youth of the county in order to assure adequate care?

Is there a need to regulate child labor in order to safeguard youth in wartime employment?

Other Topics
Is there a need to develop closer (Continued from Page 1)

Pvt. C. E. Laughman Reported Wounded
Pvt. Charles E. Laughman, 21-year-old member of an Airborne Division, was slightly wounded in Belgium on January 8, the War Department has notified his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice E. Laughman, Hanover R. D. 3.

Private Laughman entered the service on April 8, 1943. Before going into uniform he was employed by the Steacy & Wilton company. He trained at Camp Mackall, N. C., and Camp Forrest, Tenn., before going overseas in September, 1944. He served in England, France and Belgium before being wounded.

CONFINED TO HOME
Paul L. Roy, editor of The Gettysburg Times, is confined to his home on Hanover street. Following a recurrence of an old ailment, his physicians have ordered him to discontinue all activities "for a month or so."

Weather Forecast
Fair tonight and Tuesday; slightly warmer Tuesday.

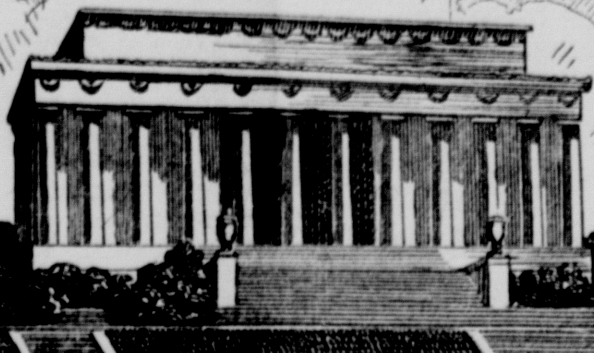

FEBRUARY TWELFTH.....FEBRUARY TWENTY-SECOND

MEMORIALS

TO GREAT AMERICANS

ABRAHAM LINCOLN—
"Let us have faith that right makes might and in that faith let us to the end, dare to do our duty as we understand it."

GEORGE WASHINGTON—
"Integrity and firmness are all I can promise. These, be the voyage long or short, shall never fail me."

AND TO THE AMERICAN IDEALS OF FAITH·COURAGE·INTEGRITY·HUMANITY

Here And There News Collected At Random

One hundred and thirty-six years ago today Abraham Lincoln, 16th President of the United States, was born in a log cabin near the south fork of Nolin River, Hardin county, Kentucky.

No man in this great country, born of such humble circumstances and with so little promise, ever achieved the greatness of Lincoln. More shrines have been erected to his memory than any other mortal. The influence of his greatness increases year by year. He is more often quoted than any other American. His Gettysburg Address will live forever. The oftener you read it the more you'll like it.

On the anniversary of George Washington's birth in 1862, President Lincoln issued General Order No. 16, to be read to the army and navy. He used excerpts from Washington's farewell address to the army. This (Please Turn to Page 5)

Times Will Publish Pictures Of Children 'Without Charge'

Arrangements have been made to publish the photographs of every child in Gettysburg and Adams county in The Gettysburg Times in the very near future. The arrangements involve no expense to the parents.

The Times has contracted with The Woltz Studios, of Des Moines, Iowa, well known children's photographers, to come to Gettysburg and take the picture of every child in town and in the county. As soon thereafter as it is physically possible to make the prints and the engravings, considering the manpower shortage, the pictures will be published in The Gettysburg Times.

Sittings On 3 Days
There is no expense involved for the parents, unless they desire to purchase photographs, voluntarily. It is not compulsory.

Next Friday, Saturday and Monday, February 16, 17 and 19, photographers will come to Gettysburg and set up a studio in the IOOF hall, Chambersburg street and will photograph the children from 12 o'clock noon until 8 o'clock in the evening on each of the three days. Children must be accompanied by at least one parent or a guardian.

All parents or guardians need to do is take their children to the IOOF hall on either of the three days mentioned above as guests of The Gettysburg Times. There is no charge. Parents or guardians need not be subscribers to The Times. Neither are they obligated to purchase pictures after they are taken. After the pictures have been taken

BILL EVERHART BROADCASTS ON ARMY PROGRAM

Radio listeners in Adams county who hear the Army Hour Sunday afternoon between 3:30 and 4:30 o'clock over the National Broadcasting system enjoyed an interview from the western front with William C. Everhart, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Curtis Everhart, Fairfield road, Sunday, telling of his battle experiences.

Everhart was the first soldier to be interviewed in the broadcast. The announcer introduced him as Acting Sgt. Everhart although his previous rank was private first class, according to his parents.

The county soldier told of the part his outfit took in the capture of Schmidt, 13 miles inside Germany, which was announced last Thursday.

Brother Coming Home
Everhart entered the service in March, 1943, when he was a student at Gettysburg college, and trained at Camp Wheeler, Ga.; University (Please Turn to Page 2)

BULLETINS

Rome, Feb. 12 (AP)—American Fifth Army troops who drove to within two and one-half miles of Massa in the Italian west coast area have withdrawn slightly in the face of repeated enemy counterattacks and heavy German artillery and mortar fire. Allied headquarters announced today.

Washington, Feb. 12 (AP)—Cautioning that the future "is full of promise and danger," President Roosevelt today called on Congress to carry out the Bretton Woods agreements for world economic cooperation.

Brussels, Feb. 12 (AP)—Belgian Premier Achille van Acker, labor minister in the dissolved cabinet of Hubert Pierlot, has formed a new "National Unity" government retaining Paul Henri Spaak as minister of foreign affairs and deputy premier.

Washington, Feb. 12 (AP)—Henry Wallace's House opposition (Please Turn to Page 2)

Yanks Close Trap On Japs In Manila

Manila, Feb. 12 (AP)—Manila's bitterly-resisting Japanese defenders were trapped in a narrowing triangle between Manila bay and the winding Pasig river today as increasing numbers of American troops and armor poured in for the kill, aided by artillery and marine divebombers.

Major Gen. Verne D. Mudge's First Cavalry Division columns thrust deep into south Manila from the east yesterday after fording the Pasig again. Gen. Douglas MacArthur reported.

They swept over the Neilson airstrip and through the Santa Ana district southeast of the flame-blackened business district, fashioning a firm vise on the entrenched enemy defense garrison in the ninth day of the bloody battle for the capital.

Use Airborne Troops
Major Gen. Robert S. Beightler's 37th Infantry Division, meanwhile, fought through the residential Ermita district, along the south Manila bay shore, in the face of withering artillery fire from Japanese heavy guns and mortars mounted on or behind 10-foot thick walls of the old Intramuros (walled city) immediately north.

American artillery shells and rockets raked the enemy positions with deadly accuracy.

Corridor Searched
In five days of fighting around Nichols Field the Americans captured 12 large guns—10 eight inch cannon and two six-inchers. Seventy-five marine divebombers added their weight to the artillery pounding the desperate enemy. They tore devastatingly into a stubborn Japanese position near Fort William McKinley, at the southern edge of the capital.

Sheets of flame spread over Corregidor, historic fortress at the entrance to Manila bay, Saturday night indicating American bombs might have set off ammunition.

Littlestown Soldier Killed In Action
Sgt. Robert Collins, aged about 23, son of Nettie Collins, South Queen street, Littlestown, was killed in action in France January 28, according to a War Department telegram received by his mother last Wednesday evening.

Sgt. Collins was a tail gunner on a bomber. He had been in service for about two years and trained at camps in Mississippi and Texas before going overseas several months ago.

His last letter to his mother was written on January 6.

SERVICE MAN'S PAYMENT
State Treasurer G. Harold Wagner announced Saturday that one $20 payment was made during the past week to a returned Gettysburg veteran under the Service Men's Readjustment act.

RELIEF PAYMENTS DROP
Direct relief payments made to needy residents of Adams county last week decreased by $2.80. Payments totaled $319.10.

Canadians Push Past Kleve; Yanks Clear Pruem

Paris, Feb. 12 (AP)—Kleve, northern anchor of the Siegfried line, was captured today by the Canadian First Army.

By JAMES M. LONG
Paris, Feb. 12 (AP)—Canadian First Army troops pushed beyond the devastated Siegfried line anchor city of Kleve today, leaving groups behind to mop up the last nests of snipers in basements and garrets of the ruins.

In the center of the front, the U. S. Fourth Division cleared half of the major road junction of Pruem behind the widely breached Siegfried line. This fortified traffic center is eight miles inside Germany and 45 from the Rhine city of Koblenz. American occupation headquarters after the last war.

Between the focal points of battle floods loosed by the German breaching of the Schwammenauel dam flood gates immobilized the U. S. Ninth and British Second Army lined up along the Roer which was a rampaging river two miles wide at one point. Water sank 46 feet from the top of the dam and deflated the five mile long reservoir flooding the Roer valley.

Capture Gennep
The British and Canadian troops of Gen. Henry Crerar's command won control of three-fourths of the Reichswald thickets of fir trees and crossed in force the Spoy canal linking Kleve (pop: 20,000) to the Rhine, four miles north.

The Dutch border town of Gennep (pop: 3,272) was captured and the Niers river to the east was crossed. Vanguards passed a road through the shell splintered Reichswald a mile north of Kessel, which lies four miles northwest of the west wall road center of Goch. The prisoner bag rose to 4,000, most of them teen-age youth or infirm men.

Fighting in the Rhine elbow between the medieval fortress ruins of Kleve and the river was described as almost an amphibious operation because of the extensive thaw and flooding of the easily drowned German and Dutch flatlands.

Giving Up Pruem
Supreme headquarters said the flood peak on the Roer apparently had been reached and that water could be expected to subside during the next few days to something approaching normal.

The U. S. First Army which reached the great dam mopped up the west and north sides of the Roer to Heimbach, 13 miles deep in Germany.

The Germans apparently were giving up Pruem (2,840) which was under Third Army frontal and flanking pressure from the north-east and southwest.

Across new Sure river invasion bridgeheads, the Third Army extended its hold north of Echternach to an area two miles deep and five wide.

The U. S. Seventh Army in Alsace virtually cleared Oberhoffen, eastern anchor of the German Moder river line and were striving to push the Wehrmacht back from Drusenheim, between the Haguenau forest and the Rhine. The French army farther south was credited with destroying 75 per cent of the German 19th Army in cleaning up the Colmar salient.

Showers Handicap Planes
Scattered showers along the whole front handicapped air support and kept the ground sodden.

In general, the pace of the attack was slower. Nazi artillery was more active. German self propelled guns, the "hunting panthers," and snipers made going difficult in the Reichswald.

Nowhere along the widening 17-mile Kleve front were the Germans able to hold the crushing weight of the Allied assault, however. A front dispatch said the defense strategy appeared to be confused and lacking in coordination.

Beat Off Nazi Attack
The Canadians at Kleve said that veteran German parachute troops, moved from Alsace, were stiffening the sagging Nazi lines. The Canadians bag of prisoners in this battle, mounting in ferocity in Kleve's streets, rose to 3,500 yesterday.

At Pruem the Third Army's invasion of the Reich gathered momentum as the border line Sure river was bridged by pontoons at one point, enabling men and supplies to bolster three bridgeheads welded from 10 crossings on a 25-mile front.

Reds Circle Breslau; Race 27 Miles Thru Silesia Lines

(By The Associated Press)
London, Feb. 12—Marshal Ivan Konev, virtually encircling Breslau in Silesia and racing ahead 15 to 27 miles a day, has forced two bridgeheads across the Bober river 75 miles or less from Dresden, German broadcasts said today.

The Germans said Konev's tanks had broken into Breslau on the Bober, while to the north they had smashed through German defenses some 12 miles north of Sagan. This point is about 90 miles southeast of Berlin and only 30 miles south of Marshal Zhukov's First White Russian Army which the Germans said had crossed the Oder south of Fuerstenberg.

Khukov the Germans said, had made a spurt to within 15 miles of Stettin, Berlin's Baltic port. The Germans said Zhukov's right wing had penetrated to both sides of Madue See, a lake north of Pyritz, where they were menacing the rear of Stargard, a stronghold of Stettin's eastern defenses.

Threatens Berlin Flank
Sagan is 27 miles west of the farthest point which Moscow has reported as reached.

The breakthrough here threatened to roll up the southern flank of Berlin's defenses, while the spearhead pointed at Stettin threatened the northern flank.

The drive to Bunzlau took the First Ukrainian Army three-fourths the way across lower Silesia to within 22 miles of Czechoslovakia.

Overrun Pomerania
On the Berlin front, Moscow dispatches said some of the most recent units rushed up to the battle over new communications systems were fresh bridge-building outfits—a clear indication that Marshal Gregory Zhukov might be ready almost any time to open the battle of Berlin.

The two kingpins of Berlin's defense along the Oder, Kuestrin and Frankfurt, were beginning to wear away under incessant day and night artillery pounding, Moscow said.

To the northeast of Berlin the Russians had captured the strong-point of Deutsch Krone and overrun 30 other places in Pomerania.

In the offensive toward Stettin, Berlin's Baltic port, the Germans still were uncertain of the position of many Soviet spearheads, Moscow said.

Garrison Cut Off
"It is safe to say, however, that almost all connections between Danzig and Stettin have been interrupted and that tank units are close to the Oder near Stettin," said Moscow dispatches.

The fall of Deutsch Krone, 63 miles from the Baltic, virtually settled the fate of the encircled German garrison in the railroad town of Schneidemuehl, 12 miles to the southeast.

The Germans said the Russians had broken into the center of Schneidemuehl.

Below Breslau, the German communiqué reported a strong new strike on the upper Oder between Bielsko in Polish Silesia and Ratibor in German Silesia toward the Moravian gateway to Vienna and Prague.

Above Breslau the Russians had captured Liegnitz, a transportation center 40 miles west and slightly north of Breslau.

Say Nazis Smashed
Almost within Russian grasp were the Silesian cities of Schneidnitz, Striegan, Jauer, Goldberg, among the last of the towns before Konev reaches Czechoslovakia in his southwestward drive.

While the Russians consolidated their Oder river positions for a frontal assault due east of Berlin, the new Soviet gains to the south increased the peril to the German capital by clamping a hold on a 37-mile section of the Berlin-Breslau trunk railway and threatening momentarily to spill across the four-lane superhighway between the two cities.

Konev's big drive and the capture yesterday of Deutsch-Krone, Nazi citadel and 12-way road hub in Pomerania, by units of Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov's First White Russian Army, prompted the Moscow radio to declare early today that Hitler's war machine has been smashed and cannot stand up to the continuous, widening Soviet pressure.

BROTHER DIES
Mrs. Clyde B. Stover has been called to Brownsville, Md., because of the death of her brother, George Thomas Brown, Dr. and Mrs. Stover went to Brownsville today.

LAST ACT OF EUROPEAN WAR IS GOING WELL

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Associated Press Wire Analysis)

The battle of Germany—last act of the European war—has on the whole gone well for the United Nations over a hard fought week-end.

The Western Allies, in intensive preparation for their projected all-out offensive, fought their way into two strategic communications centers—Kleve, in the north, and Pruem, a hundred miles to the south. So great was the threat produced by these two attacks that the Germans were reported rushing reinforcements from the eastern theatre.

On the other side of the Reich the Red Armies continued to batter into the country over a wide front, especially on their northern and southern flanks. The Moscow radio viewed the situation so optimistically today that it said the Nazi fighting machine has been smashed and can't stand up to the Soviet pressure.

But Anything Can Happen

All this is of course vastly encouraging, but it strikes me as important that despite this gigantic military squeeze the Hitlerites are continuing to display determination to fight to a finish. Knowledge that defeat is inevitable hasn't yet broken that determination, even though the very foundations of Berlin are shaking.

However, that should be qualified. I direct your attention again to a point I've made in previous articles—that when conditions are so critical in Germany, anything can happen at any time. In short, the Nazis might blow up over-night, and it's all right for us to recognize this so long as we don't start day-dreaming.

A collapse at this time would be due rather to a snapping of morale than to military or other material deficiencies, although these are great. Therefore we shall be wise to put aside thoughts of surrender in the immediate future and figure on a considerable stretch of bitter and costly warfare. The Reich still has military strength to carry on in a formidable way for some time—in morale stands up.

A Black Picture

Speaking of morale, one of the most significant piece of news is the estimate by British economic experts that the German food situation may have reached famine dimensions by autumn. The experts say the Russian advance has deprived the Reich of another 15,000,000 tons of foodstuffs. Moreover, the position has grown worse rapidly because of the millions of refugees from areas captured by the Red Armies and because of disorganized transportation.

That's a black picture and it's importance can't be overemphasized. Don't forget that when the awful plague of famine descends on a people, they're quite likely to do most of their thinking with their bellies.

Hunger can be a rank poison to morale, as we saw in the last war. One of the main reasons for Germany's capitulation was scarcity of food. The people were hungry, as I can testify, having gone into the country with the armies of occupation at the time of the Armistice. This sapped civilian morale, and that in turn reacted on the forces at the front, for men won't fight when they know their women and children are trying for bread.

Tough Proposition

But to return to the battle-front, the Western Allies are up against as tough a proposition as they've encountered in the Rhineland. Nature and man between them have conspired to put much of the terrain under water, so that the fighting is more like a sea battle than land warfare.

Under such terrible conditions, units of the Canadian First Army drove into Kleve where they are engaged in hand-to-hand fighting. This bears the marks of being the start of a flanking operation to help open the Cologne plain to the Allies. Along the hundred mile stretch between Kleve and Pruem the British and American forces are idle because the Roer river—the barrier which they must force to reach the Rhine—is many feet above normal level owing to the blowing of the Schwammenauel dam southeast of Aachen by the Germans. The Hitlerites had hoped to cause disaster by this flood, but while it reached a width of two miles at one place, it is believed to have reached its peak.

Social Happenings

Phone Gettysburg 640 or Biglerville 8

SC 3/C Earl H. Mauss, York, formerly of Gettysburg, is spending a seven-day leave at his home following a trip to Italy, Sicily and other European ports. He will report for further sea duty at the conclusion of his leave.

Mrs. Murray B. Frazee, Jr., will be the soloist, Prof. Fred Shaffer the pianist and Mrs. William C. Tyson the reader at the meeting of the Women's League of Gettysburg college at Christ Lutheran church Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

A business meeting of the Women's Society for Christian Service of the Methodist church will be held Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. William Pinsky, 54 Hanover street.

The Wednesday afternoon Bridge club will meet with Mrs. Francis Mason, East Broadway.

Mrs. Mary R. Martin, East Lincoln avenue, is spending some time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Leader, Reading.

Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Heldt had as guests over the week-end at their home on North Stratton street Mrs. Heldt's mother and sister, Mrs. H. S. Withers, Camp Hill, and Miss Mary Cella Withers, New York city.

Mrs. J. McCrea Dickson, West Broadway, has returned after a visit in Mahanoy City. She was accompanied home by her mother, Mrs. Harrison Ball, who will be her guest for some time.

Members of the faculty of the seminary will entertain members of the senior class at dinner Thursday evening at 6 o'clock at Christ Lutheran church.

Mrs. Fred Justin and children, Barbara and Glenn, Baltimore, arrived today for a visit of several days with Mrs. Justin's mother, Mrs. Minnie Bream, Chambersburg street.

Miss Lenore Schwartz and Miss Bonnie Schwartz, Baltimore, spent the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred K. Schwartz, Carlisle street.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Rasmussen, Springs avenue, is visiting friends in Altoona.

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin R. Bigham had as guests over the week-end at their home on West Broadway Mr. and Mrs. William A. Gill and daughter, Barbara, Alexandria, Va., and Pfc. William A. Gill, Jr., and his wife, Pfc. Gill, WAC, of Sedalia, Missouri.

Pvt. F. Harmon Furney is spending a 10-day furlough at his home on West Middle street.

S. Sgt. Lloyd V. Rau has returned to Ft. Bliss, Texas, after spending a 5-day furlough with his wife, Mrs. Dorothy Rau, Orrtanna.

Miss Ruth A. Warman, 235 East Middle street, was tendered a surprise party at her home Friday evening in celebration of her birthday anniversary. The guests included Myrtis Johnson, Dorothy Starry, Margaret Bable, Gladys Wetzel, Ann Uiz, Calvin Johnson and Harold Zinn. The guest of honor received many gifts.

A-T William R. Spence, Colum- bus, Ohio, arrived today to spend a three-day leave with Mrs. Spence at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Dively, Springs avenue. Mrs. Spence will accompany her husband to Columbus to remain for an indefinite time.

Dr. Harvey D. Hoover conducted a Lenten service for the Allegheny county conference of the Central Pennsylvania Synod of the United Lutheran church at Stoyestown today.

Edward V. Devoil, Louisville, Ky., spent the week-end with his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Buleit, College avenue.

Miss Mary Louise Wentz has resumed her teaching at Reisterstown Md., high school, after spending the week-end with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. A. R. Wentz, seminary campus.

The Rev. and Mrs. E. G. Goetz, Rochester, N. Y., visited Dr. and Mrs. Harvey D. Hoover, Springs avenue, Friday evening.

BULLETINS

(Continued from Page 1)

ents appeared assured today of a chance to restrict further the money powers he would wield if he become Secretary of Commerce.

London, Feb. 12 (AP)—Every woman and girl in Germany was made liable for "auxiliary service" under a decree broadcast by DNB, thus bringing the entire German nation within the grip of Gestapo Chief Heinrich Himmler, commander of the home army.

During the period August 8, 1944, to December 17, 1944, Sergeant Spence distinguished himself in performing his duties as chief of wire section in a superior manner. Due to his initiative and efficiency the wire communications of the battery he served have worked effectively at all times under constant combat conditions. The leadership, resourcefulness, and devotion to duty displayed by Sergeant Spence reflect great credit upon himself and the armed forces of the United States.

Sergeant Spence is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Spence, Orrtanna R. D. The word was received by his wife, Mrs. Martha Spence, Baltimore.

Russell—Overbaugh
Francis X. Russell, Harrisburg, and Helen Camille Overbaugh, McSherrytown, were married last Thursday in McSherrytown, by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Patrick F. McGee, rector of St. Mary's Catholic church.

DEATHS
Charles A. Hombach
Charles Adolphus Hombach, 78, retired cigarmaker, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John H. Tawney, Third street, McSherrytown, Saturday morning at 2:20 o'clock. Death was due to pneumonia. Mr. Hombach, a former resident of McSherrytown, had resided in York for the past three years. He became ill while visiting at the Tawney home. The deceased was a son of the late William D. and Jennie Hombach. He was married on January 2, 1890, to Gabrielle Eltine. Surviving are six children, Mrs. Leo T. Noel and Mrs. John T. Tawney, Third street, McSherrytown; William Russell Wolf, York; Captain William Hombach, who is in the South Pacific; Mrs. James Little, Hanover, and Clair E. Hombach, York; sixteen grandchildren, five great-grandchildren; two brothers, Harry Hombach, York, and William D. Hombach, Fort Wayne, Ind., and two sisters, Mrs. Clara Collins, York, and Mrs. Bessie Beck, New Jersey. Funeral Thursday, meeting at the home of the daughter, Mrs. John Tawney, at 8:30 a. m. with a high mass of requiem at 9 o'clock in the Church of the Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin Mary, McSherrytown. The Rt. Rev. Patrick F. McGee, rector, officiating. Interment in the parish cemetery. Friends may call at the home from Tuesday evening until the time of the funeral.

Miss Flora M. Dicks
Miss Flora May Dicks, 63, Hampton, died at her home Saturday morning at 6:30 o'clock, following an extended illness. Miss Dicks was a daughter of the late Haines Dicks, and Mrs. Annie Brown Dicks, and was born September 26, 1881. She was a member of the Brethren church, and was affiliated with the congregation of Mummert's Meeting house, near East Berlin. Surviving are her mother, Mrs. Annie Dicks Hampton; two sisters, Mrs. Herbert Wolf, York, and Mrs. Ira Masemer, Hanover R. D. 2, and one brother, Charles N. Dicks, Hampton. Funeral Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock from the W. A. Felsner funeral home, Carlisle street, Hanover, with further services in Mummert's Meeting house, near East Berlin, the Rev. Paul Miller, and the Rev. Monroe Danner, Brethren ministers, officiating. Interment in Mummert's Meeting House cemetery. Friends may call this evening at the Felsner funeral home.

Clayton T. Boyer
Funeral services for Clayton T. Boyer, 67, a native of Biglerville, who died last Wednesday in the Harrisburg hospital from a complication of diseases, were held Saturday afternoon in Harrisburg. Interment in a Silection cemetery. The deceased was born near Biglerville, a son of the late Martin Boyer. He was raised in Adams county. For a number of years he resided in Harrisburg. Surviving are three children, Mrs. Ross Hartman, Harrisburg; Mrs. Hazel Costello, Louisville, Ky., and George Boyer, Carlisle; two sisters, Mrs. Katie Albert, Holdersburg, Pa.; one brother, John M. Boyer, Gettysburg; eight half brothers and half sisters, Mrs. Coffman Shenk, Joseph Boyer, Warren Boyer and Charles Boyer, all of Biglerville; Elton Boyer, Millersville; Mrs. D. D. Shenk, Denbigh, Va.; Mrs. Ernest Bontrager, Estacaba, Oregon, and

Upper Communities

Mrs. A. D. Wells returned to her home at Bluffton, Ohio, today, after a visit with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Allen S. Stauffer, of Biglerville.

Sgt. and Mrs. Frank Cole, of Mid-dictown, spent the week-end with Mrs. Cole's mother, Mrs. George Weikert, of Table Rock.

Miss Rheba Taylor, of Essex, Maryland, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Taylor, of Biglerville.

The Friendship class of Trinity- Benders Reformed Sunday school will meet Wednesday evening with Mrs. Roy Lawyer, of Biglerville.

Paul F. Osborn, of Biglerville, is visiting his son, Pvt. Paul F. Osborn, Jr., at Spartansburg, North Carolina.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenton Bushey, of Beaver Falls, announce the birth of a daughter, Juliet, on February 6. Mrs. Bushey was the former Miss Pauline Bosserman, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Cletus E. Bosserman, near Holdersburg.

Cpl. John Lawyer, of Camp Maxey, Texas, is spending a furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Lawyer, of Biglerville.

Harry Roddy has returned to Uniontown after spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Fidler, of Biglerville.

The class of Trinity-Benders Re- formed Sunday school, taught by Mrs. Henry Lower, will hold its next meeting Monday evening, February 19, at the home of Miss Justine Lawyer.

Bendersville Boy Scout Troop 72 has invited parents of members and troop committeemen to the Parents' Night and Scout Week celebration which will be held in conjunction with the meeting Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Dr. Harvey D. Hoover, Gettysburg, will be the guest speaker. Members of the Scout committee include the Rev. George Harrison, H. W. Lorew, C. A. McCauslin, Parker L. Kuntz and George L. Schriver.

Lt. Thomas Enck, Monmouth, N. J., spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren K. Enck, Biglerville.

Mr. and Mrs. Granville Grabb entertained recently at their home in Biglerville Mrs. Hockensmith and daughters, Betty and Ethel, Pfc. Robert Bosserman and Norman Albert, York Pfc. Bosserman, who is stationed with the Air Corps at Malden, Mo., is spending a furlough at his home.

Cpl. John Lawyer, Maxey, Texas, is spending a furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Lawyer, Biglerville, after which he will report to Ft. Meade, Md.

Week's Evangelistic Services Concluded
The series of evangelistic services which had been in progress during the past week at Mt. Victory United Brethren church, near York Springs, closed Sunday evening. Services had been conducted each evening during the week and visiting clergymen filled the pulpit. At the last meeting an old-fashioned song service was held with selections rendered by the Coulson and Sommers families and by the Girls' quartet of the church. The Rev. Harry R. Lee, pastor, delivered the sermon on "The Book." All young people who attended every service of the series were presented with awards Sunday evening.

Coroner's Inquest Tuesday Afternoon
A coroner's inquest into the death of Stephen P. Wagaman, eight-year-old son of Pfc. and Mrs. Stephen Wagaman, Gettysburg R. 3, will be held at the court house Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. It was announced today by Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams county coroner. Wagaman was fatally injured last Tuesday evening when he stepped from behind a car in front of his home along the Munnasburg road into the path of another car driven by Mildred B. Plank, 60 Breckenridge street.

EX-SOLDIER TREATED
A discharged soldier from Tyronc was found in a dazed condition in the dispensary at the Warner hospital Sunday morning about 5 o'clock by the superintendent of nurses as she made an inspection trip. The man, who later was identified by state police as Burton F. Huff, 26, complained of abdominal and other pain and was treated at the hospital. He was to be taken to Tyronc today by his parents.

HOSPITAL REPORT
Patients admitted to the Warner hospital include Mrs. Robert Chapman, Orrtanna; Mrs. Merle Stultz, York street; Mrs. Merle R. Shaffer, York street; Burton Huff, Altoona; Mrs. Roy Goldsmith, 37 Breckenridge street; Mrs. Earle Goldwicks, Emmitsburg, and Mrs. Annie Donahue, Fairfield. Those discharged were Joyce Naylor, Aspers; Betty Schwartz, Littlestown, and Dean Shaffer, Biglerville.

CALL SPECIAL LIBRARY MEET

With three important items of business transacted, a special meeting of the Adams County Free Library association has been called for 7:45 o'clock Wednesday evening in the court house with a special meeting of the board of directors set for 7 o'clock the same evening, also at the court house.

Matters to be taken up at the meeting of the general association will include the filing of two vacancies on the board of directors—caused by the resignations of Albert Weaver of McSherrytown and H. A. Jones of New Oxford who gave up their positions because of business and other demands upon their time—to amend the constitution with regard to the filling of board vacancies, changing quorum requirements for the board and association and to provide for a "more workable" set up for committees.

Other important business is on the calendar. O. H. Benson, association president said, as he urged all charter members of the organization and other interested persons to attend. Persons who wish to attend Ash Wednesday services that evening are invited to come late to the library meeting.

GETS MOVIE MANUSCRIPT
The manuscript of the current movie "Tonight and Everynight" starring Rita Hayworth has been acquired for display at the National Museum, Taneytown road, George D. Rosensteel, proprietor, announced today.

OFFICERS WILL

(Continued from Page 1)

July 17, 1942, when he was named a captain in the U. S. Army Quartermaster Corps. Previously he had been president of the Aldon Rubber company and the Schwarzwelder company, of Philadelphia. The major is a graduate of the Philadelphia Textile school and of Northeast high school.

Commanded Sub Chaser
Lieutenant Harvey returned in December, 1944, from the Mediterranean theater of war where he was the commanding officer of a submarine chaser.

He entered the Navy in June, 1942, and participated in the Tunisian and Sicilian campaigns as executive officer of a patrol craft. Promoted to commanding officer of a sub chaser he participated in the Italian and Anzio campaigns and the invasion of southern France. During his last duty, his ship was credited with destroying a German plane, submarine, two E-boats and a one-man submarine. He wears the American theater ribbon and the Legion of Merit medal. He was an announcer and news editor with the Columbia Broadcasting system in Chicago before entering the service.

The Blue Ridge Rubber company, which has 510 of its employees serving in the armed forces—many of them overseas—produces army railcoats, ponchos and parkas. They fill both army and navy contracts.

Station WFMD, of Frederick, will make a transcription of the ceremonies and will broadcast the record Wednesday evening from 7:30 to 8:30 o'clock. WFMD is heard at 930 kilocycles.

GIFT Jewels

TREASURED FOR ITS LASTING BEAUTY AND SENTIMENT

Suitable for Every Occasion

BLOCHER'S

Jewelers since 1887

MAKOMB OIL BROODERS

Finest Brooder Stove Made — Most Popular

Seller — Safe and Economical to Operate

Geo. M. Zerfing

"Hardware on the Square"

Auto Repairing

TROUBLE'S END

Away with all your worries—soon as your Tow-Car starts your way! Phone us immediately car-trouble besets you. A call to us, means trouble ends—for you. We'll have you Towed to the shop without a moment's loss. And back on the road again, car Dependably Repaired, with expense saved!

H. & H. MACHINE SHOP

So. Wash. St., Gettysburg, Pa.

"Flowers Say It Best"

BE MY VALENTINE

We Telegraph Flowers

Phone 629-W

WAYSIDE FLOWER SHOP

So. Washington St. GETTYSBURG, PA.

SCHOOLMEN TO

(Please Turn to Page 2)

relationship between social agencies, schools, churches, health agencies, recreational agencies, etc., operating within the county? If so, what plan could be suggested and made workable?

What can be done in Adams county to provide full use of school buildings and play grounds for after-school vacation?

To what extent does the church revitalize neighborhood life and morale especially among the youth?

School work, home work, church work, clubs, scouts, war drives, dancing lessons, music lessons, bond selling, etc., raises the question, "How much can a school child stand? Do they need more stimulation?"

SEND BIRTHDAY
Harry M. Frostie, Knoxlyn, quietly observed his 52nd birthday anniversary at his home Saturday.

Police Investigate Hit-Run Accident

State police were investigating today a hit-run accident which occurred about a half mile north of Littlestown on the Gettysburg-Littlestown road Sunday morning about 1 o'clock.

A car being driven north by Charles French, a soldier from Spring Grove R. 2, was side-swiped by another vehicle which failed to stop. The police said they expected "the early arrest of the other driver." Damage amounted to about $75. No one was injured.

FIRE ALARM
Gettysburg firemen answered an alarm about 1:15 o'clock this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Minerva Fisher, 24 West Middle street. The reported chimney fire was out by the time the firemen reached the house.

LAST ACT OF EUROPEAN WAR IS GOING WELL

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Associated Press War Analyst)

The battle of Germany—last act of the European war—has on the whole gone well for the United Nations over a hard fought weekend.

The Western Allies, in intensive preparation for their projected all-out offensive, fought their way into two strategic communications centers—Kleve, in the north, and Pruem, a hundred miles to the south. So great was the threat produced by these two attacks that the Germans were reported rushing reinforcements from the eastern theatre.

On the other side of the Reich the Red Armies continued to batter into the country over a wide front, especially on their northern and southern flanks. The Moscow radio viewed the situation so optimistically today that it said the Nazi fighting machine has been smashed and can't stand up to the Soviet pressure.

But Anything Can Happen
All this is of course vastly encouraging, but it strikes me as important that despite this gigantic military squeeze the Hitlerites are continuing to display determination to fight to a finish. Knowledge that defeat is inevitable hasn't yet broken that determination, even though the very foundations of Berlin are shaking.

However, that should be qualified. I direct your attention again to a point I've made in previous articles—that when conditions are so critical in German, anything can happen at any time. In short, the Nazis might blow up over-night, and it's all right for us to recognize this so long as we don't start day-dreaming.

A collapse at this time would be due rather to a snapping of morale than to military or other material deficiencies, although these are great. Therefore we shall be wise to put aside thoughts of surrender in the immediate future and figure on a considerable stretch of bitter and costly warfare. The Reich still has military strength to carry on in a formidable way for some time—if morale stands up.

A Black Picture
Speaking of morale, one of the most significant piece of news is the estimate by British economic experts that the German food situation may have reached famine dimensions by autumn. The experts say the Russian advance has deprived the Reich of another 16,000,000 tons of foodstuffs. Moreover, the position has grown worse rapidly because of the millions of refugees from areas captured by the Red Armies and because of disorganized transportation.

That's a black picture and it's important can't be overemphasized. Don't forget that when the awful plague of famine descends on a people, they're quite likely to do most of their thinking with their bellies.

Hunger can be a rank poison to morale, as we saw in the last war. One of the main reasons for Germany's capitulation was scarcity of food. The people were hungry, as I can testify, having gone into the country with the armies of occupation at the time of the Armistice. This sapped civilian morale, and that in turn reacted on the forces at the front, for men won't fight when they know their women and children are trying for bread.

Tough Proposition
But to return to the battle-front, the Western Allies are up against as tough a proposition as they've encountered in the Rhineland. Nature and man between them have conspired to put much of the terrain under water, so that the fighting is more like a sea battle than land warfare.

Under such terrible conditions, units of the Canadian First Army drove into Kleve where they are engaged in hand-to-hand fighting. This bears the marks of being the start of a flanking operation to help open the Cologne plain to the Allies. Along the hundred mile stretch between Kleve and Pruem the British and American forces are idle because the Roer river—the barrier which they must force to reach the Rhine—is many feet above normal level owing to the blowing of the Schwammenauel dam southeast of Aachen by the Germans. The Hitlerites had hoped to cause disaster by this flood, but while it reached a width of two miles at one place, it is believed to have reached its peak.

Under such terrible conditions, units of the Canadian First Army drove into Kleve where they are engaged in hand-to-hand fighting. This bears the marks of being the start of a flanking operation to help open the Cologne plain to the Allies. Along the hundred mile stretch between Kleve and Pruem the British and American forces are idle because the Roer river—the barrier which they must force to reach the Rhine—is many feet above normal level owing to the blowing of the Schwammenauel dam southeast of Aachen by the Germans. The Hitlerites had hoped to cause disaster by this flood, but while it reached a width of two miles at one place, it is believed to have reached its peak.

Under such terrible conditions, units of the Canadian First Army drove into Kleve where they are engaged in hand-to-hand fighting. This bears the marks of being the start of a flanking operation to help open the Cologne plain to the Allies. Along the hundred mile stretch between Kleve and Pruem the British and American forces are idle because the Roer river—the barrier which they must force to reach the Rhine—is many feet above normal level owing to the blowing of the Schwammenauel dam southeast of Aachen by the Germans. The Hitlerites had hoped to cause disaster by this flood, but while it reached a width of two miles at one place, it is believed to have reached its peak.

Under such terrible conditions, units of the Canadian First Army drove into Kleve where they are engaged in hand-to-hand fighting. This bears the marks of being the start of a flanking operation to help open the Cologne plain to the Allies. Along the hundred mile stretch between Kleve and Pruem the British and American forces are idle because the Roer river—the barrier which they must force to reach the Rhine—is many feet above normal level owing to the blowing of the Schwammenauel dam southeast of Aachen by the Germans. The Hitlerites had hoped to cause disaster by this flood, but while it reached a width of two miles at one place, it is believed to have reached its peak.

Under such terrible conditions, units of the Canadian First Army drove into Kleve where they are engaged in hand-to-hand fighting. This bears the marks of being the start of a flanking operation to help open the Cologne plain to the Allies. Along the hundred mile stretch between Kleve and Pruem the British and American forces are idle because the Roer river—the barrier which they must force to reach the Rhine—is many feet above normal level owing to the blowing of the Schwammenauel dam southeast of Aachen by the Germans. The Hitlerites had hoped to cause disaster by this flood, but while it reached a width of two miles at one place, it is believed to have reached its peak.

Under such terrible conditions, units of the Canadian First Army drove into Kleve where they are engaged in hand-to-hand fighting. This bears the marks of being the start of a flanking operation to help open the Cologne plain to the Allies. Along the hundred mile stretch between Kleve and Pruem the British and American forces are idle because the Roer river—the barrier which they must force to reach the Rhine—is many feet above normal level owing to the blowing of the Schwammenauel dam southeast of Aachen by the Germans. The Hitlerites had hoped to cause disaster by this flood, but while it reached a width of two miles at one place, it is believed to have reached its peak.

Under such terrible conditions, units of the Canadian First Army drove into Kleve where they are engaged in hand-to-hand fighting. This bears the marks of being the start of a flanking operation to help open the Cologne plain to the Allies. Along the hundred mile stretch between Kleve and Pruem the British and American forces are idle because the Roer river—the barrier which they must force to reach the Rhine—is many feet above normal level owing to the blowing of the Schwammenauel dam southeast of Aachen by the Germans. The Hitlerites had hoped to cause disaster by this flood, but while it reached a width of two miles at one place, it is believed to have reached its peak.

Under such terrible conditions, units of the Canadian First Army drove into Kleve where they are engaged in hand-to-hand fighting. This bears the marks of being the start of a flanking operation to help open the Cologne plain to the Allies. Along the hundred mile stretch between Kleve and Pruem the British and American forces are idle because the Roer river—the barrier which they must force to reach the Rhine—is many feet above normal level owing to the blowing of the Schwammenauel dam southeast of Aachen by the Germans. The Hitlerites had hoped to cause disaster by this flood, but while it reached a width of two miles at one place, it is believed to have reached its peak.

Under such terrible conditions, units of the Canadian First Army drove into Kleve where they are engaged in hand-to-hand fighting. This bears the marks of being the start of a flanking operation to help open the Cologne plain to the Allies. Along the hundred mile stretch between Kleve and Pruem the British and American forces are idle because the Roer river—the barrier which they must force to reach the Rhine—is many feet above normal level owing to the blowing of the Schwammenauel dam southeast of Aachen by the Germans. The Hitlerites had hoped to cause disaster by this flood, but while it reached a width of two miles at one place, it is believed to have reached its peak.

Under such terrible conditions, units of the Canadian First Army drove into Kleve where they are engaged in hand-to-hand fighting. This bears the marks of being the start of a flanking operation to help open the Cologne plain to the Allies. Along the hundred mile stretch between Kleve and Pruem the British and American forces are idle because the Roer river—the barrier which they must force to reach the Rhine—is many feet above normal level owing to the blowing of the Schwammenauel dam southeast of Aachen by the Germans. The Hitlerites had hoped to cause disaster by this flood, but while it reached a width of two miles at one place, it is believed to have reached its peak.

Social Happenings

Phone Gettysburg 640 or Biglerville 8

SC 3/C Earl H. Mauss, York, formerly of Gettysburg, is spending a seven-day leave at his home following a trip to Italy, Sicily and other European ports. He will report for further sea duty at the conclusion of his leave.

Mrs. Murray B. Frazee, Jr., will be the soloist, Prof. Fred Shaffer the pianist and Mrs. William C. Tyson the reader at the meeting of the Women's League of Gettysburg church Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

A business meeting of the Women's Society for Christian Service of the Methodist church will be held Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. William Pensly, 54 Hanover street.

The Wednesday afternoon Bridge club will meet with Mrs. Francis Mason, East Broadway.

Mrs. Mary R. Martin, East Lincoln avenue, is spending some time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Leader, Reading.

Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Heldt had as guests over the week-end at their home on North Stratton street Mrs. Heldt's mother and sister, Mrs. H. S. Withers, Camp Hill, and Miss Mary Celia Withers, New York city.

Mrs. J. McCrea Dickson, West Broadway, has returned after a visit in Mahanoy City. She was accompanied home by her mother, Mrs. Harrison Ball, who will be her guest for some time.

Members of the faculty of the seminary will entertain members of the senior class at dinner Thursday evening at 6 o'clock at Christ Lutheran church.

Mrs. Fred Justin and children, Barbara and Glenn, Baltimore, arrived today for a visit of several days with Mrs. Justin's mother, Mrs. Minnie Bream, Chambersburg street.

Miss Lenore Schwartz and Miss Bonnie Schwartz, Baltimore, spent the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred K. Schwartz, Carlisle street.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Rasmussen, Springs Avenue, is visiting friends in Altoona.

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin R. Bigham had as guests over the week-end at their home on West Broadway Mr. and Mrs. William A. Gill and daughter, Barbara, Alexandria, Va., and Pfc. William A. Gill, Jr., and his wife, Pfc. Gill, WAC, of Sedalia, Missouri.

Pvt. F. Harmon Furney is spending a 10-day furlough at his home on West Middle street.

S. Sgt. Lloyd V. Rau has returned to Ft. Bliss, Texas, after spending a 5-day furlough with his wife, Mrs. Dorothy Rau, Orrtanna.

Miss Ruth A. Warman, 235 East Middle street, was tendered a surprise party at her home Friday evening in celebration of her birthday anniversary. The guests included Myrtis Johnson, Dorothy Stary, Margaret Bable, Gladys Wetzel, Ann Utz, Calvin Johnson and Harold Zimm. The guest of honor received many gifts.

A-T William R. Spence, Columbus, Ohio, arrived today to spend a three-day leave with Mrs. Spence at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Diveley, Springs avenue. Mrs. Spence will accompany her husband to Columbus to remain for an indefinite time.

Dr. Harvey D. Hoover conducted a Lenten service for the Allegheny county conference of the Central Pennsylvania Synod of the United Lutheran church at Stoyestown today.

Edward V. Devoil, Louisville, Ky., spent the week-end with his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Buleit, College avenue.

Miss Mary Louise Wentz has resumed her teaching at Reisterstown Md., high school, after spending the week-end with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. A. R. Wentz, seminary campus.

The Rev. and Mrs. E. G. Goetz, Rochester, N. Y., visited Dr. and Mrs. Harvey D. Hoover, Springs avenue, Friday evening.

Police Investigate Hit-Run Accident

State police were investigating today a hit-run accident which occurred about a half mile north of Littlestown on the Gettysburg-Littlestown road Sunday morning about 1 o'clock.

A car being driven north by Charles French, a soldier from Spring Grove R. 2, was side-swiped by another vehicle which failed to stop. The police said they expected "the early arrest of the other driver." Damage amounted to about $75. No one was injured.

FIRE ALARM

Gettysburg firemen answered an alarm about 1:15 o'clock this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Minerva Fisher, 24 West Middle street. The reported chimney fire was out by the time the firemen reached the house.

Weddings

Rishforth—Wehler

Miss Gladys Romaine Wehler, daughter of Mrs. Catherine Wehler, York, and Pfc. Charles Rishforth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Doc W. Rishforth, York, were married this morning at 10:30 o'clock at the Christ Reformed church, Littlestown. The double ring ceremony was performed by the pastor, Rev. John C. Brumbach.

The couple will take a trip to New York city where they will spend one week. At the termination of a 15-day furlough Feb. 28, Pfc. Rishforth will return to his post at Carlisle, Pa.; where he is serving with a military police unit. He is a graduate of the York high school, class of 1937, and prior to entering the service was employed in the shipping department of the York Corporation. A graduate of the Littlestown high school, Miss Wehler is now an employee of the Drovers and Mechanics National bank.

Weaver—Leppo

Miss Mildred Louise Leppo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore J. Leppo, Hanover R. 1, and Pfc. Earl Joseph Weaver, United States Army, stationed at Fort Dix, N. J., son of Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Weaver, Littlestown R. D. 2, were married Saturday morning at 7 o'clock at a nuptial mass in Conecago Chapel. The pastor, the Very Rev. John P. O'Donnell, performed the ceremony in the presence of relatives and friends of the couple. They were attended by the bridegroom's sister and brother.

Russell—Overbaugh

Francis X. Russell, Harrisburg, and Helen Camille Overbaugh, McSherrytown, were married last Thursday in McSherrytown, by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Patrick F. McGee, rector of St. Mary's Catholic church.

DEATHS

Charles A. Hombach

Charles Adolphus Hombach, 78, retired cigarmaker, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John H. Tawney, Third street, McSherrytown, Saturday morning at 2:20 o'clock. Death was due to pneumonia.

Mr. Hombach, a former resident of McSherrytown, had resided in York for the past three years. He became ill while visiting at the Tawney home. The deceased was a son of the late William D. and Jennie Hombach. He was married on January 2, 1890, to Gabrielle Eline.

Surviving are six children, Mrs. Leo T. Noel and Mrs. John T. Tawney, Third street, McSherrytown; Mrs. Russell Wolf, York; Captain William Hombach, who is in the South Pacific; Mrs. James Little, Hanover, and Clair E. Hombach, York; sixteen grandchildren, five great-grandchildren; two brothers, Harry Hombach, York, and William D. Hombach, Fort Wayne, Ind., and two sisters, Mrs. Clara Collins, York, and Mrs. Bessie Beck, New Jersey.

Funeral Thursday, meeting at the home of the daughter, Mrs. John Tawney, at 8:30 a. m. with a high mass of requiem at 9 o'clock in the Church of the Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin Mary, McSherrytown. The Rt. Rev. Patrick F. McGee, rector, officiating. Interment in the parish cemetery. Friends may call at the home from Tuesday evening until the time of the funeral.

Miss Flora M. Dicks

Miss Flora M. Dicks, 63, Hampton, died at her home Saturday morning at 6:30 o'clock, following an extended illness. Miss Dicks was a daughter of the late Haines Dicks, and Mrs. Annie Brown Dicks, and was born September 25, 1881. She was a member of the Brethren church, and was affiliated with the congregation of Mummert's Meeting house, near East Berlin.

Surviving are her mother, Mrs. Annie Dicks, Hampton; two sisters, Mrs. Herbert Wolf, York, and Mrs. Ira Masemer, Hanover R. D. 2, and one brother, Charles N. Dicks, Hampton.

Funeral Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock from the W. A. Feiser funeral home, Carlisle street, Hanover, with further services in Mummert's Meeting house, near East Berlin, the Rev. Paul Miller, and the Rev. Monroe Danner, Brethren ministers, officiating. Interment in Mummert's Meeting House cemetery. Friends may call this evening at the Feiser funeral home.

Clayton T. Boyer

Funeral services for Clayton T. Boyer, 67, a native of Biglerville, who died last Wednesday in the Harrisburg hospital from a complication of diseases, were held Saturday afternoon in Harrisburg. Interment in a Steelton cemetery.

The deceased was born near Biglerville, a son of the late Martin Boyer. He was raised in Adams county. For a number of years he resided in Harrisburg.

Surviving are three children, Mrs. Ross Hartman, Harrisburg; Mrs. Hazel Costello, Louisville, Ky., and George Boyer, Carlisle; two sisters, Mrs. Katie Albert, Heidlersburg, Pa.; one brother, John M. Boyer, Gettysburg; eight half brothers and half sisters, Mrs. Coffman Shenk, Joseph Boyer, Warren Boyer and Charles Boyer, all of Biglerville; Elton Boyer, Millersville; Mrs. D. N. Shenk, Denbigh, Va.; Mrs. Ernest Bontrager, Estacaba, Oregon, and

BULLETINS

(Continued from Page 1)

ents appeared assured today of a chance to restrict further the money powers he would wield if he become Secretary of Commerce.

London, Feb. 12 (AP)—Every woman and girl in Germany was made liable for auxiliary service with the Volkssturm (peoples army) under a decree broadcast by DNB, thus bringing the entire German nation within the grip of Gestapo Chief Heinrich Himmler, commander of the home army.

Bronze Star Medal For Sgt. Spence

A Bronze Star medal has been awarded to Sgt. Clark E. Spence, Field Artillery, Army of the United States, for meritorious service in France during the period August 8, 1944 to December 17, 1944, in connection with military operations against an enemy of the United States.

During the period August 8, 1944, to December 17, 1944, Sergeant Spence distinguished himself in performing his duties as chief of wire section in a superior manner. Due to his initiative and efficiency the wire communications of the battery he served have worked effectively at all times under constant combat conditions. The leadership, resourcefulness, and devotion to duty displayed by Sergeant Spence reflect great credit upon himself and the armed forces of the United States.

Sergeant Spence is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Spence, Orrtanna R. D. The word was received by his wife, Mrs. Martha Spence, Baltimore.

Seminarian Will Wed On Saturday

The marriage of Miss Eleanor Hoke Zimmerman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Zimmerman, to the Rev. William Frederick Wunder, will be solemnized Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Keller Memorial Lutheran church, Shiremanstown.

Miss Zimmerman graduated from Gettysburg college in 1944 and is a member of the Chi Omega sorority. The Rev. Mr. Wunder will graduate from the Lutheran Theological seminary Friday. He has accepted the pastorate of a charge at Tannersville, Pa.

Mrs. Cora Myrick Is Interred Today

Funeral services for Mrs. Cora E. Myrick, 70, who died at her home on Chambersburg street last Wednesday afternoon from the effects of a stroke, were held from St. Francis Xavier Catholic church this morning at 9 o'clock conducted by the Rev. Fr. Mark E. Stock. Interment in Evergreen cemetery.

Capt. Frank A. Conway, Gettysburg college, attended the service as representative of the deceased's son, Maj. Charles E. Myrick, who is now in France.

Palbearers were Robert Snyder, Harry Rhine, Samuel Rhine, Walter Hoffman, Charles Hoffman and George Groft.

Mrs. Warren Martin, Fairfield, and his step-mother, Mrs. Martin Boyer, Biglerville.

Emmert G. Simpson

Emmert G. Simpson, 70, died Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at his residence, Violet Hill, York, R. 2. The husband of the late Ellen Simpson, he formerly resided in Hampton. He was employed as a laborer by the Trimmer Printing company, York, and was a member of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, Hanover.

Surviving are four children: Mrs. Daniel Hartzell, Hampton; Mrs. Bessie Feiser, York Springs R. 2; Charles J. Simpson, Hanover, and Arthur H. Simpson, Violet Hill, York, R. 2; seven grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Funeral services this morning at 10 o'clock from the Hampton Lutheran church, Hampton. Burial in Hampton cemetery.

George P. Jacobs

George P. Jacobs, 71, husband of Mrs. Elizabeth C. Caler Jacobs, succumbed at the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Lapham, Hanover, Friday night at 8:15 o'clock. He was the son of the late Jacob and Amanda Raffensperger Jacobs.

The survivors are: Five children, Mrs. George Spell, Red Lion; Maurice, Bridgeport, Pa.; Philbert, Littlestown; Mrs. Lapham, and Miss Marie Jacobs, Hanover; one step-son, Cletus Bowie, Hanover; 12 grandchildren, two great grandchildren; one stepbrother, William Jacobs, York, and one step-sister, Mrs. Clara Markel, Hanover.

Edward W. Brown

Edward W. Brown, husband of Helen M. (Wilt) Brown, Baltimore, died unexpectedly on Thursday morning while riding on a street car, enroute home from his place of business. He had not been ill. Mr. Brown was aged 52 years. A former resident of Alabama, he was employed as head bookkeeper for an electrical concern in Baltimore. His wife is a former resident of Littlestown.

Funeral services were held today at 11 a. m. at the William J. Tickner and Sons funeral home, Baltimore. Interment was made in the Baltimore National cemetery.

Upper Communities

Mrs. A. D. Wells returned to her home at Bluffton, Ohio, today, after a visit with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Allen S. Stauffer, of Biglerville.

Sgt. and Mrs. Frank Cole, of Middletown, spent the week-end with Mrs. Cole's mother, Mrs. George Weikert, of Table Rock.

Miss Rheba Taylor, of Essex, Maryland, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Taylor, of Biglerville.

The Friendship class of Trinity-Bender's Reformed Sunday school will meet Wednesday evening with Mrs. Roy Lawver, of Biglerville.

Paul F. Osborn, of Biglerville, is visiting his son, Pvt. Paul F. Osborn, Jr., at Spartansburg, North Carolina.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenton Bushey, of Beaver Falls, announce the birth of a daughter, Juliet, on February 6. Mrs. Bushey was the former Miss Pauline Bosserman, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Cletus E. Bosserman, near Heidlersburg.

Cpl. John Lawver, of Camp Maxey, Texas, is spending a furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Lawver, of Biglerville.

Harry Roddy has returned to Hanover after spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Fidler, of Biglerville.

The class of Trinity-Bender's Reformed Sunday school, taught by Mrs. Henry Lower, will hold its next meeting Monday evening, February 19 at the home of Miss Justine Lawver.

Bendersville Boy Scout Troop 72 has invited parents of members and troop committeemen to the Parents' Night and Scout Week celebration which will be held in conjunction with the meeting Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Dr. Harvey D. Hoover, Gettysburg, will be the guest speaker. Members of the Scout committee include the Rev. George Harrison, H. W. Lerew, C. A. McCauslin, Parker L. Kuntz and George L. Schriver.

Lt. Thomas Enck, Monmouth, N. J., spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren K. Enck, Biglerville.

Mr. and Mrs. Granville Grubbs entertained recently at their home in Biglerville Mrs. Hockensmith and daughters, Betty and Ethel, Pfc. Robert Bosserman and Norman Abell, York. Pfc. Bosserman, who is stationed with the Air Corps at Malden, Mo., is spending a furlough at his home.

Cpl. John Lawver, Maxey, Texas, is spending a furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Lawver, Biglerville, after which he will report to Ft. Meade, Md.

Week's Evangelistic Services Concluded

The series of evangelistic services which had been in progress during the past week at Mt. Victory United Brethren church, near York Springs, closed Sunday evening. Services had been conducted each evening during the week and visiting clergymen filled the pulpit.

At the last meeting an old-fashioned song service was held with selections rendered by the Coulson and Sommers families and by the Girls' quartet of the church.

The Rev. Harry R. Lee, pastor, delivered the sermon on "The Book." All young people who attended every service of the series were presented with awards Sunday evening.

Coroner's Inquest Tuesday Afternoon

A coroner's inquest into the death of Stephen F. Wagaman, eight-year-old son of Pvt. and Mrs. Stephen Wagaman, Gettysburg R. 3, will be held at the court house Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, it was announced today by Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams county coroner.

Wagaman was fatally injured last Tuesday evening when he stepped from behind a car in front of his home along the Mummansburg road into the path of another car driven by Mildred B. Plank, 60 Breckenridge street.

EX-SOLDIER TREATED

A discharged soldier from Tyrone was found in a dazed condition in the dispensary at the Warner hospital Sunday morning about 5 o'clock by the superintendent of nurses as she made an inspection trip.

The man, who later was identified by state police as Burton F. Huff, 26, complained of abdominal and other pain and was treated at the hospital. He was to be taken to Tyrone today by his parents.

HOSPITAL REPORT

Patients admitted to the Warner hospital include Mrs. Robert Chapman, Orrtanna; Mrs. Merle Stultz, York street; Mrs. Merle R. Shaffer, York street; Burton Huff, Altoona; Mrs. Roy Goldsmith, 37 Breckenridge street; Mrs. Earle Gelwicks, Emmitsburg, and Mrs. Annie Donahue, Fairfield. Those discharged were Joyce Naylor, Aspers; Betty Schwartz, Littlestown, and Dean Shaffer, Biglerville.

CALL SPECIAL LIBRARY MEET

With three important items of business transacted, a special meeting of the Adams County Free Library association has been called for 7:45 o'clock Wednesday evening in the court house with a special meeting of the board of directors set for 7 o'clock the same evening, also at the court house.

Matters to be taken up at the meeting of the general association will include the filling of two vacancies on the board of directors—caused by the resignations of Albert Weaver of McSherrytown and H. A. Jones of New Oxford who gave up their positions because of business and other demands upon their time—to amend the constitution with regard to the filling of board vacancies, changing quorum requirements for the board and association and to provide for a "more workable" set up for committees.

Other important business is on the calendar. O. H. Benson, association president said, as he urged all charter members of the organization and other interested persons to attend. Persons who wish to attend Ash Wednesday services that evening are invited to come late to the library meeting.

GETS MOVIE MANUSCRIPT

The manuscript of the current movie "Tonight and Everynight" starring Rita Hayworth has been acquired for display at the National Museum, Taneytown road, George D. Rosensteel, proprietor, announced today.

OFFICERS WILL

(Continued from Page 1)

July 17, 1942, when he was named a captain in the U. S. Army Quartermaster Corps. Previously he had been president of the Aldan Rubber company and the Schwarzwaelder company, of Philadelphia. The major is a graduate of the Philadelphia Textile school and of Northeast high school.

Commanded Sub Chaser
Lieutenant Harvey returned in December, 1944, from the Mediterranean theater of war where he was the commanding officer of a submarine chaser.

He entered the Navy in June, 1942, and participated in the Tunisian and Sicilian campaigns as executive officer of a patrol craft. Promoted to commanding officer of a sub chaser he participated in the Italian and Anzio campaigns and the invasion of southern France. During his last duty, his ship was credited with destroying a German plane, submarine, two E-boats and a one-man submarine. He wears the American theater ribbon and the Legion of Merit medal. He was an announcer and news editor with the Columbia Broadcasting system in Chicago before entering the service.

The Blue Ridge Rubber company, which has 310 of its employees serving in the armed forces—many of them overseas—produces army raincoats, ponchos and parkas. They fill both army and navy contracts.

Station WFMD, of Frederick, will make a transcription of the ceremonies and will broadcast the record Wednesday evening from 7:30 to 8:30 o'clock. WFMD is heard at 930 kilocycles.

GIFT Jewels

TREASURED FOR ITS LASTING BEAUTY AND SENTIMENT
Suitable for Every Occasion

BLOCHER'S
Jewelers since 1887
29-27 CHAMBERSBURG ST.

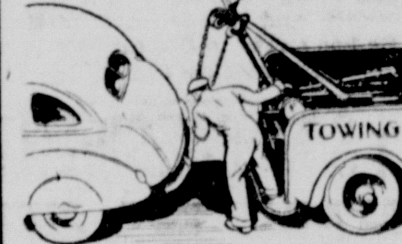

MAKOMB OIL BROODERS

Finest Brooder Stove Made — Most Popular
Seller — Safe and Economical to Operate

Geo. M. Zerfing

"Hardware on the Square"

Auto Repairing

TRouble's END
Away with all your worries—soon as our Tow-Car starts your way! Phone us immediately car-trouble besets you. A call to us, means trouble ends—for you. We'll have you Towed to the shop without a moment's loss. And back on the road again, car Dependably Repaired, with expense saved!

H. & H. MACHINE SHOP
So. Wash. St., Gettysburg, Pa.

BE MY VALENTINE

"Flowers Say It Best"

We Telegraph Flowers
Phone 629-W

WAYSIDE FLOWER SHOP

So. Washington St. GETTYSBURG, PA.

SCHOOLMEN TO

(Please Turn to Page 2)

MASONS GOLDEN MIDGET SWEET CORN
A Kennedy Introduction

NO GARDEN TOO SMALL

For this dainty bit of succulent sweetness. Tiny cobs (4 in. long) set with deep full-size kernels. Tantalizing taste has ever been a delight to the home gardener. Ready in 56 days. Make several plantings for succession. Heavy yielder, 3 to 5 ears borne on stalk only 2 1/2 ft. high.

2 1/2-Oz. Pkt.
(about 500 seeds)

$1.00 Postpaid
Enough for five 56-ft. rows

Get genuine MASONS Golden Midget from the closest dealer. Size of KENNEDY QUALITY Seeds, Bulbs and Plants included with every order.

ANDREW R. KENNEDY, Inc.
SEEDS - BULBS - PLANTS
Dept. C, 22 W. 27th St., New York 1, N. Y.

AMAZING GRASS
Smothers Weeds and Crabgrass

Trinity Creeping Fescue spreads a heavy, close-knit smooth green lawn from light seed. Grows in sun or shade. An exclusive product, not seen in stores.

SELDOM NEEDS MOWING

Send your name and address (a postal card will do) for FREE information telling how Trinity Creeping Fescue can help you to have a better lawn at lower cost. Write to

DRUMCLIFF COMPANY
DEPT. 225 TOWSON 4, MARYLAND

Vegetable or Flower Plants

Tomatoes, Celery, Pepper, Sweet Potatoes, Broccoli, Collards, Marigolds, Zinnias, Cabbage & Onions. $1 per 100

Cauliflower, Eggplant, Asparagus, Snapdragons, Scarlet Sage. $2 per 100

25 Large Gladiolus Bulbs. $1

12 Hardy Chrysanthemums. $1

5 Large Dahlias, all different. $1

Prices prepaid. No order for less than $1. Not less than 25 plants of a kind.

Write for List

DELSEA DAHLIA FARM
WESTVILLE, N. J.

A. H. HOFFMAN SEEDS
Funk's Hybrid Corn, Grass Seeds, Oats and Potatoes

ORDER NOW!

AMOS W. MYER
GETTYSBURG, R. D. 3
Phone 982-R-12

Hiener's Reds State Blood Tested

Here's real egg breeding at a price you can afford. All our males are U. S. Pedigreed. It's O. P. from 226 to 261 egg hens. Our strain is non-broody. Lays well. Feathers and grows fast with excellent livability. Straight run chicks—$15 per 100; also reserve.

HIENER'S Poultry Farm & Hatchery
Stoney Batter Rd., Fork, Md., Ph. Fork 2672

TRAIN for SUCCESS in the Poultry Business

YOU CAN MAKE MORE MONEY FROM POULTRY

All signs point to big opportunities in poultry this winter and for post-war period. Get ready NOW! Proper management means profits ANY season, for life. Learn latest scientific up-to-date methods of a nationally famous poultry authority. Cut losses, avoid mistakes, get highest profits. Our Home Study course endorsed by thousands of graduates, successful poultrymen, leading colleges. This course free to all who want to make poultry pay—describes courses, methods, service. Write for it today to The President.

National Poultry Institute
Dept. GT Adams Center, N. Y.

RILCO PRE-FAB POULTRY HOUSE

Ready to Erect Quickly

Rilco Brooder House Pack Consists of 4 glued laminated wood rafters. The end rafters are framed for windows and door. Size of house 20x10x6'8" high.

Each Rilco Arch is a continuous framing member of glued laminated construction. Its use eliminates all bracing. The Rilco Arch shaped house assures maximum floor space with a minimum of waste space overhead to be heated.

Rilco Arch brooder houses are economical to buy or build. They are light in weight, yet rigid, strong and sturdy and easily moved to clean ground with team or tractor.

Besides the 12'x10' house as illustrated, a wide variety of other sizes and shapes are available, all built with Rilco Arch Rafters.

Come in and see how attractive, convenient and economical the Rilco Brooder Houses are.

$9.58 Per Month

I. R. CROUSE and SONS
Tel. 51-3 - Littlestown, Pa.

Weekly Adams County GARDEN Page

PROFIT, CHOICE FOODS OFFERED BY V-GARDENS

Does it pay, in dollars and cents, to grow your own vegetables for home use?

To answer this question Walter S. Adams, member of the Men's Garden club of Asheville, N. C., kept a detailed record in 1944 of all the money spent on his Victory garden, and recorded the value at market prices of all the vegetables harvested from it.

Total expenses were $80.53, which included $35.45 for plowing and labor. The value of all vegetables harvested, and either used by his family, sold or given away, totaled $128.42. The net return from the 50x80 Victory garden was therefore $47.89, which could have been raised to $76.59 had the $28.70, which was expended on labor other than plowing, been saved.

Cheaper and More Convenient

But there were other returns from his Victory garden which, Mr. Adams stresses in the following summary of the value of a home vegetable garden to his family.

1—It is cheaper—average family can save from $50 to $100 a year.

2—It is more convenient, your garden is much closer to you than the market, and it takes less time to operate the garden than to shop for groceries in the market.

3—Vegetables fresh from your own garden are much superior to those obtained from the market, in nutritive value, tenderness and flavor.

4—The pleasure which the family shares from work in the garden is a special bonus that only those who garden can appreciate.

Mr. Adams' family used fresh

New Varieties Of Vegetables Do Well

New vegetable varieties, including a number for which seed is available, performed well in trials conducted last year at the Pennsylvania State college, M. L. Odland, research vegetable gardener at the college, reports.

Among the new varieties is Fordhook 242 lima bean which the All-America judges awarded a bronze medal because of its good showing. Its seeds are large and thick, and of good quality. They are easy to shell. Thirty-eight strains were included in the trials at the Penn State Agricultural Experiment station where each year variety trials of numerous vegetable crops are made.

Florida Belle was one of those which looked good among 88 snap bean varieties. Its pod, long and fairly straight, is bright green and somewhat flattened. Favorable showings also were made by pepper selections of Dr. C. E. Meyers, who says seed of the most promising one is being increased and will be released next fall.

Of nearly 100 strains of sweet corn on trial, several did very acceptably, among them Goldengrain, a new hybrid, which gave an excellent yield in about 94 days. Other strains rating high in their respective maturity classes included Earligold, North Star, Lincoln, Golden Cross Bantam, Iona and Magnagold.

Vegetables worth $48.92, and canned $48.45 worth. He sold for cash $8.60 worth and gave away $18.45 worth. He itemizes vegetables used by his family as follows:

Tomatoes (140 plants), $46.60; lima beans, $6.90; corn, $6.50; beets, $6.10; soy beans, $5.70; peas, $4.70; onions, $4.65; broccoli, $4; beans, $2.65; kale, $2.80; cabbage, $1.80; peppers, $1.55; squash, $1.50; parsley, $1.20; lettuce, $1.10; carrots, $1.00; radishes, $1.00; crowder peas, 95 cents; spinach, 70 cents; turnip greens, 60 cents; collards, 50 cents; cucumbers, 45 cents; mustard greens, 32 cents; tampa, 30 cents; turnips, 30 cents; leeks, 20 cents.

Expenditures are itemized as follows: Seeds and plants, $18.21; manure and commercial plant food, $14.10; plowing and labor, $35.45; watering (cost of water) $6; miscellaneous, insecticides, small gardening supplies, $6.77; total $80.53.

Mr. Adams kept his meticulous record as an assignment from the Men's Garden club, to which he made his report.

"It was a complicated task," he reported, referring to his record. "I am glad it's over and assure you I'll never do it again. However, being a novice in gardening, it was excellent training for me."

Puerto Rico is inhabited by more than 2,000,000, and is one of the most densely populated places on earth.

ORDER WILLOW BROOK NEW HAMPSHIRE AND WHITE LEGHORN CHICKS

For Broilers and Layers

Send for New Price List and Folder

Willow Brook Farms
R. D. 2, Dover, Pa. Ph. 19-R-21
Chicks Every Week

GROW YOUR OWN GLADIOLUS BULBS

Get 150 Choice Bulbs for $1.00 or 400 for $2.00

U. S. Money Order. Varieties included: Lady Jane, Corona, Fair Angel, Elizabeth the Queen and others.

JOHN R. FINGER
746 Warren St., Hudson, N. Y., Box 623

SEEDS for FREEZING

After 3 yrs. freezing what we grew or could buy we have found the below seeds superior for freezing.

LIMA — CORN PEAS — BEANS

Purchasers of These Seeds Receive

INSTRUCTIONS HOW TO FREEZE

Mail Orders Filled

LOWER'S Seed Dept.
Freezers of Fruits & Vegetables
TABLE ROCK, PA.

STARTED CHICKS For Sale

500 WHITE ROCK STARTED CHICKS 10 Days Old

Hertz's Hatchery
1437 Broadway
phone Hanover 3-5254

Quality Seeds for Your Victory Garden

Extra Early Victory Tomato

This new tomato has the rare combination of fine points for market gardeners as well as canners.

Pkg. 25-oz. $1.25

1945 GARDEN BOOK FREE UPON REQUEST WRITE FOR YOUR COPY

THE MEYER SEED COMPANY
Dept. H 1-3 E. LOMBARD ST., BALTO. 2, MD.

Neither Too Young Nor Too Old...

Victory Gardens are as necessary as ships, planes, tanks and guns, says War Food Administrator Jones. Here every member of the family, from old age to young childhood, can make his contribution to the war effort.

Things Of The Soil

By DAN P. VAN CORDER
The Gettysburg Times Agricultural Editor

Questions of our readers on lawns, flowers, vegetable growing, poultry, fruit, livestock and general agriculture will be answered by return personal letter without charges if a 3-cent stamp is enclosed.

Address Letters To
The Gettysburg Times Agricultural Editor
Box 1528, Washington, 13, D. C.

What Is A Fungus Disease?

It is vitally important that every grower of food and ornamental plants understand the methods by which a fungus disease enters a growing plant and how it operates to cause the plant to weaken and die. And while this is a highly technical subject, it can be explained sufficiently to reduce it to a somewhat simple study.

First, imagine a living plant leaf as represented by a thin slice of bread with crust around the edges and also covering the two cut surfaces. The crust is the leaf surface. Inside the leaf, beneath the coat or outer surface, there are tiny canals and channels crisscrossing and interlaced just like the small tunnels in the slice of bread. These serve to carry moisture and raw materials to the leaf cells from which plant foods are manufactured, also to carry the finished nutrients back to the twigs, limbs, fruits, stalk, roots and other parts of the entire plant. These canals are as essential to the leaf and the plant as arteries, veins and capillaries are to the human body.

Fungus Diseases

Fungus diseases in general are spread in small organisms called spores. And while there are various stages of spore development, we shall consider only the form that causes the actual disease. Spores are often called fungi (plural) or fungus (singular). They are minute thread-like structures easily carried by the wind. When a spore lands on a plant leaf, it begins at once to penetrate into the crust or leaf surface. Once inside the leaf tissue, the spore starts to send its root-like growths out into all the lateral canals, multiplying rapidly in all directions. And being a parasite, it produces no food for itself, but lives solely on the leaf sap.

By the time a sizeable portion of an individual leaf is penetrated by these sap-devouring roots, its arteries and veins are so clogged that the leaf cells are starving for moisture and food. Later it turns yellow and dies. Then the branch and stalk may wilt or weaken from the death of its leaves.

Methods of Prevention

There are several ways to prevent fungus diseases, including the careful gathering and burning of all diseased plant refuse in late fall, also growing varieties of plants known to be at least partially resistant to the particular form of blight. But perhaps the most economical and safest method of prevention is to spray or

TAKE A LOOK!

• JUST take a look through this long-range telescope and see yourself next spring! How's your tractor running? Wish you'd had it overhauled a few months ago? Well, there's still time.

Between now and the day you want to take your equipment into the field we'll make the repairs you need. Our shop is loaded—it always is these days—but we'll schedule your work and get it out on time. Just tell us what needs to be done.

You can be sure of this: Any job we do here is done right. Farm equipment is our business. We know it from the ground up. We're implement men and that means we can take your farm tools and put them back in working order.

You'll find a big stock of genuine IHC parts on hand here at all times. And from now on we'll have more new McCormick-Deering equipment, too. Let us know what you need.

WOLFF'S FARM SUPPLY
Queen Street Off Steinwehr Avenue
Phones: Office 185-Z — Res. 121-W-1
GETTYSBURG, PA.

BE WISE — BE AN Early Bird ORDER NOW

BEST TIME TO FEED LAWNS IN EARLY SPRING

What does early feeding for lawns really mean? It means just as soon as you can get on the lawn when winter is breaking up, as soon as or just before the frost has started to come out of the ground.

The ground may be frozen and have a light covering of snow, it may have thawed once and then frozen again. Naturally the feeding can't be done when the ground is too soft or too wet, as during the first day or two of a thaw. Early feeding should be done before that condition exists. If the soil condition is right, don't worry about the calendar.

Early feeding gets the plant food right down to the roots in time to be ready for use at the first signs of spring growth. Alternate freezing and thawing produces a soil structural condition called "honeycombing." The soil is much more porous when it is honeycombed; consequently, snow and rain will find their way through the soil much easier and deeper when this condition is present.

Checks Weeds

Plant food applied during this period is placed right around the grass roots by the melting snow or spring rains. Plant food must be available to the roots themselves and early application gets it there easier than any other way at any other time. The grass has not started its top growth during the best period for early application; therefore, plant food applied early does not require watering... a saving of time and money.

This early root activity, before top growth starts, assures the grass a deeper root system to sustain it during the hot, dry periods of the summer. When feeding is done too late in the spring, much of the plant food dust susceptible plants with an effective fungicide—meaning literally something that kills fungi. But when should such sprays or dusts be applied? After affected leaves begin to turn yellow?

No, the spore can be destroyed by a fungicide only during the short period while it is on the leaf surface. Or it can be prevented from lighting by destruction at its source. A leaf liberally coated with a fungicide is safe from spore attack. But after the root-like growths penetrate the leaf tissues, sprays and dusts are no longer effective.

Bordeaux mixture is one of the most economical and satisfactory fungicides for general use. Superfine dusting sulphur is another. The editor invites readers with unanswered questions on plant diseases to write him for all the help they need. Merely enclose a 3-cent stamp for reply by personal mail.

GARDEN SUPPLIES AND TOOLS

quality Hardware to equip the gardener at moderate cost.

BUSHMAN'S STORE
ARENTSVILLE, PA.

WHICH WILL YOU HAVE?

It all depends on you!

Two factors determine whether you gather heaping baskets of eggs or get only about half what you should. First is the quality of chicks you buy. Second is the way you raise them. Both are controlled by you. This year, start chicks of only the best egg breeding. Get our top-grade, high egg-pedigree bloodline chicks—raise them right—feed and manage your pullets properly—and you'll gather full baskets of eggs from your laying flock.

Let us supply you with healthy, egg-bred chicks and help you with your poultry management problems!

Send for Free Catalog and Price List

RAYMOND ROTZ
Poultry Farm and Hatchery
FORT LOUDON, PA.
Box 134
Phone: St. Thomas Exchange 137R35

Complete

Early Fertilizer Orders Are Advised

The current issue of the "Co-op Bulletin" issued by the Adams

is used up by luxuriant top growth instead of root growth. Another big advantage of early root growth is the mat it builds up against weeds. Most all weeds require the warmer temperatures of late May and June to start active growth, whereas lawn grass has been growing since late March or early April.

It is practically impossible for weeds to become established when early feeding is done regularly. If the feeding is done late, the weeds are benefited as much as the lawn.

County Farm Bureau Cooperative association urges county farmers to "be safe, order your fertilizer now." Late orders may not be able to be filled with the type of fertilizer requested.

Nitrogen and phosphate supplies are short, the bulletin states. Early movement of fertilizer supplies will facilitate the work of the fertilizer plants, it is explained.

Suggesting this slogan for the farmers: "A bag in the barn is worth two in the warehouse," the bulletin advises the fertilizer be stored in a dry place with protection against a damp floor. A few forkfuls of hay thrown over the top will help protect the fertilizer from dampness.

Everything for your VICTORY GARDEN

Plant SCHELL'S Quality GARDEN SEEDS

Preferred by Many Gardeners Everywhere

- Plant Foods
- Garden Tools
- Fertilizers
- Spray Materials

Ask For Schell's Seed Catalogue

GEO. M. ZERFING
"Hardware on the Square"

GETTYSBURG PENNSYLVANIA

Treat it as though it were your "Last Tractor!"

You'll be surprised how little it will cost to have us go over your John Deere tractor from end to end... grind valves... make all necessary adjustments... and tune it up so that it will work just about like new. You can't afford to work with a sluggish tractor, so be sure to see us now about overhauling your tractor.

Plan to give your John Deere machinery the check-over it needs. Save yourself time and money by buying genuine John Deere repair parts from us NOW.

E. DONALD SCOTT
Rear 221 Baltimore Street
PHONE 322-W GETTYSBURG, PA.

"Plant Up" with FRUIT TREES and SHRUBBERY

Complete Line of Assorted Varieties of

PEACH

Apple, Cherry, Plum, Pear, Etc.

THESE TREES HAVE BEEN EXAMINED FOR TRUENESS TO NAME BY NATIONAL RE-OWNED AUTHORITIES...

Now Is the Time to Order Your Stock for Spring Planting!

Adams County Nursery and Fruit Farms

Phone 122-R-12 H. G. Baugher Aspers, Penna.

COMPLETE LINE SCHELL'S QUALITY SEEDS

QUALITY TESTED SEEDS

NOW ON SALE

"They Grow Better, They Yield More"

JOHN A. SHULTZ
Member Yorktowne Service Stores
FAIRFIELD, PA. PHONE 21-R-3

MASON'S GOLDEN MIDGET SWEET CORNA Kennedy Introduction*NO GARDEN TOO SMALL

For this dainty bit of succulent sweetness, tiny cobs (4 in. long) set with deep full-size kernels. Tastiest you have ever eaten. A delight to the home gardener. Ready in 56 days. Make several plantings for succession. Heavy yielder. 3 to 5 ears borne on stalk only 3 1/2 ft. high.

2 1/2-Oz. Pkt. (about 500 seeds)

$1.00 Postpaid
Enough for five 5-ft. rows.

Get genuine MASON'S Golden Midget from the introducer, Spring Catalogue of KENNEDY KRALITY Seeds, Bulbs and Plants included gratis with every order.

ANDREW R. KENNEDY, Inc.
SEEDS - BULBS - PLANTS
Dept. C, 22 W. 27th St., New York 1, N. Y.

AMAZING NEW LAWN GRASS

Smother Weeds and Crabgrass
Trinity Creeping Fescue spreads a heavy, cloudburst, smooth green lawn from light seedling. Grows in sun or shade. An exclusive product, not sold in stores.

SELDOM NEEDS MOWING
Send your name and address in postal card will do for FREE information, telling how Trinity Creeping Fescue can help you to have a better lawn at lower cost. Write to:

DRUMCLIFF COMPANY
DEPT. 225 TOWSON 4, MARYLAND

Vegetable or Flower Plants

Tomatoes, Celery, Pepper, Sweet Potatoes, Broccoli, Collards, Marigolds, Zinnias, Cabbage & Onions. $1 per 100. Cauliflower, Eggplant, Aster, Snapdragon, Scarlet Sage. $2 per 100. 25 Large Gladioli, Bulbs. $1. 12 Hardy Chrysanthemums, Double. $1. 5 Large Dahlias, all different. $1. Prices prepaid. No order for less than $1. Not less than 25 plants of a kind.

Write for List
DELSEA DAHLIA FARM
WESTVILLE, N. J.

A. H. HOFFMAN SEEDS

Funk's Hybrid Corn, Grass Seeds, Oats and Potatoes

ORDER NOW!
AMOS W. MYER
GETTYSBURG R. D. 3
Phone 962-R-12

Hiener's Red State Blood Tested

Hiener's real egg breeding at a price you can afford. All our males are U. S. Pedigreed R. O. P. from 225 to 351 egg hens. Our strain is non-broody. Lays well. Feathers and grows fast with excellent livability. Straight run chicks—$15 per 100; also mixed.

HIENER'S Poultry Farm & Hatchery
Stoney Batter Rd., Fork, Md., Ph. Fork 2672

TRAIN for SUCCESS in the Poultry Business

YOU CAN MAKE MORE MONEY FROM POULTRY
All signs point to big opportunities in poultry this winter and for post-war period. Get ready NOW! Proper management means profits ANY season, for life. Learn latest scientific up-to-date methods of a nationally famous poultry authority. Our lessons, avoid mistakes, get biggest profits. Our Home Study course endorsed by thousands of graduates, successful poultrymen, leading colleges. This catalog free to all who want to make poultry pay—describes courses, methods, service. Write for it today to The President.

National Poultry Institute
Dept. GT Adams Center, N. Y.

RILCO PRE-FAB POULTRY HOUSE

Ready to Erect Quickly

Rilco Brooder House Pack
Consists of 4 glued laminated wood rafters. The end rafters are framed for windows and door. Size of house 20x10'x8' high. Each Rilco Arch is a continuous framing member of glued laminated construction. Its use eliminates all bracing. The Rilco Arch shaped house assures maximum floor space with a minimum of waste space overhead to be heated.

Rilco Arch brooder houses are economical to buy or build. They are light in weight, yet rigid, strong and sturdy and easily moved to clean ground with team or tractor.

Besides the 12'x10' house as illustrated, a wide variety of other sizes and shapes are available, all built with Rilco Arch Rafters.

Come in and see how attractive, convenient and economical these Rilco Brooder Houses are.

$9.58 Per Month
I. H. CROUSE and SONS
Tel. 51-J - Littlestown, Pa.

Weekly Adams County GARDEN PagePROFIT, CHOICE FOODS OFFERED BY V-GARDENS

Does it pay, in dollars and cents, to grow your own vegetables for home use?

To answer this question Walter S. Adams, member of the Men's Garden club of Asheville, N. C., kept a detailed record in 1944 of all the money spent on his Victory garden, and recorded the value at market prices of all the vegetables harvested from it.

Total expenses were $80.53, which included $35.45 for plowing and labor. The value of all vegetables harvested, and either used by his family, sold or given away, totaled $128.42. The net return from the 50x80 Victory garden was therefore $47.89, which could have been raised to $76.59 had the $28.70 which was expended on labor other than plowing, been saved.

Cheaper and More Convenient
But there were other returns from his Victory garden which Mr. Adams stresses in the following summary of the value of a home vegetable garden to his family.

1—It is cheaper—average family can save from $50 to $100 a year.

2—It is more convenient, your garden is much closer to you than the market, and it takes less time to operate the garden than to shop for groceries in the market.

3—Vegetables fresh from your own garden are much superior to those obtained from the market, in nutritive value, tenderness and flavor.

4—The pleasure which the family shares from work in the garden is a special bonus that only those who garden can appreciate.

Mr. Adams' family used fresh

New Varieties Of Vegetables Do Well

New vegetable varieties, including a number for which seed is available, performed well in trials conducted last year at the Pennsylvania State college, M. L. Odland, research vegetable gardener at the college, reports.

Among the new varieties is Fordhook 242 lima bean which the All-America judges awarded a bronze medal because of its good showing. Its seeds are large and thick, and of good quality. They are easy to shell. Thirty-eight strains were included in the trials at the Penn State Agricultural Experiment station where each year variety trials of numerous vegetable crops are made.

Florida Belle was one of those which looked good among 88 snap bean varieties. Its pod, long and fairly straight, is bright green and somewhat flattened. Favorable showings also were made by pepper selections of Dr. C. E. Meyers, who says seed of the most promising one is being increased and will be released next fall.

Of nearly 100 strains of sweet corn on trial, several did very acceptably, among them Goldenrain, a new hybrid, which gave an excellent yield in about 94 days. Other strains rating high in their respective maturity classes included Earligold, North Star, Lincoln, Golden Cross Bantam, Iona and Magnagold.

Vegetables worth $48.92, and canned $48.45 worth. He sold for cash $8.60 worth and gave away $18.45 worth. He itemizes vegetables used by his family as follows:

Tomatoes (140 plants), $46.60; lima beans, $6.90; corn, $6.50; beets, $6.10; soy beans, $5.70; peas, $4.70; onions, $4.65; broccoli, $4; beans, $2.65; kale, $2.80; cabbage, $1.80; peppers, $1.55; squash, $1.50; parsley, $1.20; lettuce, $1.10; carrots, $1.00; radishes, $1.00; crowder peas, 95 cents; spinach, 70 cents; turnip greens, 60 cents; collards, 50 cents; cucumbers, 45 cents; mustard greens, 32 cents; tampa, 30 cents; turnips, 30 cents; leeks, 20 cents.

Expenditures are itemized as follows: Seeds and plants, $18.21; manure and commercial plant food, $14.10; plowing and labor, $35.45; watering (cost of water) $6; miscellaneous, insecticides, small gardening supplies, $6.77; total $80.53.

Mr. Adams kept his meticulous record as an assignment from the Men's Garden club, to which he made his report.

"It was a complicated task," he reported, referring to his record. "I am glad it's over and assure you I'll never do it again. However, being a novice in gardening, it was excellent training for me."

Puerto Rico is inhabited by more than 2,000,000, and is one of the most densely populated places on earth.

ORDER WILLOW BROOK NEW HAMPSHIRE AND WHITE LEGHORN CHICKS

For Broilers and Layers
Send for New Price List and Folder

Willow Brook Farms
R. D. 2, Dover, Pa. Ph. 19-R-21
Chicks Every Week

GROW YOUR OWN GLADIOLI BULBS
Get 150 Choice Bulbs for $1.00 or 400 for $2.00

U. S. Money Order. Varieties included: Lady Jane, Corona, Fair Angel, Elizabeth the Queen and others.

JOHN R. FINGER
746 Warren St., Hudson, N. Y., Box 633

SEEDS FOR FREEZING

After 3 yrs. freezing what we grew or could buy we have found the below seeds superior for freezing.

LIMA — CORN PEAS — BEANS
Purchasers of These Seeds Receive

INSTRUCTIONS HOW TO FREEZE
Mail Orders Filled

LOWER'S Seed Dept.

Freezers of Fruits & Vegetables
TABLE ROCK, PA.

SEEDS THAT GROW
Tender, Green Stringless Beans
Pint, 40c — Qt., 75c

SEEDS THAT GROW
Enormous Bush Lima
Pint, 45c — Qt., 85c

SEEDS THAT GROW
Perf. Detroit Dark Red Beet
Oz., 25c — 1/4 lb., 75c

SEEDS THAT GROW
California Bunching Carrot
Oz., 25c — 1/4 lb., 75c

SEEDS THAT GROW
Golden Cross Bantam Corn
Pint, 55c — Qt., $1.00

SEEDS THAT GROW
Colorado Cucumber
Oz., 20c — 1/4 lb., 60c

SEEDS THAT GROW
Iceberg Lettuce # 55
Oz., 30c — 1/4 lb., 90c

SEEDS THAT GROW
Long John Cantaloupe
Oz., 30c — 1/4 lb., 90c

SEEDS THAT GROW
Giant Potted Hamper Peas
Pint, 40c — Qt., 75c

SEEDS THAT GROW
Early Cardinal Radish
Oz., 20c — 1/4 lb., 35c

SEEDS THAT GROW
White and Yellow Onion Sets
Qt., 40c — Peck, $2.50

SEEDS THAT GROW
All Postpaid

1945 GARDEN BOOK FREE UPON REQUEST WRITE FOR YOUR COPY

THE MEYER SEED COMPANY
Dept. H 1-3-5 E. LOMBARD ST., BALTO. 2, MD.

Neither Too Young Nor Too Old...

Victory Gardens are as necessary as ships, planes, tanks and guns, says War Food Administrator Jones. Here every member of the family, from old age to young childhood, can make his contribution to the war effort.

Things Of The Soil

By DAN P. VAN GORDER
The Gettysburg Times Agricultural Editor

Questions of our readers on lawns, flowers, vegetable growing, poultry, fruit, livestock and general agriculture will be answered by return personal letter without charges if a 3-cent stamp is enclosed.

Address Letters To
The Gettysburg Times Agricultural Editor
Box 1528, Washington, 13, D. C.

What Is A Fungus Disease?

It is vitally important that every grower of food and ornamental plants understand the methods by which a fungus disease enters a growing plant and how it operates to cause the plant to weaken and die. And while this is a highly technical subject, it can be explained sufficiently to reduce it to a somewhat simple study.

First, imagine a living plant leaf as represented by a thin slice of bread with crust around the edges and also covering the two cut surfaces. The crust is the leaf surface. Inside the leaf, beneath the coat or outer surface, there are tiny canals and channels crisscrossing and interlaced just like the small tunnels in the slice of bread.

These serve to carry moisture and raw materials to the leaf cells from which plant foods are manufactured, also to carry the finished nutrients back to the twigs, limbs, fruits, stalks, roots and other parts of the entire plant. These canals are as essential to the leaf and the plant as arteries, veins and capillaries are to the human body.

Fungus Diseases
Fungus diseases in general are spread in small organisms called spores. And while there are various stages of spore development, we shall consider only the form that causes the actual disease. Spores are often called fungi (plural) or fungus (singular). They are minute thread-like structures easily carried by the wind. When a spore lands on a plant leaf, it begins at once to penetrate into the crust or leaf surface. Once inside the leaf tissues, the spore starts to send its root-like growths out into all the lateral canals, multiplying rapidly in all directions. And being a parasite, it produces no food for itself, but lives solely on the leaf sap.

By the time a sizeable portion of an individual leaf is penetrated by these sap-devouring roots, its arteries and veins are so clogged that the leaf cells are starving for moisture and food. Later it turns yellow and dies. Then the branch and stalk may wilt or weaken from the death of its leaves.

Methods of Prevention
There are several ways to prevent fungus diseases, including the careful gathering and burning of all diseased plant refuse in late fall, also growing varieties of plants known to be at least partially resistant to the particular form of blight. But perhaps the most economical and safest method of prevention is to spray or

stages of spore development, we shall consider only the form that causes the actual disease. Spores are often called fungi (plural) or fungus (singular). They are minute thread-like structures easily carried by the wind. When a spore lands on a plant leaf, it begins at once to penetrate into the crust or leaf surface. Once inside the leaf tissues, the spore starts to send its root-like growths out into all the lateral canals, multiplying rapidly in all directions. And being a parasite, it produces no food for itself, but lives solely on the leaf sap.

By the time a sizeable portion of an individual leaf is penetrated by these sap-devouring roots, its arteries and veins are so clogged that the leaf cells are starving for moisture and food. Later it turns yellow and dies. Then the branch and stalk may wilt or weaken from the death of its leaves.

Methods of Prevention
There are several ways to prevent fungus diseases, including the careful gathering and burning of all diseased plant refuse in late fall, also growing varieties of plants known to be at least partially resistant to the particular form of blight. But perhaps the most economical and safest method of prevention is to spray or

stages of spore development, we shall consider only the form that causes the actual disease. Spores are often called fungi (plural) or fungus (singular). They are minute thread-like structures easily carried by the wind. When a spore lands on a plant leaf, it begins at once to penetrate into the crust or leaf surface. Once inside the leaf tissues, the spore starts to send its root-like growths out into all the lateral canals, multiplying rapidly in all directions. And being a parasite, it produces no food for itself, but lives solely on the leaf sap.

By the time a sizeable portion of an individual leaf is penetrated by these sap-devouring roots, its arteries and veins are so clogged that the leaf cells are starving for moisture and food. Later it turns yellow and dies. Then the branch and stalk may wilt or weaken from the death of its leaves.

Methods of Prevention
There are several ways to prevent fungus diseases, including the careful gathering and burning of all diseased plant refuse in late fall, also growing varieties of plants known to be at least partially resistant to the particular form of blight. But perhaps the most economical and safest method of prevention is to spray or

stages of spore development, we shall consider only the form that causes the actual disease. Spores are often called fungi (plural) or fungus (singular). They are minute thread-like structures easily carried by the wind. When a spore lands on a plant leaf, it begins at once to penetrate into the crust or leaf surface. Once inside the leaf tissues, the spore starts to send its root-like growths out into all the lateral canals, multiplying rapidly in all directions. And being a parasite, it produces no food for itself, but lives solely on the leaf sap.

By the time a sizeable portion of an individual leaf is penetrated by these sap-devouring roots, its arteries and veins are so clogged that the leaf cells are starving for moisture and food. Later it turns yellow and dies. Then the branch and stalk may wilt or weaken from the death of its leaves.

Methods of Prevention
There are several ways to prevent fungus diseases, including the careful gathering and burning of all diseased plant refuse in late fall, also growing varieties of plants known to be at least partially resistant to the particular form of blight. But perhaps the most economical and safest method of prevention is to spray or

stages of spore development, we shall consider only the form that causes the actual disease. Spores are often called fungi (plural) or fungus (singular). They are minute thread-like structures easily carried by the wind. When a spore lands on a plant leaf, it begins at once to penetrate into the crust or leaf surface. Once inside the leaf tissues, the spore starts to send its root-like growths out into all the lateral canals, multiplying rapidly in all directions. And being a parasite, it produces no food for itself, but lives solely on the leaf sap.

By the time a sizeable portion of an individual leaf is penetrated by these sap-devouring roots, its arteries and veins are so clogged that the leaf cells are starving for moisture and food. Later it turns yellow and dies. Then the branch and stalk may wilt or weaken from the death of its leaves.

Methods of Prevention
There are several ways to prevent fungus diseases, including the careful gathering and burning of all diseased plant refuse in late fall, also growing varieties of plants known to be at least partially resistant to the particular form of blight. But perhaps the most economical and safest method of prevention is to spray or

stages of spore development, we shall consider only the form that causes the actual disease. Spores are often called fungi (plural) or fungus (singular). They are minute thread-like structures easily carried by the wind. When a spore lands on a plant leaf, it begins at once to penetrate into the crust or leaf surface. Once inside the leaf tissues, the spore starts to send its root-like growths out into all the lateral canals, multiplying rapidly in all directions. And being a parasite, it produces no food for itself, but lives solely on the leaf sap.

By the time a sizeable portion of an individual leaf is penetrated by these sap-devouring roots, its arteries and veins are so clogged that the leaf cells are starving for moisture and food. Later it turns yellow and dies. Then the branch and stalk may wilt or weaken from the death of its leaves.

Methods of Prevention
There are several ways to prevent fungus diseases, including the careful gathering and burning of all diseased plant refuse in late fall, also growing varieties of plants known to be at least partially resistant to the particular form of blight. But perhaps the most economical and safest method of prevention is to spray or

stages of spore development, we shall consider only the form that causes the actual disease. Spores are often called fungi (plural) or fungus (singular). They are minute thread-like structures easily carried by the wind. When a spore lands on a plant leaf, it begins at once to penetrate into the crust or leaf surface. Once inside the leaf tissues, the spore starts to send its root-like growths out into all the lateral canals, multiplying rapidly in all directions. And being a parasite, it produces no food for itself, but lives solely on the leaf sap.

By the time a sizeable portion of an individual leaf is penetrated by these sap-devouring roots, its arteries and veins are so clogged that the leaf cells are starving for moisture and food. Later it turns yellow and dies. Then the branch and stalk may wilt or weaken from the death of its leaves.

Methods of Prevention
There are several ways to prevent fungus diseases, including the careful gathering and burning of all diseased plant refuse in late fall, also growing varieties of plants known to be at least partially resistant to the particular form of blight. But perhaps the most economical and safest method of prevention is to spray or

stages of spore development, we shall consider only the form that causes the actual disease. Spores are often called fungi (plural) or fungus (singular). They are minute thread-like structures easily carried by the wind. When a spore lands on a plant leaf, it begins at once to penetrate into the crust or leaf surface. Once inside the leaf tissues, the spore starts to send its root-like growths out into all the lateral canals, multiplying rapidly in all directions. And being a parasite, it produces no food for itself, but lives solely on the leaf sap.

By the time a sizeable portion of an individual leaf is penetrated by these sap-devouring roots, its arteries and veins are so clogged that the leaf cells are starving for moisture and food. Later it turns yellow and dies. Then the branch and stalk may wilt or weaken from the death of its leaves.

Methods of Prevention
There are several ways to prevent fungus diseases, including the careful gathering and burning of all diseased plant refuse in late fall, also growing varieties of plants known to be at least partially resistant to the particular form of blight. But perhaps the most economical and safest method of prevention is to spray or

BEST TIME TO FEED LAWNS IN EARLY SPRING

What does early feeding for lawns really mean? It means just as soon as you can get on the lawn when winter is breaking up, as soon as or just before the frost has started to come out of the ground.

The ground may be frozen and have a light covering of snow, it may have thawed once and then frozen again. Naturally the feeding can't be done when the ground is too soft or too wet, as during the first day or two of a thaw. Early feeding should be done before that condition exists. If the soil condition is right, don't worry about the calendar.

Early feeding gets the plant food right down to the roots in time to be ready for use at the first signs of spring growth. Alternate freezing and thawing produces a soil structural condition called "honeycombing." The soil is much more porous when it is honeycombed; consequently, snow and rain will find their way through the soil much easier and deeper when this condition is present.

Checks Weeds

Plant food applied during this period is placed right around the grass roots by the melting snow or spring rains. Plant food must be available to the roots themselves and early application gets it there easier than any other way at any other time. The grass has not started its top growth during the best period for early application; therefore, plant food applied early does not require watering... a saving of time and money.

This early root activity, before top growth starts, assures the grass a deeper root system to sustain it during the hot, dry periods of the summer. When feeding is done too late in the spring, much of the plant food dust susceptible plants with an effective fungicide—meaning literally something that kills fungi. But when should such sprays or dusts be applied? After affected leaves begin to turn yellow?

No, the spore can be destroyed by a fungicide only during the short period while it is on the leaf surface. Or it can be prevented from lighting by destruction at its source. A leaf liberally coated with a fungicide is safe from spore attack. But after the root-like growths penetrate the leaf tissues, sprays and dusts are no longer effective.

Bordeaux mixture is one of the most economical and satisfactory fungicides for general use. Superfine dusting sulphur is another. The editor invites readers with unanswered questions on plant diseases to write him for all the help they need. Merely enclose a 3-cent stamp for reply by personal mail.

GARDEN SUPPLIES AND TOOLS

quality Hardware to equip the gardener at moderate cost.

BUSHMAN'S STORE
ARENTSVILLE, PA.

WHICH WILL YOU HAVE?

THIS

THIS

THIS

THIS

THIS

THIS

THIS

THIS

THIS

THIS

THIS

THIS

THIS

THIS

THIS

THIS

THIS

THIS

THIS

THIS

THIS

THIS

THIS

THIS

Early Fertilizer Orders Are Advised

The current issue of the "Co-op Bulletin" issued by the Adams

is used up by luxuriant top growth instead of root growth. Another big advantage of early root growth is the mat it builds up against weeds. Most all weeds require the warmer temperatures of late May and June to start active growth, whereas lawn grass has been growing since late March or early April.

It is practically impossible for weeds to become established when early feeding is done regularly. If the feeding is done late, the weeds are benefited as much as the lawn.

County Farm Bureau Cooperative association urges county farmers to "be safe, order your fertilizer now."

Late orders may not be able to be filled with the type of fertilizer requested.

Nitrogen and phosphate supplies are short, the bulletin states. Early movement of fertilizer supplies will facilitate the work of the fertilizer plants, it is explained.

Suggesting this slogan for the farmers: "A bag in the barn is worth two in the warehouse," the bulletin advises the fertilizer be stored in a dry place with protection against a damp floor. A few forkfuls of hay thrown over the top will help protect the fertilizer from dampness.

Plant SCHELL'S Quality GARDEN SEEDS

Preferred by Many Gardeners Everywhere

Plant Foods • Garden Tools • Fertilizers • Spray Materials

Ask For Schell's Seed Catalogue

GEO. M. ZERFING</

THE GETTYSBURG TIMES
(A Daily Newspaper)
18-20 Carlisle Street
Telephone—640

Published at regular intervals
on each weekday by

Times and News Publishing Co.
A Pennsylvania Corporation

President Samuel G. Spangler
Manager Carl A. Baum
Editor Paul L. Roy

Non-partisan in Politics
Entered at the Postoffice at Gettysburg as second class matter under the Act of March 3, 1879

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
One Week (By Carrier) 12 cents
One Month (By Carrier) 50 cents
One Year $6.00
Single Copies Three cents

Member of the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers Association and the Interstate Advertising Managers' Association.

An Associated Press Newspaper
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

National Advertising Representative: Fred Kimball, Incorporated, 67 W. 44th Street, New York City.

Gettysburg, Pa., February 12, 1945

Just Folks
LINCOLN
They could not see, who stood too near,
Beyond their little day,
To friends and foes his faults were clear,
But that's the common way.
Of when of him his neighbors spoke,
'Twas merely to repeat a joke.

That Lincoln loved his fellow men
They knew. They'd heard him sigh
Because for freedom once again
Brave boys were asked to die.
That he was merciful they knew,
But deeds of mercy many do.

With patience infinite he bore
The barbs of malice vile.
He wore the raincoat others wore,
According to the style,
So, not until the day he died
Did men look on his nobler side.

As then, still now it seems to be:
Man's spirit flesh conceals
And seldom lets his fellows see
The greatness time reveals.
Death was the door, and time the key
To glory's immortality!

Today's Talk
THE SINGER AND HIS SONG
The singer, the poet and the writer are for but the day, the year, or the epoch—but that which they breathe from their very souls is for all time. The song, the poem and the book are forever!

Bach still lives in his compositions. Keats, Cervantes, Shakespeare, Montaigne, and scores of others too numerous to mention share this modest home of mine. Our spirits mesh and meditate. There is feeling in the living books. Personality, too. They actually breathe! That's what keeps them alive.

Can Stephen Foster ever die? Who ever can listen to the strains of "Home, Sweet Home" without feeling the very presence of John Howard Payne? The song never dies. Its very notes intermingle with the air that we breathe.

We are, as created individuals, but mediums through which the voice of God invisibly moves, planting seeds within our consciousness that later spring into being in the shape of a song, a poem or a book. Genius is the mould that gives to the world his precious song. But it isn't genius that keeps it ever alive. Appreciation and understanding take it up from there. And all too often this phase is tragically neglected. It was a hundred years before the world awoke to the gift of its Shakespeare.

We know the singer from his song. Words and music are forged in the heart. Thereafter they seek out hearts that their very aroma may become enriched.

For centuries matchless compositions have flowed from the minds and hearts of great composers. Poets have had their names placed high upon the rolls of fame, and writers have left classics to identify them down the years. But wherever hope and happiness gain a break through the clouds of darkness or discouragement a song of joy springs from the heart. Some familiar melody or some childhood hymn is loosed anew upon the air.

Thus it is that the singer and the song become immortal, cherished within the joys of memory.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Bookseller"

CHURCH BURNS
Asbury Park, N. J., Feb. 12 (AP)—A two-hour general alarm fire early Friday destroyed the Ballard Methodist church on Asbury avenue, with damages estimated by the Rev. James Pemberton at more than $75,000. The pastor said that all documents, including baptism and marriage certificates were destroyed in the church, which was more than a half century old.

The Almanac
Feb. 12—Sun rises 7:57, sets 6:13.
Moon sets 7:10 p. m.
Feb. 14—Sun rises 7:55, sets 6:24.
Moon sets 8:03 p. m.
MOON PHASES
Feb. 12—New moon.
Feb. 13—First quarter.
Feb. 14—Full moon.

Out Of The Past
From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO
Emmitsburg and Frederick Turnpike: A project is on foot to make a turnpike road between Emmitsburg and Frederick. It is estimated that the work can be accomplished for about $35,000, and the Frederick Herald says that "several gentlemen interested in the project are willing to take stock to a considerable amount."

Married: On the 30th ult., by the Rev. Mr. Sechler, Mr. Mathew Gerber, to Miss Mary C. Clapsaddle—both of this county.

In Woodsboro, Md., on the 4th inst., Dr. Franklin J. Smith (formerly of Gettysburg), to Miss Henrietta Goering, daughter of the late Rue Goering, deceased.

Store Room and Cellar For Rent: Situated in the northeast corner of the diamond in Gettysburg, adjoining the Franklin House, now occupied by J. Cole and company. Wm. McClellan.

Counting the Votes: Wednesday last was the day appointed by law for opening and counting the votes for President and Vice President of the United States given by the Electoral Colleges of the several states. Both Houses assembled in the hall of the House of Representatives, and tellers having been appointed, the several certificates were opened and the votes counted. The President of the Senate pronounced the fiat of the people in the following terms: "I do therefore declare James K. Polk, of Tennessee, having received a majority of the whole number of the electoral votes, to be duly elected President of the United States for the term of four years from the fourth of March next. He made a similar announcement of the election of George M. Dallas, of Pennsylvania, as Vice President for the same term."

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
At a recent term of the Dauphin county court, John McPherson, Esq., nephew of Hon. Edward McPherson, was admitted to the Bar. He is a young man of talent, and his examination is spoken of in flattering terms by the Harrisburg papers.

Sale: Mr. Samuel Herbst has sold his new brick dwelling on Chambersburg street to Col. F. B. Pickering, of East Berlin, taking in exchange the property of Mr. Pickering on Baltimore street, now occupied by Mr. Francis Cunningham, and $2,800 cash.

Married: Arentz-Bair—On the 30th ult., by the Rev. M. J. Alleman, Mr. Albert Arentz to Miss Ellen Bair, both of this county.

Bushey-Bittinger: On the 3d inst., at the house of the bride's father, by Rev. M. Snyder, M. John F. Bushey to Miss Clara C. Bittinger, both of Arentzville.

Hamm-Bupp: On the 3d inst., by the Rev. J. Sechler, Mr. Samuel Hamm, of York county, to Miss Susannah Bupp, of Adams county.

Myers-Arther: On the 10th inst., by the Rev. S. Yingling, Mr. Anson A. Myers to Miss Lydia Arther, both of Union township.

Re-opened: The repairs to the Reformed church in this place being completed, the church was opened for regular services on the 30th ult. The whole interior has been renovated, with new carpets, improved heating arrangements, and sundry improvements in the lecture room and infant school department, all of which will promote the comfort and convenience of the congregation. Rev. Mr. Deatrich, the pastor, took advantage of the occasion to read an interesting sketch of the history of the church from its organization to the present time.

General News: San Francisco was shaken up by a small earthquake last Friday.

On Saturday, a butcher of Baltimore, named Louis Est, was arrested for selling unsound meat. He had been retailing meat which a number of butchers declared to be unfit for any purpose whatever.

The relapsing fever is again on the decline in New York city.

Just before leaving Boston, Prince Arthur sent to Miss Minnie Sherman, daughter of General Sherman, a chaste and costly gold medalion, having his likeness on one side and that of Queen Victoria on the other. Accompanying the gift was a delicately worded note.

The President will issue a proclamation declaring the Fifteenth Amendment to be part of the Constitution, previous to the New Hampshire and Connecticut elections.

The Fairfield Turnpike: We understand the committee appointed to canvass for subscription to the Fairfield and Gettysburg Turnpike company, have met with fair success. A number of farmers have shown their appreciation of the importance of the movement by making subscriptions, but there are a large number who have thus far subscribed little or nothing. If this important enterprise is to go through, the efforts of the committee should be seconded by prompt and liberal subscriptions.

FEA BROCHURE WARNS OF PERIL OF U.S. INVASION
By JAMES MARLOW
Washington, Feb. 12 (AP)—We're big boys now, all grown up. We tie our own ties, wash behind our own ears, and turn out the light before we go to sleep. And we're not scared of the bogey man.

We're only mentioning it because somebody in the Foreign Economic Administration (FEA) has just disclosed there's still a chance of this country's being invaded by way of Latin America.

Could he mean the Japanese? But we thought the Japanese couldn't even save themselves in the Philippines. Maybe he meant the Germans. But the last we heard they were being invaded themselves.

FEA Sounds Warning
The little danger note occurs in a 15-page FEA document setting out to tell the American people the truth about lend-lease and explode false ideas that have grown up around it. The document is called "Lend-Lease Fact and Fiction." It lists 38 "fictions" about lend-lease and answers them with 38 "facts."

The name of the author or authors is unknown.

It doesn't comment on fact that the subject of appropriating more money for lend-lease is coming up in congress.

Like "Fiction No. 23" which says: "Lend-Lease goods sent to Latin America are used in ways which have no connection with the war effort."

Invasion Insurance
Answering that, FEA explains that lend-lease goods sent to Brazil have enabled the Brazilians to clear the South Atlantic of German submarines and to equip Brazilian troops fighting beside our troops in Italy.

And the answer includes this: "Lend-lease is designed to strengthen our own national defense by strengthening friendly nations' invasion through Latin America was considered a possibility in the early months of the war and cannot yet be completely discounted."

"The material we have furnished the Latin American nations has provided us insurance in case invasion of this hemisphere ever is attempted."

HOPE TO SOLVE POLISH TROUBLE
Washington, Feb. 12 (AP)—American officials are urgently hoping that the big three will produce a formula for settling the Polish dispute.

The problem represents probably the most severe test of Allied co-operation. It can hardly be solved without some concessions by Russia, without commitments as to Poland's future by the United States and without considerable pressure by the British on some elements of the London-Polish government.

President Roosevelt is understood to have gone to the Black sea conference ready to make more far-reaching agreements than Washington would have considered possible a few weeks ago in an effort to satisfy the Russians as well as conciliatory Polish groups on future security questions.

The complexity of the task facing the big three probably has been heightened by the disclosure that the Polish government in London made an appeal to the President and to Prime Minister Churchill last Sunday to take up with Stalin the handling of officers and men of the underground units by the Russians.

SPORTS WRITER DIES
New York, Feb. 12 (AP)—Herbert A. Igoe, 67, known as "Hype Igoe," died of a heart ailment last night. He was a nationally known boxing writer for the Hearst newspapers and was a confidant of heavyweight champions from the days of James J. Corbett.

Flowers
for
ALL OCCASIONS
CREMER'S
HANOVER, PA.

Rationing Roundup
(By The Associated Press)
Meats, fats, etc.—Book four red stamps Q5 through S5 good through March 31. Stamps T5 through X5 good through April 28. Stamps Y5 Z5 and A-2 through D-2 good through June 2.

Processed foods — Book four blue stamps X5 through Z5 and A2 and B2 good through March 31. Stamps H2 through M2 good through June 2.

Sugar — Book four stamp 34 good for five pounds through Feb. 28. Stamp 35 valid for five pounds through June 2. Another stamp scheduled to be validated May 1.

Shoes — Book three airplane stamps 1, 2 and 3 valid indefinitely; OPA says no plans to cancel any.

Gasoline — 14-A coupons good everywhere for four gallons through March 21. B-5, C-5 and C-6 coupons good everywhere for five gallons.

Fuel oil — Last year's period four and five coupons and this year's period one through four coupons good in all areas. Period five coupons good in midwest and south. All coupons good throughout current and liberal subscriptions.

Lincoln, A Gag Man
By LLOYD LEWIS
Author of "Myths After Lincoln," and other Civil War biographies.

IN ADDITION to his greater talents, Abraham Lincoln had a gift that, were he alive today, and not employed in government, would have made him a fortune as a gag-writer for radio comedians. Insisting that he never coined any of his famous stories, he nevertheless had what the best of the radio humor writers have today, an artistic ability to rearrange, condense, rephrase and sharpen folk-jokes and comic situations into a form that was all his own.

His stories were helped immeasurably, when he told them, by his own amazing talent for quizzical, droll comedy—a delivery perhaps as funny as Mark Twain's, a use of facial expression perhaps as irresistible as Charlie Chaplin's.

He practically never employed humor except to illustrate a point that had come up in conversation and he apparently usually used a drawl for comic effect. Nevertheless, the point of his humor characteristically came with the same crisp, crackling speed used by the highest salaried gag-writers today.

AT A CHURCH meeting the rival candidates for Congress, Rev. Peter Cartwright and Lincoln, appeared before the voters. The preacher spoke first and insinuated strongly that his opponent was an agnostic, a heretic and possibly an infidel. Lincoln waited patiently. The preacher said, "Now, will all those who are going to heaven stand up?" All rose but Lincoln. Cartwright triumphed at having thus linked Lincoln and Satan, and cried "Amen Mr. Lincoln where are you going?"

Lincoln stood up and said "I'm going to Congress."

ONCE he and a friend were discussing a profound, solemn, celebrated historian of their time. The friend said, "It may be doubted whether any man of our generation has plunged more deeply in the sacred fount of learning." Lincoln quipped "Or come up dryer."

Lincoln told of a friend who, when named to examine and inspect the State prisons, gave the first penitentiary so conscientious and thorough an inspection that he got lost in the dungeon corridors down among the prisoners sentenced to life imprisonment. He stepped up to the bars of one cell and said to a convict, "Excuse me, but how do you get out of this place?"

WHEN a pompous statesman was buried with extravagant ceremonies in Washington, Lincoln observed, "I he'd known what a big funeral he was going to have he'd have died long ago."

WHEN one of his brother lawyers on the circuit tore the seat of his trousers, joking colleagues started signing a subscription to buy him a new pair of pants. Lincoln looked over the list of names and then solemnly wrote, "I can contribute nothing to the end in view."

WHEN asked why he seemed to avoid women, Lincoln explained that he was like a neighbor boy in Indiana who had been poorer than the Lincolns were. This boy came over one day to where young Abe was eating gingerbread men, the greatest treat on the frontier. He asked for one of the men. Abe gave it to him, then for another which Abe was starting to consume. Abe gave him that and the boy wolfed it down.

"You seem to like gingerbread," said Abe.

The boy replied: "Abe, I don't s'pose anybody on earth likes gingerbread better—and gets less."

WHEN asked how his wife's aristocratic southern family, the Todds, spelled their name, with one or two "d's," he answered, "Two. One was enough for God but not for the Todds."

LINCOLN told of a father who kept urging his big, bashful son to take a wife until the young man finally burst out bawling. "All right, whose wife will I take?"

ONCE when he was confined to his office by the contagious but not serious disease, varioloid, his secretary told him that the outer office was full of those chronic beggars for political favors, the congressmen.

"Throw open the doors, let 'em in," said the President. "At last I've got something I can give 'em."

CLARENCE SWISHER GROCERY
Stevens Street Phone 345-W

CASH FOR YOUR CAR
Gettysburg Motor Sales
204 Chambersburg St.

BOWLING CENTER
— at the —
York St., Gettysburg

Esso
ANTI-FREEZE BATTERIES
Champion SPARK PLUGS
TIRE REPAIR SERVICE
WINTER LUBRICATION
Hartzell Esso Station
— Lincoln Highway, East of G-Highway —
Phone 449-Z

PUBLIC SALE
THURSDAY, MARCH 8TH
I will offer public sale, on account of my wife's death, consisting of real estate, farm machinery, live stock, Farm consists of 140 acres, seven-room house, wash house, milk house, four large poultry houses, two brooder houses, large bank barn, corn and machine barn, 35 acres young timber land, 50 acres blue grass pasture, balance in high state of cultivation, two wells of never-failing water runs through the farm, the farm, and a stream of never-failing water runs through farm. Anyone wanting to buy a farm, this one is the best in Adams county. Located at the former Dutler place at Golden's Station WATCH FOR LIST OF THIS SALE AT LATER DATE
E. G. WHITED

Flowers
for
ALL OCCASIONS
CREMER'S
HANOVER, PA.

A CARLOAD OF WATKINS MINERALS
Mineralized — Iodized — Vitamized! 100% Open Formula
SPEED UP GROWTH AND PRODUCTION
SAVE VALUABLE FEED — INCREASE PROFITS

Watkins improved Mineral Compounds have proved themselves in the feed lots of America to be an outstanding mineral supplement for cattle, hogs, poultry and other livestock. Because it is a properly balanced mineral, it does help save feed.

John P. Klaassen writes, "I put my hogs on the market in six months weighing 260 pounds average and received a premium price for fine finish. These hogs received nothing but home-grown grains and Watkins Hog Mineral Compound." Watkins improved Hog Mineral Compound furnishes the necessary minerals for good solid bone structure. It improves feed efficiency.

Dependable Stock and Poultry Preparations

Protect the health of your livestock to insure steady production. Watkins Liquid or Powdered Phenothiazine is effective for removing stomach, nodular and hook worms in cattle, sheep or goats. Roundworms in hogs and cecal worms in poultry. Stop feed losses by rats with Watkins Rat Killer. Watkins Roost Paint is a quick, easy way to kill poultry mites and lice. Use Watkins Mange Oil to clean up and control mange on hogs and mange and lice on cattle. Watkins Flock Wormer treatment is a one-shot treatment for roundworms in poultry.

AMOS W. MYER GETTYSBURG ROUTE 2 — PHONE 962-R-12

Garden Activities For February Days
Include some of the new vegetables when sending your seed order. Soil preparation for sowing seed indoors should be done now. A good mixture contains equal parts garden loam, sand and pulverized peat moss or humus. Seed pans, seed boxes and seed flats should be put in order.

See that garden tools are in good condition. Broken or worn-out parts should be replaced against the start of the gardening season.

Protect rhododendrons and boxwood from the warming rays of the sun with screens of burlap fastened to stakes.

Make the necessary repairs to cold-frame and hotbed sash. Place the sash on the coldframe to warm and dry the soil for sowing seed next month.

Pruning of fruit trees may be undertaken now.

Check up on the winter covering of plants outdoors to see that they are in place.

To control the red spider prevalent this season, examine house plants carefully and syringe the under side of the leaves with clear water.

In the ancient Roman theater actors wore symbolic colors: old men, white; young men, purple; parasites, grey; courtesians, yellow.

Helps Nature Relieve MONTHLY FEMALE PAIN
You who suffer such pain with tired, nervous, "dragged out" feelings— all due to functional periodic disturbances—start at once—try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms. Made especially for women—it helps nature! Also a grand stomachic tonic. Follow label directions.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

Stop
COLDS Relieved IN 48 HOURS BY DR. MEANS' PILLS MONEY BACK GUARANTEE BUY NOW 27¢
Be Wise

PETE SAYS

WHY WORRY? ANYTHING STRAIGHT THINKING AND HARD WORK WON'T FIX. CAN'T BE FIXED BY WORRY.

Esso
ANTI-FREEZE BATTERIES
Champion SPARK PLUGS
TIRE REPAIR SERVICE
WINTER LUBRICATION
Hartzell Esso Station
— Lincoln Highway, East of G-Highway —
Phone 449-Z

PUBLIC SALE
THURSDAY, MARCH 8TH
I will offer public sale, on account of my wife's death, consisting of real estate, farm machinery, live stock, Farm consists of 140 acres, seven-room house, wash house, milk house, four large poultry houses, two brooder houses, large bank barn, corn and machine barn, 35 acres young timber land, 50 acres blue grass pasture, balance in high state of cultivation, two wells of never-failing water runs through the farm, the farm, and a stream of never-failing water runs through farm. Anyone wanting to buy a farm, this one is the best in Adams county. Located at the former Dutler place at Golden's Station WATCH FOR LIST OF THIS SALE AT LATER DATE
E. G. WHITED

Esso
ANTI-FREEZE BATTERIES
Champion SPARK PLUGS
TIRE REPAIR SERVICE
WINTER LUBRICATION
Hartzell Esso Station
— Lincoln Highway, East of G-Highway —
Phone 449-Z

PUBLIC SALE
THURSDAY, MARCH 8TH
I will offer public sale, on account of my wife's death, consisting of real estate, farm machinery, live stock, Farm consists of 140 acres, seven-room house, wash house, milk house, four large poultry houses, two brooder houses, large bank barn, corn and machine barn, 35 acres young timber land, 50 acres blue grass pasture, balance in high state of cultivation, two wells of never-failing water runs through the farm, the farm, and a stream of never-failing water runs through farm. Anyone wanting to buy a farm, this one is the best in Adams county. Located at the former Dutler place at Golden's Station WATCH FOR LIST OF THIS SALE AT LATER DATE
E. G. WHITED

Esso
ANTI-FREEZE BATTERIES
Champion SPARK PLUGS
TIRE REPAIR SERVICE
WINTER LUBRICATION
Hartzell Esso Station
— Lincoln Highway, East of G-Highway —
Phone 449-Z

PUBLIC SALE
THURSDAY, MARCH 8TH
I will offer public sale, on account of my wife's death, consisting of real estate, farm machinery, live stock, Farm consists of 140 acres, seven-room house, wash house, milk house, four large poultry houses, two brooder houses, large bank barn, corn and machine barn, 35 acres young timber land, 50 acres blue grass pasture, balance in high state of cultivation, two wells of never-failing water runs through the farm, the farm, and a stream of never-failing water runs through farm. Anyone wanting to buy a farm, this one is the best in Adams county. Located at the former Dutler place at Golden's Station WATCH FOR LIST OF THIS SALE AT LATER DATE
E. G. WHITED

A CARLOAD OF WATKINS MINERALS
Mineralized — Iodized — Vitamized! 100% Open Formula
SPEED UP GROWTH AND PRODUCTION
SAVE VALUABLE FEED — INCREASE PROFITS

Watkins improved Mineral Compounds have proved themselves in the feed lots of America to be an outstanding mineral supplement for cattle, hogs, poultry and other livestock. Because it is a properly balanced mineral, it does help save feed.

John P. Klaassen writes, "I put my hogs on the market in six months weighing 260 pounds average and received a premium price for fine finish. These hogs received nothing but home-grown grains and Watkins Hog Mineral Compound." Watkins improved Hog Mineral Compound furnishes the necessary minerals for good solid bone structure. It improves feed efficiency.

Dependable Stock and Poultry Preparations

Protect the health of your livestock to insure steady production. Watkins Liquid or Powdered Phenothiazine is effective for removing stomach, nodular and hook worms in cattle, sheep or goats. Roundworms in hogs and cecal worms in poultry. Stop feed losses by rats with Watkins Rat Killer. Watkins Roost Paint is a quick, easy way to kill poultry mites and lice. Use Watkins Mange Oil to clean up and control mange on hogs and mange and lice on cattle. Watkins Flock Wormer treatment is a one-shot treatment for roundworms in poultry.

AMOS W. MYER GETTYSBURG ROUTE 2 — PHONE 962-R-12

V-GARDENS MORE ESSENTIAL IN '45
One reason why Victory gardens should be more extensive this year than last is the fact that commercial vegetable growers harvested five per cent fewer acres last year than in 1943 and there is no indication that there will be any increase in 1945, the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture reports.

Increasing costs for labor may bring about acreage reductions this year compared with last, observers say.

According to a survey by the Federal-State crop reporting service, the acreage of commercial truck crops harvested for fresh market in Pennsylvania, excluding strawberries, was estimated to be 34,550 acres in 1944, compared with 36,240 in 1943. Acreages of snap beans, beets, cabbage, celery, cucumbers, lettuce and fall spinach were below 1943. The dry season and shortage of help caused some growers to plant less.

In production, the 1944 estimates were higher for spring spinach and sweet corn while all other vegetables were lower than in 1943. Total

Helps Nature Relieve MONTHLY FEMALE PAIN
You who suffer such pain with tired, nervous, "dragged out" feelings— all due to functional periodic disturbances—start at once—try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms. Made especially for women—it helps nature! Also a grand stomachic tonic. Follow label directions.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

Stop
COLDS Relieved IN 48 HOURS BY DR. MEANS' PILLS MONEY BACK GUARANTEE BUY NOW 27¢
Be Wise

PETE SAYS

WHY WORRY? ANYTHING STRAIGHT THINKING AND HARD WORK WON'T FIX. CAN'T BE FIXED BY WORRY.

Esso
ANTI-FREEZE BATTERIES
Champion SPARK PLUGS
TIRE REPAIR SERVICE
WINTER LUBRICATION
Hartzell Esso Station
— Lincoln Highway, East of G-Highway —
Phone 449-Z

PUBLIC SALE
THURSDAY, MARCH 8TH
I will offer public sale, on account of my wife's death, consisting of real estate, farm machinery, live stock, Farm consists of 140 acres, seven-room house, wash house, milk house, four large poultry houses, two brooder houses, large bank barn, corn and machine barn, 35 acres young timber land, 50 acres blue grass pasture, balance in high state of cultivation, two wells of never-failing water runs through the farm, the farm, and a stream of never-failing water runs through farm. Anyone wanting to buy a farm, this one is the best in Adams county. Located at the former Dutler place at Golden's Station WATCH FOR LIST OF THIS SALE AT LATER DATE
E. G. WHITED

Esso
ANTI-FREEZE BATTERIES
Champion SPARK PLUGS
TIRE REPAIR SERVICE
WINTER LUBRICATION
Hartzell Esso Station
— Lincoln Highway, East of G-Highway —
Phone 449-Z

PUBLIC SALE
THURSDAY, MARCH 8TH
I will offer public sale, on account of my wife's death, consisting of real estate, farm machinery, live stock, Farm consists of 140 acres, seven-room house, wash house, milk house, four large poultry houses, two brooder houses, large bank barn, corn and machine barn, 35 acres young timber land, 50 acres blue grass pasture, balance in high state of cultivation, two wells of never-failing water runs through the farm, the farm, and a stream of never-failing water runs through farm. Anyone wanting to buy a farm, this one is the best in Adams county. Located at the former Dutler place at Golden's Station WATCH FOR LIST OF THIS SALE AT LATER DATE
E. G. WHITED

Esso
ANTI-FREEZE BATTERIES
Champion SPARK PLUGS
TIRE REPAIR SERVICE
WINTER LUBRICATION
Hartzell Esso Station
— Lincoln Highway, East of G-Highway —
Phone 449-Z

PUBLIC SALE
THURSDAY, MARCH 8TH
I will offer public sale, on account of my wife's death, consisting of real estate, farm machinery, live stock, Farm consists of 140 acres, seven-room house, wash house, milk house, four large poultry houses, two brooder houses, large bank barn, corn and machine barn, 35 acres young timber land, 50 acres blue grass pasture, balance in high state of cultivation, two wells of never-failing water runs through the farm, the farm, and a stream of never-failing water runs through farm. Anyone wanting to buy a farm, this one is the best in Adams county. Located at the former Dutler place at Golden's Station WATCH FOR LIST OF THIS SALE AT LATER DATE
E. G. WHITED

REEL Tire Service
DONALD C. REEL, Owner
250 Buford Ave., Gettysburg, Pa.

ANTI-FREEZE
Zeroone Thermo-Royal
Complete Line of THERMOSTATS
CHAMPION SPARK PLUGS
GENERAL BATTERIES

FALL IS FATAL
Cresson, Pa., Feb. 12 (AP)—Dr. James A. Lynch, 74, veteran of the first World War and a practicing physician 49 years in this Cambria county community, was killed yesterday in an accidental fall from a second-story window at his home.

Great Way to relieve stiffness, invite Sleep if nose fills up Tonight
It's wonderful how a little Va-tro-nol up each nostril relieves stuffy transient congestion. Also relieves distress of head cold. Follow directions in folder.

VICKS VA-TRO-NOL

at REINDOLLAR'S in FAIRFIELD
POULTRY SUPPLIES and EQUIPMENT
BROODERS
Coal — Wool — Oil
Flex-O-Glass — Vitapane
Poultry Remedies — Poultry Wire
Celoglass
Chicken Founts and Feeders
Chick Starter and Grower
Scratch Feed — Egg Mash

Garden Needs
Buist's Garden Seeds
PACKAGE — BULK
Guaranteed to Grow
Known To Many Gardeners

GARDEN TOOLS

JOHN J. REINDOLLAR
Hardware and Housewares
FAIRFIELD Phone 4 PENNSYLVANIA

Everything for the Farm and Garden
BROODERS POULTRY FEEDS
Coal — Oil — Electric Starter — Grower
Dr. Salisbury's Poultry Laying Mash
Remedies
PRESSURE COOKERS 7 Qt., 16 Pt. or 4 1/2 Gal. Capacity
GET THEM WHILE THEY'RE AVAILABLE!
PLEASE ORDER YOUR FERTILIZER EARLY!
ADAMS COUNTY FARM BUREAU CO-OPERATIVE ASSOCIATION
New Oxford Gettysburg

WELDING
ELECTRIC and ACETYLENE
Farm Machinery A SPECIALTY
Wheels Cut Down

Fairfield Garage
C. L. SHEADS FAIRFIELD

EMMITSBURG'S GARDEN HEADQUARTERS
Everything In Supplies!

✓SEEDS
✓FERTILIZERS
✓PLANT FOODS
✓RAKES OF ALL KINDS
✓HEDGE SHEARS
✓SHOVELS OF ALL KINDS
✓PRUNING SHEARS
✓PLANT FOODS

Poultry Supplies

BERNARD H. BOYLE
Emmitsburg Locker System
EMMITSBURG MARYLAND

Great Way to relieve stiffness, invite Sleep if nose fills up Tonight
It's wonderful how a little Va-tro-nol up each nostril relieves stuffy transient congestion. Also relieves distress of head cold. Follow directions in folder.

VICKS VA-TRO-NOL

at REINDOLLAR'S in FAIRFIELD
POULTRY SUPPLIES and EQUIPMENT
BROODERS
Coal — Wool — Oil
Flex-O-Glass — Vitapane
Poultry Remedies — Poultry Wire
Celoglass
Chicken Founts and Feeders
Chick Starter and Grower
Scratch Feed — Egg Mash

Garden Needs
Buist's Garden Seeds
PACKAGE — BULK
Guaranteed to Grow
Known To Many Gardeners

GARDEN TOOLS

JOHN J. REINDOLLAR
Hardware and Housewares
FAIRFIELD Phone 4 PENNSYLVANIA

Everything for the Farm and Garden
BROODERS POULTRY FEEDS
Coal — Oil — Electric Starter — Grower
Dr. Salisbury's Poultry Laying Mash
Remedies
PRESSURE COOKERS 7 Qt., 16 Pt. or 4 1/2 Gal. Capacity
GET THEM WHILE THEY'RE AVAILABLE!
PLEASE ORDER YOUR FERTILIZER EARLY!
ADAMS COUNTY FARM BUREAU CO-OPERATIVE ASSOCIATION
New Oxford Gettysburg

WELDING
ELECTRIC and ACETYLENE
Farm Machinery A SPECIALTY
Wheels Cut Down

Fairfield Garage
C. L. SHEADS FAIRFIELD

EMMITSBURG'S GARDEN HEADQUARTERS
Everything In Supplies!

✓SEEDS
✓FERTILIZERS
✓PLANT FOODS
✓RAKES OF ALL KINDS
✓HEDGE SHEARS
✓SHOVELS OF ALL KINDS
✓PRUNING SHEARS
✓PLANT FOODS

Poultry Supplies

BERNARD H. BOYLE
Emmitsburg Locker System
EMMITSBURG MARYLAND

THE GETTYSBURG TIMES
(A Daily Newspaper)
18-20 Carlisle Street
Telephone—640

Published at regular intervals
on each weekday by
Times and News Publishing Co.
A Pennsylvania Corporation
President . . . Samuel G. Spangler
Manager . . . Carl A. Baum
Editor . . . Paul L. Roy

Non-partisan in Politics
Entered at the Postoffice at Gettysburg as second class matter under the Act of March 3, 1879

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
One Week (By Carrier) . . . 12 cents
One Month (By Carrier) . . . 50 cents
One Year . . . $6.00
Single Copies . . . Three cents

Member of the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers Association and the Interstate Advertising Managers' Association.

An Associated Press Newspaper
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use, for re-publication, of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

National Advertising Representative: Fred Kimball, Incorporated, 67 W. 44th Street, New York City.

Gettysburg, Pa., February 12, 1945

Just Folks

LINCOLN
They could not see, who stood too near,
Beyond their little day,
To friends and foes his faults were clear,
But that's the common way.
Oft when of him his neighbors spoke
'Twas merely to repeat a joke.

That Lincoln loved his fellow men
They knew. They'd heard him sigh
Because for freedom once again
Brave boys were asked to die.
That he was merciful they knew,
But deeds of mercy many do.

With patience infinite he bore
The barbs of malice vile.
He wore the raincoat others wore,
According to the style.
So, not until the day he died
Did men look on his nobler side.

As then, still now it seems to be:
Man's spirit flesh conceals
And seldom lets his fellows see
The greatness time reveals.
Death was the door, and time the key
To glory's immortality!

Today's Talk

THE SINGER AND HIS SONG
The singer, the poet and the writer are for but the day, the year, or the epoch—but that which they breathed from their very souls is for all time. The song, the poem and the book are forever!

Bach still lives in his compositions. Keats, Cervantes, Shakespeare, Montaigne, and scores of others too numerous to mention share this modest home of mine. Our spirits mesh and meditate. There is feeling in the living books. Personality, too. They actually breathe! That's what keeps them alive.

Can Stephen Foster ever die? Who ever can listen to the strains of "Home, Sweet Home" without feeling the very presence of John Howard Payne? The song never dies. Its very notes intermingle with the air that we breathe.

We are, as created individuals, but mediums through which the voice of God invisibly moves, planting seeds within our consciousness that later spring into being in the shape of a song, a poem or a book. Genius is the mould that gives to the world its precious song. But it isn't genius that keeps it ever alive. Appreciation and understanding take it up from there. And all too often this phase is tragically neglected. It was a hundred years before the world awoke to the gift of its Shakespeare.

We know the singer from his song. Words and music are forged in the heart. Thereafter they seek out hearts that their very aroma may become enriched.

For centuries matchless compositions have flowed from the minds and hearts of great composers. Poets have had their names placed high upon the rolls of fame, and writers have left classics to identify them down the years. But wherever hope and happiness gain a break through the clouds of darkness or discouragement a song of joy springs from the heart. Some familiar melody or some childhood hymn is loosed anew upon the air.

Thus it is that the singer and the song become immortal, cherished within the joys of memory.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Bookseller"

CHURCH BURNS

Asbury Park, N. J., Feb. 12 (AP)—A two-hour general alarm fire early Friday destroyed the Ballard Methodist church on Asbury avenue, with damages estimated by the Rev. James Pemberton at more than $75,000. The pastor said that all documents, including baptism and marriage certificates were destroyed in the church, which was more than a half century old.

The Almanac

Feb. 13—Sun rises 7:57; sets 6:33.
Moon sets 7:49 p. m.
Feb. 14—Sun rises 7:55; sets 6:34.
Moon sets 8:03 p. m.
MOON PHASES
Feb. 12—New moon.
19—First quarter.
26—Full moon.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO
Emmitsburg and Frederick Turnpike: A project is on foot to make a turnpike road between Emmitsburg and Frederick. It is estimated that the work can be accomplished for about $36,000, and the Frederick Herald says that "several gentlemen interested in the project are willing to take stock to a considerable amount."

Married: On the 30th ult., by the Rev. Mr. Sechler, Mr. Matthew Gerber, to Miss Mary C. Clapsaddle—both of this county.

In Woodsboro, Md., on the 4th inst., Dr. Franklin J. Smith (formerly of Gettysburg), to Miss Henrietta Goering, daughter of the late Rue Goering, deceased.

Store Room and Cellar For Rent: Situated in the northeast corner of the diamond in Gettysburg, adjoining the Franklin House, now occupied by J. Cole and company. Wm. McClellan

Counting the Votes: Wednesday last was the day appointed by law for opening and counting the votes for President and Vice President of the United States given by the Electoral Colleges of the several states. Both Houses assembled in the hall of the House of Representatives, and tellers having been appointed, the several certificates were opened and the votes counted. The President of the Senate pronounced the fiat of the people in the following terms: "I do therefore declare James K. Polk, of Tennessee, having received a majority of the whole number of the electoral votes, to be duly elected President of the United States for the term of four years from the fourth of March next. He made a similar announcement of the election of George M. Dallas, of Pennsylvania, as Vice President for the same term.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
At a recent term of the Dauphin county court, John McPherson, Esq., nephew of Hon. Edward McPherson, was admitted to the Bar. He is a young man of talent, and his examination is spoken of in flattering terms by the Harrisburg papers.

Sale: Mr. Samuel Herbst has sold his new brick dwelling on Chambersburg street to Col. F. B. Pickering, of East Berlin, taking in exchange the property of Mr. Pickling on Baltimore street, now occupied by Mr. Francis Cunningham, and $2,800 cash.

Married: Arentz-Bair—On the 30th ult., by the Rev. M. J. Alleman, Mr. Albert Arentz to Miss Ellen Bair, both of this county.

Bushey-Bittinger—On the 3d inst., at the house of the bride's father, by Rev. M. Snyder, M. John F. Bushey to Miss Clara C. Bittinger, both of Arendtsville.

Hamm-Bupp—On the 3d inst., by the Rev. J. Sechler, Mr. Samuel Hamm, of York county, to Miss Susannah Bupp, of Adams county.

Myers-Arther—On the 10th inst., by the Rev. S. Yingling, Mr. Aaron A. Myers to Miss Lydia Arther, both of Union township.

Re-opened: The repairs to the Re-formed church in this place being completed, the church was opened for regular services on the 30th ult. The whole interior has been renovated, with new carpets, improved heating arrangements, and sundry improvements in the lecture room and Infant School department, all of which will promote the comfort and convenience of the congregation. Rev. Mr. Deatrich, the pastor, took advantage of the occasion to read an interesting sketch of the history of the church from its organization to the present time.

General News: San Francisco was shaken up by a small earthquake last Friday.

On Saturday, a butcher of Baltimore, named Louis Est, was arrested for selling unsound meat. He had been retailing meat which a number of butchers declared to be unfit for any purpose whatever.

The relapsing fever is again on the decline in New York city.

Just before leaving Boston, Prince Arthur sent to Miss Minnie Sherman, daughter of General Sherman, a chaste and costly gold medallion, having his likeness on one side and that of Queen Victoria on the other. Accompanying the gift was a delicately worded note.

The President will issue a proclamation declaring the Fifteenth Amendment to be part of the Constitution, previous to the New Hampshire and Connecticut elections.

The Fairfield Turnpike: We understand the committee appointed to canvass for subscription to the Fairfield and Gettysburg Turnpike company, have met with fair success. A number of farmers have shown their appreciation of the importance of the movement by making subscriptions, but there are a large number who have thus far subscribed little or nothing. If this important enterprise is to go through, the efforts of the committee should be seconded by prompt and liberal subscriptions.

FEA BROCHURE
WARNS OF PERIL
OF U.S. INVASION

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington, Feb. 12 (AP)—We're big boys now, all grown up. We tie our own ties, wash behind our own ears, and turn out the light before we go to sleep. And we're not a-seared of the bogey man.

We're only mentioning it because somebody in the Foreign Economic Administration (FEA) has just disclosed there's still a chance of this country's being invaded by way of Latin America.

Could he mean the Japanese? But we thought the Japanese couldn't even save themselves in the Philippines. Maybe he meant the Germans. But the last we heard they were being invaded themselves.

FEA Sounds Warning
The little danger note comes in a 15-page FEA document setting out to tell the American people the truth about lend-lease and explode false ideas that have grown up around it. The document is called "Lend-Lease Fact and Fiction." It lists 38 "fictions" about lend-lease and answers them with 38 "facts."

The name of the author or authors is unknown. It doesn't comment on fact that the subject of appropriating more money for lend-lease is coming up in congress.

Like "Fiction No. 23" which says: "Lend-Lease goods sent to Latin America are used in ways which have no connection with the war effort."

Invasion Insurance
Answering that, FEA explains that lend-lease goods sent to Brazil have enabled the Brazilians to clear the South Atlantic of German submarines and to equip Brazilian troops fighting beside our troops in Italy.

And the answer includes this: "Lend-lease is designed to strengthen our own national defense by strengthening friendly nations. Invasion through Latin America was considered a possibility in the early months of the war and cannot yet be completely discounted. The material we have furnished the Latin American nations has provided us insurance in case invasion of this hemisphere ever is attempted."

HOPE TO SOLVE
POLISH TROUBLE

Washington, Feb. 12 (AP)—American officials are urgently hoping that the big three will produce a formula for settling the Polish dispute.

The problem represents probably the most severe test of Allied cooperation. It can hardly be solved without some concessions by Russia, without commitments as to Poland's future by the United States and without considerable pressure by the British on some elements of the London-Polish government.

President Roosevelt is understood to have gone to the Black sea conference ready to make more far-reaching agreements than Washington would have considered possible a few weeks ago in an effort to satisfy the Russians as well as conciliatory Polish groups on future security questions.

The complexity of the task facing the big three probably has been heightened by the disclosure that the Polish government in London made an appeal to the President and to Prime Minister Churchill last Sunday to take up with Stalin the handling of officers and men of the underground units by the Russians.

SPORTS WRITER DIES

New York, Feb. 12 (AP)—Herbert A. Igoe, 67, known as "Hype Igoe," died of a heart ailment last night. He was a nationally known boxing writer for the Hearst newspapers and was a confidant of heavyweight champions from the days of James J. Corbett.

Rationing
Roundup

(By The Associated Press)
Meats, fats, etc.—Book four red stamps Q5 through S5 good through March 31. Stamps T5 through X5 good through April 28. Stamps Y5 Z5 and A-2 through D-2 good through June 2.

Processed foods — Book four blue stamps X5 through Z5 and A2 and B2 good through March 31. Stamps H2 through M2 good through June 2.

Sugar — Book four stamp 34 good for five pounds through Feb. 28. Stamp 35 valid for five pounds through June 2. Another stamp scheduled to be validated May 1.

Shoes — Book three airplane stamps 1, 2 and 3 valid indefinitely; OPA says no plans to cancel any.

Gasoline — 14-A coupons good everywhere for four gallons through March 21. B-5, C-5 and C-6 coupons good everywhere for five gallons. Fuel oil — Last year's period four and five coupons and this year's period one through four coupons good in all areas. Period five coupons good in midwest and south. All coupons good throughout current heating season.

Lincoln,
A Gag Man

By LLOYD LEWIS

Author of "Myths After Lincoln," and other Civil War biographies, "Sherman, Fighting Prophet," etc.

IN ADDITION to his greater talents, Abraham Lincoln had a gift that, were he alive today, and not employed in government, would have made him a fortune as a gag-writer for radio comedians. Insisting that he never coined any of his famous stories, he nevertheless had what the best of the radio humor writers have today, an artistic ability to rearrange, condense, rephrase and sharpen folk-jokes and comic situations into a form that was all his own.

His stories were helped immeasurably, when he told them, by his own amazing talent for quizzical, droll comedy—a delivery perhaps as funny as Mark Twain's, a use of facial expression perhaps as irresistible as Charlie Chaplin's.

He practically never employed humor except to illustrate a point that had come up in conversation and he apparently usually used a drawl for comic effect. Nevertheless, the point of his humor characteristically came with the same crisp, crackling speed used by the highest salaried gag-writers today.

AT A CHURCH meeting the rival candidates for Congress, Rev. Peter Cartwright and Lincoln, appeared before the voters. The preacher spoke first and insinuated strongly that his opponent was an agnostic, a heretic and possibly an infidel. Lincoln waited patiently. The preacher said, "Now, will all those who are going to heaven stand up?" All rose but Lincoln. Cartwright turned in triumph at having thus linked Lincoln and Satan, and cried "And Mr. Lincoln where are you going?"

Lincoln stood up and said, "I'm going to Congress."

ONCE he and a friend were discussing a profound, solemn, celebrated historian of their time. The friend said, "It may be doubted whether any man of our generation has plunged more deeply in the sacred fount of learning." Lincoln quipped, "Or come up dryer."

LINCOLN told of a friend who, when named to examine and inspect the State prisons, gave the first penitentiary so conscientious and thorough an inspection that he got lost in the dungeon corridors down among the prisoners sentenced to life imprisonment. He stepped up to the bars of one cell and said to a convict, "Excuse me, but how do you get out of this place?"

CLARENCE
SWISHER
GROCERY
Stevens Street Phone 345-W

CASH
FOR YOUR CAR
Gettysburg Motor Sales
204 Chambersburg St.

BOWL
— at the —
BOWLING CENTER
York St., Gettysburg

Flowers
for
ALL OCCASIONS
CREMER'S
HANOVER, PA.

AMOS W. MYER

GETTYSBURG ROUTE 3 — PHONE 962-R-12

tended to life imprisonment. He stepped up to the bars of one cell and said to a convict, "Excuse me, but how do you get out of this place?"

W HEN a pompous statesman was buried with extravagant ceremonies in Washington, Lincoln observed, "I he'd known what a big funeral he was going to have he'd have died long ago."

W HEN one of his brother lawyers on the circuit took the seat of his trousers, joking colleagues started signing a subscription to buy him a new pair of pants. Lincoln looked over the list of names and then solemnly wrote, "I can contribute nothing to the end in view."

W HEN asked why he seemed to avoid women, Lincoln explained that he was like a neighbor boy in Indiana who had been poorer than the Lincolns were. This boy came over one day to where young Abe was eating gingerbread men, the greatest treat on the frontier. He asked for one of the men. Abe gave it to him, then for another which Abe was starting to consume. Abe gave him that and the boy wolfed it down. "You seem to like gingerbread," said Abe.

The boy replied: "Abe, I don't s'pose anybody on earth likes gingerbread better—and gets less."

W HEN asked how his wife's aristocratic southern family, the Todds, spelled their name, with one or two "d's," he answered, "Two. One was enough for God but not for the Todds."

LINCOLN told of a father who kept urging his big, bashful son to take a wife until the young man finally burst out bawling. "All right, whose wife will I take?"

ONCE when he was confined to his office by the contagious but not serious disease, varioloid, his secretary told him that the outer office was full of those chronic beggars for political favors, the congressmen.

"Throw open the doors; let 'em in," said the President. "At last I've got something I can give 'em."

NINETY-ONE CENTS
Ninty-one cents may convince you that Vitamins do help most people get a sufficient amount of A, B, C, D, G in their daily diet.

Bender's Cut Rate

Esso
ANTI-FREEZE
BATTERIES
Champion SPARK PLUGS
TIRE REPAIR SERVICE
WINTER LUBRICATION
Hartzell Esso Station
—Lincoln Highway, East of Gurg—
Phone 449-Z

PUBLIC SALE

THURSDAY, MARCH 8TH

I will offer public sale, on account of my wife's death, consisting of real estate, farm machinery, live stock. Farm consists of 140 acres, seven-room house, wash house, milk house, four large poultry houses, two brooder houses, large bank barn, corn and machine barn, 35 acres young timber land, 50 acres blue grass pasture, balance in high state of cultivation; two wells of never-failing water runs through the farm, the farm, and a stream of never-failing water runs through farm. Anyone wanting to buy a farm, this one is the best in Adams county. Located at the former Duttera place at Gulden's Station. WATCH FOR LIST OF THIS SALE AT LATER DATE.

E. G. WHITED

A CARLOAD OF
WATKINS MINERALS

Mineralized — Iodized — Vitamized! 100% Open Formula

SPEED UP GROWTH and PRODUCTION

SAVE VALUABLE FEED — INCREASE PROFITS

Watkins improved Mineral Compounds have proved themselves in the feed lots of America to be an outstanding mineral supplement for cattle, hogs, poultry and other livestock. Because it is a properly balanced mineral, it does help save feed.

John P. Klaassen writes, "I put my hogs on the market in six months weighing 260 pounds average and received a premium price for fine finish. These hogs received nothing but home-grown grains and Watkins Hog Mineral Compound." Watkins improved Hog Mineral Compound furnishes the necessary minerals for good solid bone structure. It improves feed efficiency.

Dependable Stock and Poultry Preparations

Protect the health of your livestock to insure steady production. Watkins Liquid or Powdered Phenothiazine is effective for removing stomach, nodular and hook worms in cattle, sheep or goats. Roundworms in hogs and cecal worms in poultry. Stop feed losses by rats with Watkins Rat Killer. Watkins Roost Paint is a quick, easy way to kill poultry mites and lice. Use Watkins Mange Oil to clean up and control mange on hogs and mange and lice on cattle. Watkins Flock Wormer treatment is a one-shot treatment for roundworms in poultry.

AMOS W. MYER

GETTYSBURG ROUTE 3 — PHONE 962-R-12

Garden Activities
For February Days

Include some of the new vegetables when sending your seed order. Soil preparation for sowing seed indoors should be done now. A good mixture contains equal parts garden loam, sand and pulverized peat moss or humus. Seed pans, seed boxes and seed flats should be put in order.

See that garden tools are in good condition. Broken or worn-out parts should be replaced against the start of the gardening season.

Protect rhododendrons and boxwood from the warming rays of the sun with screens of burlap fastened to stakes.

Make the necessary repairs to cold-frame and hotbed sash. Place the sash on the coldframe to warm and dry the soil for sowing seed next month.

Pruning of fruit trees may be undertaken now.

Check up on the winter covering of plants outdoors to see that they are in place.

To control the red spider prevalent this season, examine house plants carefully and syringe the under side of the leaves with clear water.

In the ancient Roman theater actors wore symbolic colors: old men, white; young men, purple; parasites, grey; courtesians, yellow.

Helps Nature Relieve MONTHLY FEMALE PAIN
You who suffer such pain with tired, nervous, "dragged out" feelings—all due to functional periodic disturbances—start at once—try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms. Made especially for women—it helps nature! Also a grand stomachic tonic. Follow label directions.

Stop
COLDS Relieved
IN 48 HOURS BY
DR. MEANS' PILLS
MONEY BACK GUARANTEE
Be Wise BUY NOW 27¢

PETE SAYS

WHY WORRY? ANYTHING STRAIGHT THINKING AND HARD WORK WON'T FIX. CAN'T BE FIXED BY WORRYING.

Esso
ANTI-FREEZE
BATTERIES
Champion SPARK PLUGS
TIRE REPAIR SERVICE
WINTER LUBRICATION
Hartzell Esso Station
—Lincoln Highway, East of Gurg—
Phone 449-Z

PETE ALSO SAYS: When you want to have your tires recapped take them to experts who know how . . .

REEL Tire Service

DONALD C. REEL, Owner
250 Buford Ave., Gettysburg, Pa.

ANTI-FREEZE
Zerone Thermo-Royal
Complete Line of THERMOSTATS
CHAMPION SPARK PLUGS
GENERAL BATTERIES

V-GARDENS MORE
ESSENTIAL IN '45

One reason why Victory gardens should be more extensive this year than last is the fact that commercial vegetable growers harvested five per cent fewer acres last year than in 1943 and there is no indication that there will be any increase in 1945, the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture reports.

Increasing costs for labor may bring about acreage reductions this year compared with last, observers say.

According to a survey by the Federal-State crop reporting service, the acreage of commercial truck crops harvested for fresh market in Pennsylvania, excluding strawberries, was estimated to be 34,550 acres in 1944, compared with 36,240 in 1943. Acreages of snap beans, beets, cabbage, celery, cucumbers, lettuce and fall spinach were below 1943. The dry season and shortage of help caused some growers to plant less.

In production, the 1944 estimates were higher for spring spinach and sweet corn while all other vegetables were lower than in 1943. Total value for 1944 was $8,807,000, a drop of 18 per cent from the previous year.

FAIL IS FATAL

Cresson, Pa., Feb. 12 (AP)—Dr. James A. Lynch, 74, veteran of the first World War and a practicing physician 49 years in this Cambria county community, was killed yesterday in an accidental fall from a second-story window at his home.

Great Way to relieve stiffness, invite Sleep
if nose fills up
Tonight

It's wonderful how a little V-a-tro-nol up each nostril relieves stuffy transient congestion. Also relieves distress of head colds! Follow directions in folder.

VICKS VA-TRO-NOL

at REINDOLLAR'S
in FAIRFIELD

POULTRY SUPPLIES
and EQUIPMENT

BROODERS
Coal — Wool — Oil

Flex-O-Glass — Vitapane
Poultry Remedies — Poultry Wire
Celoglass

Chicken Founts and Feeders
Chick Starter and Grower
Scratch Feed — Egg Mash

Garden Needs

Buist's Garden Seeds
PACKAGE — BULK

Guaranteed to Grow
Known To Many Gardeners

GARDEN TOOLS

JOHN J. REINDOLLAR
Hardware and Housewares

FAIRFIELD Phone 4 PENNSYLVANIA

Everything for the Farm and Garden

BROODERS POULTRY FEEDS
Coal — Oil — Electric Starter — Grower
Dr. Salsbury's Poultry Remedies Laying Mash

PRESSURE COOKERS 7 Qt., 16 Pt. or 4 1/2 Gal. Capacity
GET THEM WHILE THEY'RE AVAILABLE!
PLEASE ORDER YOUR FERTILIZER EARLY!

ADAMS COUNTY FARM BUREAU
CO-OPERATIVE ASSOCIATION

New Oxford Gettysburg

WELDING

ELECTRIC and ACETYLENE

Farm Machinery A SPECIALTY

Wheels Cut Down

Fairfield Garage

C. L. SHEADS FAIRFIELD

EMMITSBURG'S GARDEN HEADQUARTERS

Everything In Supplies!

✓SEEDS
✓FERTILIZERS
✓PLANT FOODS
✓RAKES OF ALL KINDS
✓HEDGE SHEARS
✓SHOVELS OF ALL KINDS
✓PRUNING SHEARS
✓PLANT FOODS

Complete Lines of Carpenter and Building Hardware

Poultry Supplies

BERNARD H. BOYLE

Emmitsburg Locker System

EMMITSBURG MARYLAND

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

FOR SALE GENERAL

ES, WE HAVE SPRINGFILLED studio couches and sofa-beds, also a beautiful variety of overstuffed springfilled chairs as well as springfilled living room sofas as low as $109.00. York Supply Company, 43 W. Market St., York, Pa.

RESH APPLE BUTTER FOR sale. Lower's Store, Table Rock.

OR SALE: TWO MALE RAT terrier pups. Also hot water heater for car. Roy Tate, Biglerville, R. 2.

OR SALE: SCHELL'S QUALITY seeds. John A. Shultz, Fairfield, Pa.

OR SALE: HEIFER, FRESH IN a few days. Mrs. Ira Deardorff, McKnightstown.

OR SALE: OAK WOOD, SAWED stove length. C. D. Ketterman, Phone 973-R-21.

OR SALE: SEVENTEEN Chester White shoats, forty to ninety pounds. Walter Muench, Emmitsburg, R. 1.

OR SALE: GUERNSEY COW, fourth calf, close springer. Accredited herd. Also baled wheat straw. C. E. Rouzer, Biglerville.

USED FURNITURE AND STOVES. See us if you need used or rebuilt furniture, rugs or stoves. Prices reasonable. Trade-In Furniture Exchange, 55 W. Clark Ave., Rear—York Supply Co., York, Pa.

REAL ESTATE

USHERMAN BROS. REALTORS M. O. Rice, Repr. Room 2, Kadel Bldg. Res. 785 Baltimore street. Office 161-Y, Residence 182-X.

OR SALE: 80 ACRE FARM, 3 1/2 miles from Gettysburg. Good buildings. All fenced. Write Box 215, Gettysburg, R. 1.

OR SALE: SMALL PROPERTY close to Baltimore pike. Apply 238 West Middle street.

OR SALE: DESIRABLE PROPERTY 1/2 mile south of Gettysburg on Baltimore pike. Apply next door to Merle Rudisill, Phone 946-Y-2.

USED CARS FOR SALE

OR SALE: 1931 FORD ROADSTER; also Erskine panel. Both need repairs. Will sell reasonable. Apply Vernon Franklin, 30 North Washington street.

OR SALE: 1940 FORD CLUB coupe, radio and heater, good condition. Garland Baker, Phone 973-R-22.

LOST

OST: $17.00 BETWEEN MURPHY's and Willet's store. Liberal reward. Return to Mary A. Millhimes, Gettysburg, R. 3.

OST: WOMAN'S POCKETBOOK between Breckenridge street and hospital. Please return to 56 Breckenridge street.

FEMALE HELP WANTED

BIRLS, WOMEN—BE A PRACTICAL nurse—big demand, high wages—Instruction. High school not necessary. Easy to learn at home in spare time. Ages 18 to 60. War demands have caused big shortage. Prepare now for this interesting, profitable and patriotic work. Write for free information. Wayne School of Practical Nursing, 290, The Gettysburg Times.

WMC RULING—FEMALE HELP in essential activities may transfer to other essential activities only and must have statement of availability.

MALE HELP WANTED

STRUCTION, MALE WOULD like to hear from reliable man who would like to train in spare time to overhaul and install refrigeration and air conditioning equipment. Should be mechanically inclined. Will not interfere with your present work. For information about this training, write at once giving name, address, age, and your working hours. Utilities Inst., 291, The Gettysburg Times.

WANTED: MAN FOR STOCK and fruit farm, house, generous privileges, good wages. Apply Donald C. Boyer, Biglerville, R. 2, Phone 135-R-11.

WMC RULING—MALE HELP MAY be hired solely upon USES report.

WANTED: MAN FOR WATCHMAN, also men and women for general factory work. Gettysburg Furniture Company.

POSITION WANTED

MAN WITH FAMILY, EXPERIENCED in general farming and fruit growing, desires regular employment. Write Box 161, Aspers, Pa., R. 1.

FOR RENT

OR RENT: GARAGE, 220 BALTIMORE street. Apply 239 Carlisle street.

OR RENT: ROOMS. MRS. H. W. Bucher, Biglerville.

Markets

Gettysburg-Grain-Eggs

Market prices at the Gettysburg warehouse and the Egg Co-op Association reported daily as follows:

WHEAT	$1.34
EGGS	34 1/2
MEAT	45

ELLIOTT TO GET PROMOTION BUT 'BLAZE' SUFFERS

Washington, Feb. 12 (AP)—His Republican critics abandoned hope today of keeping Col. Elliott Roosevelt from becoming a brigadier general. But his globe trotting dog "Blaze" seemed about to have his day in the senate.

Senator Bushfield (R-SD), who had forced a week's delay on the Army nomination, told a reporter he expects the promotion of the President's second son to be confirmed by the senate.

But Bushfield said he wants to unburden his mind about the rapidly with which 34-year-old Elliott reached the rank of general. And, of course, there is plane-riding priority-covered Blaze.

Some of the Democrats felt it is about time people quit kicking Elliott's dog around. But critics had a military affairs sub-committee report to bark about.

"Serious Mistake" That report quoted Maj. Gen. H. L. George as saying the air transport command which he reads made a "serious mistake" in giving "Blaze" an "A" priority for an Army plane ride from Washington to Hollywood. Three service men went off the plane at Memphis to make way for some war freight, some of which in turn gave way to the crated "Blaze" who flew on.

The report said that Mrs. John Boettger, the Colonel's sister, telephoned from the White House asking that the dog be flown to the colonel's wife in California. Col. Ray W. Ireland, assistant chief of staff for priorities and traffic, set up the priority.

There was more about how Blaze had ridden to this country from England in a bomber commanded by Colonel Roosevelt, about his trip in a White House station wagon and about his final delivery to Mrs. Roosevelt in Hollywood by a major.

The report said that Mrs. John Boettger, the Colonel's sister, telephoned from the White House asking that the dog be flown to the colonel's wife in California. Col. Ray W. Ireland, assistant chief of staff for priorities and traffic, set up the priority.

There was more about how Blaze had ridden to this country from England in a bomber commanded by Colonel Roosevelt, about his trip in a White House station wagon and about his final delivery to Mrs. Roosevelt in Hollywood by a major.

The report said that Mrs. John Boettger, the Colonel's sister, telephoned from the White House asking that the dog be flown to the colonel's wife in California. Col. Ray W. Ireland, assistant chief of staff for priorities and traffic, set up the priority.

There was more about how Blaze had ridden to this country from England in a bomber commanded by Colonel Roosevelt, about his trip in a White House station wagon and about his final delivery to Mrs. Roosevelt in Hollywood by a major.

The report said that Mrs. John Boettger, the Colonel's sister, telephoned from the White House asking that the dog be flown to the colonel's wife in California. Col. Ray W. Ireland, assistant chief of staff for priorities and traffic, set up the priority.

There was more about how Blaze had ridden to this country from England in a bomber commanded by Colonel Roosevelt, about his trip in a White House station wagon and about his final delivery to Mrs. Roosevelt in Hollywood by a major.

The report said that Mrs. John Boettger, the Colonel's sister, telephoned from the White House asking that the dog be flown to the colonel's wife in California. Col. Ray W. Ireland, assistant chief of staff for priorities and traffic, set up the priority.

There was more about how Blaze had ridden to this country from England in a bomber commanded by Colonel Roosevelt, about his trip in a White House station wagon and about his final delivery to Mrs. Roosevelt in Hollywood by a major.

The report said that Mrs. John Boettger, the Colonel's sister, telephoned from the White House asking that the dog be flown to the colonel's wife in California. Col. Ray W. Ireland, assistant chief of staff for priorities and traffic, set up the priority.

There was more about how Blaze had ridden to this country from England in a bomber commanded by Colonel Roosevelt, about his trip in a White House station wagon and about his final delivery to Mrs. Roosevelt in Hollywood by a major.

The report said that Mrs. John Boettger, the Colonel's sister, telephoned from the White House asking that the dog be flown to the colonel's wife in California. Col. Ray W. Ireland, assistant chief of staff for priorities and traffic, set up the priority.

There was more about how Blaze had ridden to this country from England in a bomber commanded by Colonel Roosevelt, about his trip in a White House station wagon and about his final delivery to Mrs. Roosevelt in Hollywood by a major.

The report said that Mrs. John Boettger, the Colonel's sister, telephoned from the White House asking that the dog be flown to the colonel's wife in California. Col. Ray W. Ireland, assistant chief of staff for priorities and traffic, set up the priority.

There was more about how Blaze had ridden to this country from England in a bomber commanded by Colonel Roosevelt, about his trip in a White House station wagon and about his final delivery to Mrs. Roosevelt in Hollywood by a major.

The report said that Mrs. John Boettger, the Colonel's sister, telephoned from the White House asking that the dog be flown to the colonel's wife in California. Col. Ray W. Ireland, assistant chief of staff for priorities and traffic, set up the priority.

There was more about how Blaze had ridden to this country from England in a bomber commanded by Colonel Roosevelt, about his trip in a White House station wagon and about his final delivery to Mrs. Roosevelt in Hollywood by a major.

BY TOM WEST

YESTERDAY: Viola Thornton comes to O'Shane's rescue by dropping her pistol through the window. O'Shane holds up Baldy, the deputy, breaks jail and starts out to even scores with Wacker.

Chapter 12 La Bonita stood alone; a level stretch of waste ground about fifty yards wide separating it from the nearest building. Cutting across this the redhead made a beeline for the back door of Wacker's office.

With a sharp kick, the redhead threw the outside door open wide and stepped swiftly over the threshold.

The dance hall owner's head jerked round. Surprise and incredulity were reflected upon his smooth face as he eyed the menacing figure by the doorway, gun in hand.

"You—y—!" he gasped, shaken out of his habitual poise. Wacker's mouth tightened; a nerve at the side of his forehead vibrated incessantly. He fumbled in a drawer by his right leg.

"Keep them paws in sight, on the desk!" snapped the redhead. Obediently, Wacker laid his two white hands on the desk top. O'Shane's questioning eyes noted that the telltale nerve had ceased quivering, the tension in Wacker's face had lessened. Something had occurred to restore Wacker's self-confidence. What was it? puzzled the crouching redhead.

The question was quickly answered. The door from the dance hall flew open and two, three men, headed by Brazos, cascaded into the office.

Too late, understanding flashed into O'Shane's mind. While fumbling at the drawer, Wacker had signalled his henchmen outside. O'Shane's gun roared and the glass reservoir of the wall lamp splintered into fragments. The light flickered, died. He weaved to one side, thumbed back the hammer, snapped a shot at the onrushing men and darted towards the door through which he had entered.

Hoisting his iron, the redhead edged along the rear of the building. Through the windows poured a torrent of sound—the typpes of excited riders, the drumming of hurrying feet, the crash of an overturned table.

Then, a shouting stream of men poured out of La Bonita. Like a hunted animal, O'Shane swung round to double back upon his trail—to see another group of vague shadows in the night, round the back of the dance hall in full cry.

He was trapped! Mangled with the "typpes" of excited men and squeals of the women, the fugitive heard Wacker's deep voice as he moved through the throng, $500 gold for the man who gets O'Shane—dead or alive.

Quickly, the redhead slithered across the few yards that separated him from the building and lay outstretched, pressing close against the tinder-dry clapboards.

Under the pressure of his body, the sandy soil at the base of the building appeared to be slowly sinking. Amazed, O'Shane on toes and elbows, whip-sawed his body to and fro, like a badger burrowing to earth, finding himself rapidly dropping lower and lower.

He redoubled his desperate squirming—the earth beneath him gave way. Rolling over and over, his body tumbled beneath the building. O'Shane racked his brains to devise a way of escape. Even in the darkness, one of his pursuers would inevitably stumble over the gaping hole and investigate. Then, penned beneath La Bonita, with not more than two feet of head room, his capture was certain.

An idea flashed into his nimble brain. On hands and knees he worked his way in the pitch darkness across to the further side of the building. Finally he came up against a bank of loose earth. With cupped hands, he commenced to dig into it, upwards and outwards—to sink back again, with a grunt of disgust as soon as his eyes reached ground level. Searching men were there as well, all on the scent of Wacker's gold.

Was he to die like a rat in a trap? Something crackled beneath the fingers of his right hand. It was an old newspaper.

Clutching his find, his begrimed features twisted in a grim smile. He wormed back to the hole he had just excavated. With his jack knife he sliced splinters from a supporting beam and built a pyramid against the side of the building where the clapboards met the ground. Igniting it, he carefully fed the tiny blaze with wadded paper and chips. The flames crept up.

Crouched at the further exit, O'Shane watched the fire grow. Then, with a crackle and roar, the flames took hold. Frantic yells of "Fire! Fire!" echoed through the dance hall.

The expanse of waste ground around him was now deserted. Bending low, he ran towards the nearest building.

As O'Shane watched, the roof collapsed with a crackling roar and a million sparks shot skywards. La Bonita was doomed!

Stepping out, he bumped into Viola Thornton. Blank surprise vibrated in her tones. "I thought you were—out of town—long ago."

"Urgent business—first," he returned, nodding towards the blazing pyre of La Bonita.

The girl straightened. "Was that necessary?"

"You got me wrong, Miss Thornton," the redhead assured her earnestly. He quickly outlined his experiences since breaking jail.

"That's different! Really, Mr. O'Shane, don't you think you had better, er, spit the breeze?"

"I am to do just that," he grinned, "but I need a boss."

"I saw your roan in the corral behind the jail. Good luck!"

O'Shane grasped the small hand

Under the pressure of his body, the sandy soil at the base of the building appeared to be slowly sinking. Amazed, O'Shane on toes and elbows, whip-sawed his body to and fro, like a badger burrowing to earth, finding himself rapidly dropping lower and lower.

He redoubled his desperate squirming—the earth beneath him gave way. Rolling over and over, his body tumbled beneath the building. O'Shane racked his brains to devise a way of escape. Even in the darkness, one of his pursuers would inevitably stumble over the gaping hole and investigate. Then, penned beneath La Bonita, with not more than two feet of head room, his capture was certain.

An idea flashed into his nimble brain. On hands and knees he worked his way in the pitch darkness across to the further side of the building. Finally he came up against a bank of loose earth. With cupped hands, he commenced to dig into it, upwards and outwards—to sink back again, with a grunt of disgust as soon as his eyes reached ground level. Searching men were there as well, all on the scent of Wacker's gold.

Was he to die like a rat in a trap? Something crackled beneath the fingers of his right hand. It was an old newspaper.

Clutching his find, his begrimed features twisted in a grim smile. He wormed back to the hole he had just excavated. With his jack knife he sliced splinters from a supporting beam and built a pyramid against the side of the building where the clapboards met the ground. Igniting it, he carefully fed the tiny blaze with wadded paper and chips. The flames crept up.

Crouched at the further exit, O'Shane watched the fire grow. Then, with a crackle and roar, the flames took hold. Frantic yells of "Fire! Fire!" echoed through the dance hall.

The expanse of waste ground around him was now deserted. Bending low, he ran towards the nearest building.

As O'Shane watched, the roof collapsed with a crackling roar and a million sparks shot skywards. La Bonita was doomed!

Stepping out, he bumped into Viola Thornton. Blank surprise vibrated in her tones. "I thought you were—out of town—long ago."

"Urgent business—first," he returned, nodding towards the blazing pyre of La Bonita.

The girl straightened. "Was that necessary?"

"You got me wrong, Miss Thornton," the redhead assured her earnestly. He quickly outlined his experiences since breaking jail.

"That's different! Really, Mr. O'Shane, don't you think you had better, er, spit the breeze?"

"I am to do just that," he grinned, "but I need a boss."

"I saw your roan in the corral behind the jail. Good luck!"

O'Shane grasped the small hand

Under the pressure of his body, the sandy soil at the base of the building appeared to be slowly sinking. Amazed, O'Shane on toes and elbows, whip-sawed his body to and fro, like a badger burrowing to earth, finding himself rapidly dropping lower and lower.

He redoubled his desperate squirming—the earth beneath him gave way. Rolling over and over, his body tumbled beneath the building. O'Shane racked his brains to devise a way of escape. Even in the darkness, one of his pursuers would inevitably stumble over the gaping hole and investigate. Then, penned beneath La Bonita, with not more than two feet of head room, his capture was certain.

An idea flashed into his nimble brain. On hands and knees he worked his way in the pitch darkness across to the further side of the building. Finally he came up against a bank of loose earth. With cupped hands, he commenced to dig into it, upwards and outwards—to sink back again, with a grunt of disgust as soon as his eyes reached ground level. Searching men were there as well, all on the scent of Wacker's gold.

Was he to die like a rat in a trap? Something crackled beneath the fingers of his right hand. It was an old newspaper.

Clutching his find, his begrimed features twisted in a grim smile. He wormed back to the hole he had just excavated. With his jack knife he sliced splinters from a supporting beam and built a pyramid against the side of the building where the clapboards met the ground. Igniting it, he carefully fed the tiny blaze with wadded paper and chips. The flames crept up.

Crouched at the further exit, O'Shane watched the fire grow. Then, with a crackle and roar, the flames took hold. Frantic yells of "Fire! Fire!" echoed through the dance hall.

The expanse of waste ground around him was now deserted. Bending low, he ran towards the nearest building.

As O'Shane watched, the roof collapsed with a crackling roar and a million sparks shot skywards. La Bonita was doomed!

Stepping out, he bumped into Viola Thornton. Blank surprise vibrated in her tones. "I thought you were—out of town—long ago."

"Urgent business—first," he returned, nodding towards the blazing pyre of La Bonita.

The girl straightened. "Was that necessary?"

"You got me wrong, Miss Thornton," the redhead assured her earnestly. He quickly outlined his experiences since breaking jail.

"That's different! Really, Mr. O'Shane, don't you think you had better, er, spit the breeze?"

"I am to do just that," he grinned, "but I need a boss."

"I saw your roan in the corral behind the jail. Good luck!"

O'Shane grasped the small hand

Predict Meatless Summer For Many

Washington, Feb. 12 (AP)—It may be a meatless summer for a lot of people.

New government food estimates are that this year's consumption of meat per civilian will be between 120 and 132 pounds. This would be the smallest since 1935 when per capita consumption was 116 pounds. It compares with a figure of 147 last year.

There are two principal factors: much smaller total meat production than had been expected and the usual sharp drop in livestock marketing that comes with the spring and summer months.

The combination of these two factors means that the government will have to take a lot of meat, which might have gone to civilians, and use it instead of the armed forces and for lend-lease.

Far out on the flats, O'Shane reined up and commented soberly, "I guess I raked in the pot."

To be continued

Soldier Vote Acts Gets 'Clear Track'

Harrisburg, Feb. 12 (AP)—Bipartisan soldier vote legislation received a clear track in the assembly today as the Republican administration took steps to soften objections to other major GOP proposals.

Co-sponsored in the house by the majority and minority party leaders; measures to advance the municipal primary from Sept. 11 to June 19 and make it easier for GIs to vote in the November election this year were in position for final action in the lower branch tomorrow. Senate action may come next week.

Coal industry representatives, reportedly opposed to provisions of an administration bill to halt pollution of Pennsylvania streams, will meet tomorrow with members of Governor Martin's cabinet to discuss this and proposals to liberalize compensation laws and regulate strip of surface mining.

To be continued

Automobile For Sale

Seven passenger Packard Sedan, ideal car for Defense Workers transportation. A-1 condition.

NELSON O. SIXEAS

217 North Stratton Street Gettysburg — Phone 38-W

PUBLIC SALE

The undersigned will have public sale in Emmitsburg, Md., on

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 17, 1945

Commencing promptly at 10 o'clock, A. M., E.W.T., the following personal property, to-wit:

Three Head of Horses

21 Head of Cattle

Twenty cows, Guernseys and Holsteins, one pure-bred Holstein bull, name Rex Apple Ormsby Meg, 2 years old. Most of these cows will be fresh in February and March; 6 others are heifers, carrying first calf.

Farming Implements

Farnall-Ho tractor, with corn workers; No. 25 tractor mower, tractor manure spreader, corn binder with horse and tractor hitch, good as new; side rake and tedder, hay loader, Hoosier grain drill, new corn planter, 12-inch tractor plow, 2-horse wagon with new bed, 2 hay carriages, tractor disk soil pulverizer, garden planter, 1-horse planter, hay tedder, two 2-horse cultivators, one new; horse mower, 3-section harrow, set breechbands, harness, several collars and pads, check lines, two sleighs, low down barn wagon.

At the same time and place the following new machinery:

Two Greencrop hay loaders, one horse mower, three 12-inch tractor plows, one steel farm wagon, one 200-H horse spreader.

Dairy Equipment

One McCormick-Deering milk cooler, used two years; 5- and 7-gallon milk cans, strainer, one 300-gallon brine tank, aerator and circulating pump with 1/4-horse motor, lot of chicken feeders, other things too numerous to mention.

At the same time and place, Mr. Meade Eyer will offer the following:

Household and Kitchen Furniture

Green and ivory enamel kitchen range, kitchen cabinet, refrigerator, 75-lb capacity; steel cabinet, work table and all kitchen utensils; dining extension table, 12-14; 7 straight chairs, buffet, good Singer sewing machine, extra fixtures, 9x12 wool living room rug, studio couch and three pillows, library table, two rocking chairs, stove antique spool wheel, not bedroom suite, two iron beds and dresser, ironing board, three 9x12, one 9x18 Congoleum rugs, all like new; and other articles too numerous to mention.

Terms—Cash. Full settlement on day of sale.

B. D. MARTIN

Harry Trout, Auctioneer

Weybright and Grimes, Clerks

PUBLIC SALE

Valuable Real Estate and Household Goods

Saturday, March 3, 1945

On Saturday, March 3, 1945, at 1:00 o'clock P. M., the Attorneys-in-Fact for the devisees under the will of David T. Koser, deceased, late of the Borough of Gettysburg, Adams County, Pennsylvania, will offer at public sale on the premises lately occupied by Sarah E. Koser, now deceased the following real estate and household goods:

REAL ESTATE

ALL THAT RESIDENCE KNOWN AS 133 EAST WATER STREET IN THE BOROUGH OF GETTYSBURG, ADAMS COUNTY, PENNSYLVANIA, consisting of lot of ground having a frontage of 50 feet, more or less along the North side of East Water Street, with a depth of 139 feet, more or less, bounded on the West by lot of Rebecca Adams and Irene Wolfe; and on the East by lot of Paul Reaver; improved with a SINGLE FRAME EIGHT ROOM DWELLING HOUSE WITH ALL CONVENIENCES, including bath, electricity, gas, and oil burner hot water heating system.

This attractive property is located in a desirable and convenient residential section of Gettysburg.

HOUSEHOLD GOODS

ALL OF THE FOLLOWING HOUSEHOLD GOODS AND FURNISHINGS LOCATED IN THE ABOVE DWELLING, INCLUDING MANY ANTIQUES; GRANDFATHER'S CLOCK, stands, tables, chairs, rocking chairs, bedroom suites, kerosene stove, GAS RANGE, pictures and mirrors, small cradle, child's rocking chair, TWO RADIOS (One late model RCA) bureau scarfs, large and small rugs, dining room table and chairs, studio couch, china closet, dishes and chinaware including Haviland china, electric clock, small safe, kitchen cabinet, pots and pans, ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR, ELECTRIC HEATER, sideboard, ELECTRIC SWEEPER, washing machine, garden hose, shovels, tools, canned fruit and preserves, lawn mower, congoium rugs, cot, springs and mattresses, chests of drawers, SEWING MACHINE, sewing table, window shades and curtains, porch swing, trunk, ANTI

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

FOR SALE GENERAL

ES, WE HAVE SPRINGFILLED studio couches and sofa-beds, also a beautiful variety of overstuffed springfilled chairs as well as springfilled living room suites as low as $109.00. York Supply Company, 43 W. Market St., York, Pa.

FRESH APPLE BUTTER FOR sale. Lower's Store, Table Rock.

OR SALE: TWO MALE RATTIER pups. Also hot water heater for car. Roy Tate, Biglerville, R. 2.

OR SALE: SCHELL'S QUALITY seeds. John A. Shultz, Fairfield, Pa.

OR SALE: HEIPER, FRESH IN a few days. Mrs. Ira Deardorff, McKnightstown.

OR SALE: OAK WOOD, SAWED stove length. C. D. Ketterman, Phone 973-R-21.

OR SALE: SEVENTEEN CHEF-ter White shoats, forty to ninety pounds. Walter Muench, Emmitsburg, R. 1.

OR SALE: GUERNSEY COW, fourth calf, close springer. Accredited herd. Also baled wheat straw. C. E. Rouzer, Biglerville.

USED FURNITURE AND STOVES. See us if you need used or re-built furniture, rugs or stoves. Prices reasonable. Trade-In Furniture Exchange, 55 W. Clark Ave., Rear—York Supply Co., York, Pa.

REAL ESTATE

AUSHMAN BROS. REALTORS
M. O. Rice, Repr. Room 2, Kadel Bldg. Res. 785 Baltimore street. Office 161-Y, Residence 182-X.

FOR SALE: 80 ACRE FARM, 3 1/2 miles from Gettysburg. Good buildings. All fenced. Write Box 215, Gettysburg R. 1.

FOR SALE: SMALL PROPERTY close to Baltimore pike. Apply 238 West Middle street.

FOR SALE: DESIRABLE PROPERTY 1/2 mile south of Gettysburg on Baltimore pike. Apply next door to Merle Rudisill. Phone 946-Y-2.

USED CARS FOR SALE

FOR SALE: 1931 FORD ROADster; also Erskine panel. Both need repairs. Will sell reasonable. Apply Vernon Franklin, 30 North Washington street.

FOR SALE: 1940 FORD CLUB coupe, radio and heater, good condition. Garland Baker, Phone 972-R-22.

LOST

LOST: $17.00 BETWEEN Murphy's and Wille's store. Liberal reward. Return to Mary A. Millhimes, Gettysburg R. 3.

LOST: WOMAN'S POCKETBOOK, between Breckenridge street and hospital. Please return to 56 Breckenridge street.

FEMALE HELP WANTED

GIRLS, WOMEN — BE A PRACTICAL nurse — big demand, high wages — Instruction. High school not necessary. Easy to learn at home in spare time. Ages 18 to 60. War demands have caused big shortage. Prepare now for this interesting, profitable and patriotic work. Write for free information. Wayne School of Practical Nursing, 290, The Gettysburg Times.

WMC RULING — FEMALE HELP in essential activities may transfer to other essential activities only and must have statement of availability.

MALE HELP WANTED

INSTRUCTION, MALE, WOULD like to hear from reliable men who would like to train in spare time to overhaul and install refrigeration and air conditioning equipment. Should be mechanically inclined. Will not interfere with your present work. For information about this training, write at once giving name, address, age, and your working hours. Utilities Inst., 291, The Gettysburg Times.

WANTED: MAN FOR STOCK and fruit farm, house, generous privileges, good wages. Apply Donald C. Boyer, Biglerville R. 2. Phone 135-R-11.

WMC RULING — MALE HELP MAY be hired solely upon USES referral.

WANTED: MAN FOR WATCHMAN, also men and women for general factory work, Gettysburg Furniture Company.

POSITION WANTED

MAN WITH FAMILY, EXPERIENCED in general farming and fruit growing, desires regular employment. Write Box 161, Aspers, Pa., R. 1.

FOR RENT

FOR RENT: GARAGE, 230 BALTIMORE street. Apply 239 Carlisle street.

FOR RENT: ROOMS, MRS. H. W. Bucher, Biglerville.

Markets

Gettysburg-Grain-Eggs

Market prices at the Gettysburg warehouse and the Egg Co-op Association corrected daily as follows:

WHEAT $1.58

EGGS 41 1/2

Ducks 34 1/2

46

ELLIOTT TO GET PROMOTION BUT 'BLAZE' SUFFERS

Washington, Feb. 12 (AP) — His Republican critics abandoned hope today of keeping Col. Elliott Roosevelt from becoming a brigadier general. But his globe trotting dog "Blaze" seemed about to have his day in the senate.

Senator Bushfield (R-SD), who had forced a week's delay on the Army nomination, told a reporter he expects the promotion of the President's second son to be confirmed by the senate.

But Bushfield said he wants to unburden his mind about the rapidly with which 34-year-old Elliott reached the rank of general. And, of course, there is plane-riding priority-covered Blaze.

Some of the Democrats felt it is about time people quit kicking Elliott's dog around. But critics had a military affairs sub-committee report to bark about.

"Serious Mistake"
That report quoted Maj. Gen. H. L. George as saying the air transport command which he reads made a "serious mistake" in giving "Blaze" an "A" priority for an Army plane ride from Washington to Hollywood. Three service men went off the plane at Memphis to make way for some war freight, some of which in turn gave way to the crated "Blaze" who flew on.

The report said that Mrs. John Boettger, the Colonel's sister, telephoned from the White House asking that the dog be flown to the Colonel's wife in California. Col. Ray W. Ireland, assistant chief of staff for priorities and traffic, set up the priority.

There was more about how Blaze had ridden to this country from England in a bomber commanded by Colonel Roosevelt, about his trip in a White House station wagon and about his final delivery to Mrs. Roosevelt in Hollywood by a major.

The WOMAN'S BIBLE CLASS OF Zion Lutheran Church, Fairfield, will hold a baked ham and oyster supper Saturday, February 17 in the Old Fellows Hall, start serving at 5 p. m. Prices, adults 55c, children 35c, dessert included.

A SQUARE DANCE WILL BE held Friday evening, February 16 at The Cashdown Community fire hall for benefit of the fire company. George Pecher and the Fairfield Hill Billies will furnish the music. Dancing at 8:30.

WALL PAPER AND PAPERHANGING, Harry Gilbert.

WE REPAIR ALL MAKES WASHERS and radios. For sale used and new furniture, beds, springs, mattresses, cribs, kerosene and coal ranges. Heatrola coal ranges, new and used studio couches. Ditzler's Auction Room, Biglerville. Phone 138-R-2.

PUBLIC SALE: FRIDAY, MAR. 2. Cover Woerner, Gettysburg R. 3.

BINGO: KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS, Center Square, every Monday night, 8 o'clock. Public invited and welcome. Best in variety and quality.

NOTICE: HAVING SOLD MY farm, will sell all my farming equipment at public sale, March 24. Ray Showers, one and one-fourth mile north of Wrenksville.

PRIVATE TUTORING TO school students or adults in commercial or general mathematics, bookkeeping, English, Latin, German, French, Spanish. Phone 267-W.

CARD OF THANKS
We express our sincere thanks to friends and neighbors for their kindnesses, floral tributes, and use of cars during the death of Stephen Wagaman, Mrs. William F. Abell, Sr., and Mrs. Stephen Wagaman.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE

In re: Estate of George R. Wolkert, late of Butler Township, Adams County, Pennsylvania, deceased.
Notice is hereby given to all parties interested that the widow's appointment in the above entitled estate was filed in the Orphans' Court of Adams County, Pennsylvania, and confirmed nisi on the 15th day of January, 1945, and that the same will be confirmed absolutely, unless exceptions be filed thereto, within thirty days from said confirmation nisi.

SWOPE, BROWN & SWOPE, Attorneys

Will Explain New Cattle Ceilings

Slaughterers and cattle dealers from throughout this 10-county district are being urged by the Office of Price Administration to attend a meeting to be held in the Lancaster county courthouse Wednesday evening at which time the new OPA livestock ceiling price regulation will be fully explained. The meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p. m.

Since the announcement a month ago that ceiling prices were to be established on live bovine animals effective January 29, OPA has advised and consulted with representative members of the industry affected by the regulations.

This new order establishes the maximum percentage of the two top grades of cattle that any slaughterer can have in his monthly slaughter drove at any establishment during each of the next two months.

To iron out all existing confusion among slaughterers and cattle dealers of this 10-county area, the Harrisburg district OPA office, arranged for the open meeting to be held Wednesday. It will be conducted by Joel Thornton, chief of meats, fish, poultry and dairy products price division of the New York regional office, together with associates from the regional OPA office.

In ancient Rome, shopping for the family was regarded as man's work.

Here And There

News Collected At Random

(Continued from Page 1)

paragraph seems particularly appropriate at this time:

"Observe good faith and justice towards all nations. Cultivate peace and harmony with all. Religion and morality enjoin this conduct; and can it be that good policy does not equally enjoin it? It will be worthy of a free, enlightened, and at no distant period, a great nation, to give to mankind the magnanimous and too novel example of a people always guided by an exalted justice and benevolence. Who can doubt that in the course of time and things the fruits of such a plan would richly repay any temporary advantages that might be lost by a steady adherence to it? Can it be that Providence has connected the permanent felicity of a nation with its virtue? The experiment, at least, is recommended by every sentiment which ennobles human nature. Alas! it is rendered impossible by its vices."

In the last paragraph of his Second Inaugural Address is found the best expression of Lincoln's magnanimity which sounded a new and unheard note in military statesmanship:

"WITH MALICE TOWARDS NONE, WITH CHARITY FOR ALL, WITH FIRMNESS IN THE RIGHT AS GOD GIVES US TO SEE THE RIGHT, LET US STRIVE ON TO FINISH THE WORK WE ARE IN."

Lincoln once wrote:

"If any personal description of me is thought desirable, it may be said I am, in height, six feet, seven inches, nearly; lean in flesh, weighing on an average one hundred and eighty pounds; dark complexion, with coarse black hair, and grey eyes—no other marks or brands recollected."

See Basis For Many Postwar Businesses

Washington, Feb. 12 (AP)—The government's vast investment in the light metals, aluminum and magnesium, may become the basis of founding 60,000 new business enterprises after the war if hearings to be started February 27 by the Senate Small Business Committee have satisfactory results.

Senator Murray (D-Mont.), committee chairman, said ways will be sought to dispose of the government's holdings to promote healthy competition, fortify the small business system and get new firms into the field.

"This is to be no witch hunt but the cooperative effort of private industry, big and little, with government to develop the full facts surrounding the light metals industries and the problems of disposing of the government's huge holdings in them," Murray said.

Tony De Marco has never had a dancing lesson in his life but makes $2,250 a week dancing in night clubs.

Meddling Meddler

BY TOM WEST

AP Newsfeatures

YESTERDAY: Viola Thornton comes to O'Shane's rescue by dropping her pistol through the window. Amazed, O'Shane on toes and elbows, whip-sawed his body to aid her, like a badger burrowing to earth, finding himself rapidly dropping lower and lower.

Chapter 12
La Bonita stood alone, a level stretch of waste ground about fifty yards wide separating it from the nearest building. Cutting across this the redhead made a beeline for the back door of Wacker's office.

With a sharp kick, the redhead threw the outside door open wide and stepped swiftly over the threshold.

The dance hall owner's head jerked round. Surprise and incredulity were reflected upon his smooth face as he eyed the menacing figure by the doorway, gun in hand.

"You—y—!" he gasped, shaken out of his habitual poise. Wacker's mouth tightened; a nerve at the side of his forehead vibrated incessantly. He fumbled in a drawer by his right leg.

"Keep them paws in sight, on the desk!" snapped the redhead. Obediently, Wacker laid his two white hands on the desk top.

O'Shane's questioning eyes noted that the telltale nerve had ceased quivering, the tension in Wacker's face had lessened. Something had occurred to restore Wacker's self-confidence. What was it? puzzled the crouching redhead.

The question was quickly answered. The door from the dance hall flew open and two, three men, headed by Brazos, cascaded into the office.

Too late, understanding flashed into O'Shane's mind. While fumbling at the drawer, Wacker had signalled his henchmen outside.

O'Shane's gun roared and the glass reservoir of the wall lamp splintered into fragments. The light flickered, died. He weaved to one side, thumbed back the hammer, snapped a shot at the onrushing men and darted towards the door through which he had entered.

Holstering his iron, the redhead edged along the rear of the building. Through the windows poured a torrent of sound — the typpoes of excited riders, the drumming of hurrying feet, the crash of an overturned table.

Then, a shouting stream of men poured out of La Bonita.

Like a hunted animal, O'Shane swung round to double back upon his trail—to see another group vague shadows in the night, round the back of the dance hall in full cry.

He was trapped! Mingled with the "typpoes" of excited men and squeals of the women, the fugitive heard Wacker's deep voice as he moved through the throng, $500 gold for the man who gets O'Shane—dead or alive.

Quickly, the redhead slithered across the few yards that separated him from the building and lay outstretched, pressing close against the tinderdry clapboards.

O'Shane grasped the small hand

Under the pressure of his body, the sandy soil at the base of the building appeared to be slowly sinking. Amazed, O'Shane on toes and elbows, whip-sawed his body to aid her, like a badger burrowing to earth, finding himself rapidly dropping lower and lower.

He redoubled his desperate squirming — the earth beneath him gave way. Rolling over and over, his body tumbled beneath the building.

O'Shane racked his brains to devise a way of escape. Even in the darkness, one of his pursuers would inevitably stumble over the gaping hole and investigate. Then, penned beneath La Bonita, with not more than two feet of head room, his capture was certain.

An idea flashed into his nimble brain. On hands and knees he worked his way in the pitch darkness across to the further side of the building. Finally he came up against a bank of loose earth. With cupped hands, he commenced to dig into it, upwards and outwards—to sink back again, with a grunt of disgust as soon as his eyes reached ground level. Searching men were there as well, all on the scent of Wacker's gold.

Was he to die like a rat in a trap? Something crackled beneath the fingers of his right hand. It was an old newspaper.

Clutching his find, his begrimed features twisted in a grim smile. He wormed back to the hole he had just excavated. With his jack knife he sliced splinters from a supporting beam and built a pyramid against the side of the building where the clapboards met the ground. Igniting it, he carefully fed the tiny blaze with wadded paper and chips. The flames crept up.

Crouched at the further exit, O'Shane watched the fire grow. Then, with a crackle and roar, the flames took hold. Frantic yells of "Fire! Fire!" echoed through the dance hall.

The expanse of waste ground around him was now deserted. Bending low, he ran towards the nearest building.

As O'Shane watched, the roof collapsed with a crackling roar and a million sparks shot skywards. La Bonita was doomed!

Stepping out, he bumped into Viola Thornton. Blank surprise vibrated in her tones. "I thought you were—out of town—long ago."

"Urgent business—first," he returned, nodding towards the blazing pyre of La Bonita.

The girl straightened. "Was that necessary?"

"You got me wrong, Miss Thornton," the redhead assured her earnestly. He quickly outlined his experiences since breaking jail.

"That's different! Really, Mr. O'Shane, don't you think you had better, er, split the breeze?"

"I am to do just that," he grinned, "but I need a hoist."

"I saw your roan in the corral behind the jail. Good luck!"

O'Shane grasped the small hand

Predict Meatless Summer For Many

Washington, Feb. 12 (AP)—It may be a meatless summer for a lot of people.

New government food estimates are that this year's consumption of meat per civilian will be between 120 and 132 pounds. This would be the smallest since 1935 when per capita consumption was 116 pounds. It compares with a figure of 147 last year.

There are two principal factors: much smaller total meat production than had been expected and the usual sharp drop in livestock marketing that comes with the spring and summer months.

The combination of these two factors means that the government will have to take a lot of meat, which might have gone to civilians, and use it instead of the armed forces and for lend-lease.

"Reckon I owe you plenty, ma'am."

Far out on the flats, O'Shane reined up and commented soberly, "I guess I raked in the pot."

To be continued

Soldier Vote Acts Gets 'Clear Track'

Harrisburg, Feb. 12 (AP) — Bipartisan soldier vote legislation received a clear track in the assembly today as the Republican administration took steps to soften objections to other major GOP proposals.

Co-sponsored in the house by the majority and minority party leaders, measures to advance the municipal primary from Sept. 11 to June 19 and make it easier for GI's to vote in the November election this year were in position for final action in the lower branch tomorrow. Senate action may come next week.

Coal industry representatives, reportedly opposed to provisions of an administration bill to halt pollution of Pennsylvania streams, will meet tomorrow with members of Governor Martin's cabinet to discuss this and proposals to liberalize compensation laws and regulate strip or surface mining.

At the same time and place, Mr. Meade Eyer will offer the following:

Household and Kitchen Furniture.
Green and ivory enamel kitchen range, kitchen cabinet, refrigerator, 75-lb. capacity; steel cabinet, work table and all kitchen utensils, dining extension table, 12-ft.; 7 straight chairs, buffet, good Singer sewing machine, extra fixtures, 9x12 wool living room rug, studio couch and three pillows, library table, two rocking chairs, stove antique spool what-not, bedroom suite, two iron beds and dresser, ironing board, three 9x12, one 9x18 Congoileum rugs, all like new; and other articles too numerous to mention.

Terms—Cash. Full settlement on day of sale.

B. D. MARTIN
Harry Trout, Auctioneer
Weybright and Grimes, Clerks

PUBLIC SALE

Valuable Real Estate and Household Goods
Saturday, March 3, 1945

On Saturday, March 3, 1945, at 1:00 o'clock P. M., the Attorneys-in-Fact for the devisees under the will of David T. Koser, deceased, late of the Borough of Gettysburg, Adams County, Pennsylvania, will offer at public sale on the premises lately occupied by Sarah E. Koser, now deceased the following real estate and household goods:

REAL ESTATE

ALL THAT RESIDENCE KNOWN AS 133 EAST WATER STREET IN THE BOROUGH OF GETTYSBURG, ADAMS COUNTY, PENNSYLVANIA, consisting of lot of ground having a frontage of 50 feet, more or less along the North side of East Water Street, with a depth of 139 feet, more or less, bounded on the West by lot of Rebecca Adams and Irene Wolfe; and on the East by lot of Paul Weaver; improved with a SINGLE FRAME EIGHT ROOM DWELLING HOUSE WITH ALL CONVENIENCES, including bath, electricity, gas, and oil burner hot water heating system.

This attractive property is located in a desirable and convenient residential section of Gettysburg.

HOUSEHOLD GOODS

ALL OF THE FOLLOWING HOUSEHOLD GOODS AND FURNISHINGS LOCATED IN THE ABOVE DWELLING, INCLUDING MANY ANTIQUES: GRANDFATHER'S CLOCK, stands, tables, chairs, rocking chairs, bedroom suites, kerosene stove, GAS RANGE, pictures and mirrors, small cradle, child's rocking chair, TWO RADIOS (One late model RCA) bureau scarfs, large and small rugs, dining room table and chairs, studio couch, china closet, dishes and chinaware including Haviland china, electric clock, small safe, kitchen cabinet, pots and pans, ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR, ELECTRIC HEATER, sideboard, ELECTRIC SWEEPER, washing machine, garden hose, shovels, tools, canned fruit and preserves, lawn mower, congoileum rugs, cot, springs and mattresses, chests of drawers, SEWING MACHINE, sewing table, window shades and curtains, porch swing, trunk, ANTIQUE CHAIRS, settee, high-chair, step ladder, electric lamps and shades, pillows and cushions, galvanized tub, shawls, linens, bed coverings and card table.

Terms will be made known at time of sale.

RUTH ELDA KOSER,
VIDA ELLEN RICE,

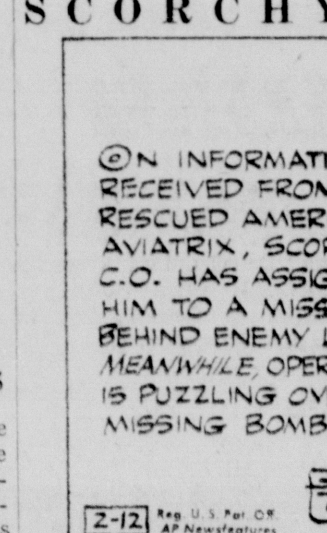

Attorneys-in-Fact

J. Arthur Boyd, Auctioneer
Keith, Bigham & Markley, Attorneys.

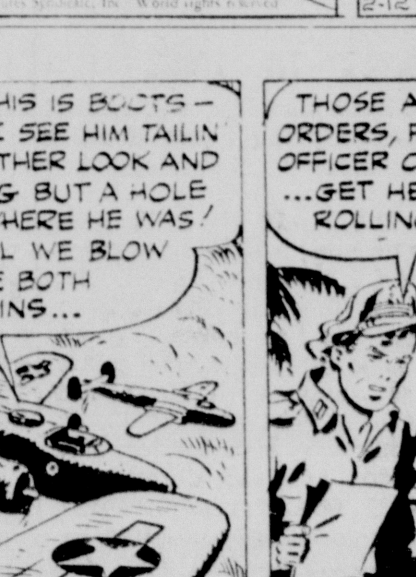

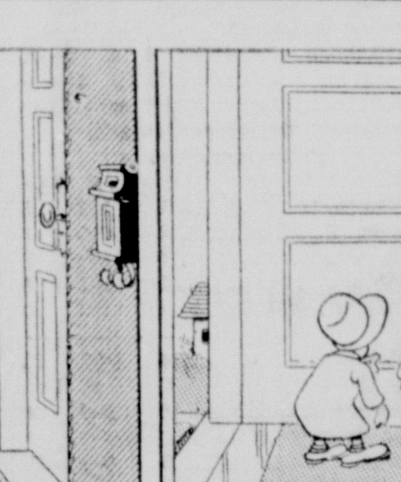

BLONDIE

SCORCHY SMITH

POPEYE

Automobile For Sale

Seven passenger Packard Sedan, ideal car for Defense Workers transportation. A-1 condition.

NELSON O. SIXEAS
217 North Stratton Street
Gettysburg — Phone 38-W

PUBLIC SALE

The undersigned will have public sale in Emmitsburg, Md., on

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 17, 1945
Commencing promptly at 10 o'clock, A. M. E.W.T., the following personal property, to-wit:

Three Head of Horses
21 Head of Cattle
Twenty cows, Guernseys and Holsteins, one pure-bred Holstein bull, name Rag Apple Ormsby Meg, 2 years old. Most of these cows will be fresh in February and March; 6 others are heifers, carrying first calf.

Farming Implements
Farmall-H tractor, with corn workers; No. 25 tractor mower, tractor manure spreader, corn binder with horse and tractor hitch, good as new; side rake and tedder, hay loader, Hoosier grain drill, new corn planter, 12-inch tractor plow, 2-horse wagon with new bed, 2 hay carriages, tractor disc soil pulverizer, garden planter, 1-horse planter, hay tedder, two 2-horse cultivators, one new; horse mower, 3-section harrow, set breechbands, harness, several collars and pads, check lines, two sleighs, low down barn wagon.

At the same time and place the following new machinery:

Two Greencrop hay loaders, one horse mower, three 12-inch tractor plows, one steel farm wagon, one 200-H horse spreader.

Builds on Sale Day and Night! — Immediate Delivery

MAJESTIC Today and Tomorrow
Features 7:30 - 7:25 - 9:30

GARY LEAN BRAND ON MERLE!

THE COOPER BRAND OF ROMANCE!

SAMUEL GOLDWYN
GARY COOPER
MERLE OBERON
THE Cowboy AND the Lady

with PATSY KELLY - WALTER BRENNAN
PUZZY KNIGHT - MARIE TODD - HENRY KOLKER

World's Latest News Events

Keep Your Car In
GOOD CONDITION

Motor Tuneup Carburetor Service
Brake Service Wheel Balancing
Front End Alignment Complete Motor Overhaul

NO WAITING

Body and Fender Work
Washing — Simonizing — Lubrication
US Tires — Delco Batteries — Fleet-Wing Products

GLENN L. BREAM

Olds — Cadillac Sales and Service
100 BUFORD AVE.

Bendersville Community Hall
FEBRUARY 13TH

SHORTY FINCHER and his PRAIRIE PALS

Featuring Ray Myers, the Armless Wonder Doing
Things You Must See To Believe

Show Starts at 8:00 P. M.

SAVE COSTLY OVERHAULS
WITH A
NEW MOTOR

Sometimes it's cheaper to replace than repair. This very often applies to motor overhaul jobs. The installation of a complete NEW motor saves considerable time and assures new car or truck performance.

Before investing in what may turn out to be a costly overhaul, first investigate the advantages of installing a new motor assembly. You will get lower operating costs and better performance.

GETTYSBURG MOTOR SALES

GATES Glenn C. Bream ALBERT
TIRES and TUBES PLYMOUTH CHRYSLER LUBRICATION

Open 7 to 9 — PHONE 484 — Closed Sundays

PAUL B. WENGER, Auct. RAIFSNIDER & GINGRICH, Clerks.

PUBLIC SALE
OF PERSONAL PROPERTY
FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 16, 1945

The undersigned, intending to quit farming, will sell at public sale on his farm known as Ash Spring Farm, 2 miles east of Greencastle, on Route 16, on above date, the following personal property:

38 HEAD OF HOLSTEIN CATTLE—19 are milk cows, most of which will be fresh by day of sale; 5 Bulls of serviceable age, 14 Young Heifers and Bulls, 1 to 4 months old. This herd is Registered, T.B. tested and certified blood tested.

HORSES—Gray horse, 6 years old; Bay horse, 5 years old; Bay mare, 5 years old. Horses to be sold before the cattle.

FARM MACHINERY—Horse wagon with 20 ft. hay carriers, low-down wagon with 20 ft. flat 2-horse wagon with bed, McCormick Deering Farm Machinery—8 ft. binder, 5 ft. mower, hay loader with closed bottom, side rake, dump rake, grain drill, 10 disc corn planter with fertilizer attachment, 2 riding corn plows, cultipacker, New Idea manure spreader, 2 No. 30 Syracuse barshare plows, 2 22-tooth spring harrows, hay tedder, log land-roller.

POWER MACHINERY—Farmall F 20 Tractor on rubber with McCormick-Deering cultivators, John Deere disc plow, good as new; disc harrow, 7 ft.; John Deere-Deering power mower, 7 ft.; Bear Cat hammermill, 10 in., good as new; 6-in. endless belt 60 ft.; fodder shredder, wheelbarrow. This machinery is in very good condition mostly nearly new.

HORSE GEARS—2 sets Yankee fronts, good as new; 3 sets Yankee breechings, pair check lines, good as new; plow lines, bridles, collars, halters, single, double and triple trees, spreaders, jockey sticks, grain cradle, shovels, forks, and many articles too numerous to mention.

DAIRY EQUIPMENT—Surge milker complete with 2 single units, 17 milk cans, buckets and strainers.

Sale will begin at 11 A. M. TERMS CASH.

SAMUEL HYKES

RADIO PROGRAMS

New York, Feb. 12 (AP)—The St. Louis Post-Dispatch, which also owns and operates station KSD, is continuing its campaign against what it describes as the use of "interrupting middle commercials" in news broadcasts. It also objects to sponsorship of news programs by what it classifies as "objectionable advertisers."

The newspaper also is directing its campaign toward a type of radio advertising which it prefers to as not in "good taste."

MONDAY
6:00-W. 454M
4:00-Stage Wife
4:15-Stella Dallas
4:30-Lorenzo Jones
4:45-Widder Brown
5:00-Girl Marries
5:15-Portia
5:30-Plain Bill
5:45-Front Page
6:00-News
6:15-Serenade
6:30-L. Thomas
6:45-Terry Combs
7:00-Take It Easy
7:15-Ruth's Orch.
7:30-Calendar
8:00-Calendar
8:15-Melody
8:30-C. Swarthout
8:45-Eddy
9:00-Information
10:00-Dr. J. Q.
11:00-News
11:15-R. Harkness
11:30-Playhouse

7:00-WOR-422M
4:00-News
4:15-Vocalist
4:30-Forum
4:45-Uncle Don
5:00-Superman
5:15-Mystery
5:30-News Mix
5:45-Melody
6:00-Ramona
6:15-News
6:30-News
6:45-News
7:00-News
7:15-News
7:30-News
7:45-News
8:00-News
8:15-News
8:30-News
8:45-News
9:00-News
9:15-News
9:30-News
9:45-News
10:00-News
10:15-News
10:30-News
10:45-News
11:00-News
11:15-News
11:30-News

7:00-WJZ-455M
4:00-News
4:15-News
4:30-News
4:45-News
5:00-News
5:15-News
5:30-News
5:45-News
6:00-News
6:15-News
6:30-News
6:45-News
7:00-News
7:15-News
7:30-News
7:45-News
8:00-News
8:15-News
8:30-News
8:45-News
9:00-News
9:15-News
9:30-News
9:45-News
10:00-News
10:15-News
10:30-News
10:45-News
11:00-News
11:15-News
11:30-News

8:00-WABC-675M
4:00-News
4:15-News
4:30-News
4:45-News
5:00-News
5:15-News
5:30-News
5:45-News
6:00-News
6:15-News
6:30-News
6:45-News
7:00-News
7:15-News
7:30-News
7:45-News
8:00-News
8:15-News
8:30-News
8:45-News
9:00-News
9:15-News
9:30-News
9:45-News
10:00-News
10:15-News
10:30-News
10:45-News
11:00-News
11:15-News
11:30-News

TUESDAY
6:00-W. 454M
4:00-News
4:15-News
4:30-News
4:45-News
5:00-News
5:15-News
5:30-News
5:45-News
6:00-News
6:15-News
6:30-News
6:45-News
7:00-News
7:15-News
7:30-News
7:45-News
8:00-News
8:15-News
8:30-News
8:45-News
9:00-News
9:15-News
9:30-News
9:45-News
10:00-News
10:15-News
10:30-News
10:45-News
11:00-News
11:15-News
11:30-News

8:00-WABC-675M
4:00-News
4:15-News
4:30-News
4:45-News
5:00-News
5:15-News
5:30-News
5:45-News
6:00-News
6:15-News
6:30-News
6:45-News
7:00-News
7:15-News
7:30-News
7:45-News
8:00-News
8:15-News
8:30-News
8:45-News
9:00-News
9:15-News
9:30-News
9:45-News
10:00-News
10:15-News
10:30-News
10:45-News
11:00-News
11:15-News
11:30-News

McSpaden Leading In Golf Tourney

New Orleans, Feb. 12 (AP)—Professional golfer's road show winds up its tenth tournament of the winter season today with five long-ball hitters trying—on a wet course—to overtake Harold (Jug) McSpaden's half-way lead in the $5,000 New Orleans open.

Heavy rains caused postponement of the scheduled final 36 holes yesterday.

A good long ball hitter himself, McSpaden appeared headed for his first P.G.A.-sponsored championship since the Chicago victory open last June. His 7-under-par 137 for the first rounds was three strokes better than his nearest rival, Byron Nelson, of Toledo, Ohio, could do.

Nelson, Golf's No. 1 guy who has the greatest tournament record of all time, according to P.G.A. tournament manager Fred Corcoran, Johnny Bulla, Chicago, 142; Craig Wood, Mamaroneck, N. Y., 143; and

F AND M FIVE HALTS BULLETS BY 42-30 SCORE

Franklin and Marshall's Navy trainees proved too strong for the Gettysburg college courtmen here Saturday evening and romped off with a 42-30 decision after getting plenty of opposition from the fighting Bullets throughout the first half.

The F. and M. outfit presented a fast-breaking outfit that time and again capitalized on that style of play to score comparatively easy goals. Frequently the Bullets missed comparatively easy shots from beneath the hoop.

Bobby March was easily the outstanding performer for the Bullets, racking up 20 points and playing a fine all-around game. Lang, F. and M. forward, connected for 14 points to pace the Diplomats.

The Bullets threatened to stage an upset in the first period when they took a 15-12 margin, thanks to five goals by March along with single twin-pointers by Tripler and Andrews. March opened the game with a one-handed toss and Martin looped a foul. The visitors spurred and moved into an 8-3 lead before March landed a long shot. Nagle landed an easy shot when he eluded his guard, March landed three straight goals and Tripler, subbing for Moore, scored on a lay-up. Crestani got away for an easy close shot and just before the period ended Andrews looped a long throw.

The experience of the Diplomats began to tell in the second period and successive goals by Fullerton and Crestani and a pair by Lang put the Blue and White ahead 21-15 never to be headed. The half ended with F. and M. out in front 26-21.

Close guarding by both teams kept the scoring low in the third period. The Bullets blew seven straight chances from the free throw lane in the round, March's two field goals were the only Bullet tallies. F. and M. led 31-25 going into the last round.

F. and M. sent its advantage rocketing in the fourth period with the scoring being evenly divided among the regulars. Coach Bream's outfit fought gamely but could not keep pace.

Co. B defeated Co. A of the ASTP outfit in the preliminary game 50-32. Albright will meet the Bullets here Wednesday evening.

	G	F	Pts.
Andrews, f	1	0	2
Pegg, f	0	0	1
Moore, f	0	0	1
Tripler, f	1	0	2
Shepherd, c	1	1	3
March, g	8	4	20
Martini, g	1	1	3

	Totals	G	F	Pts.
F. and M.	12	6	14	20
Keteltas, f	1	0	1	2
Hood, f	2	0	0	4
Lang, f	6	2	5	14
Carlson, f	0	0	0	0
Fullerton, c	1	0	2	2
Beach, c	0	0	0	0
Crestani, g	4	2	3	10
Werner, g	0	0	0	0
Nagle, g	4	2	4	10
Wolfe, g	0	0	0	0

	Totals	G	F	Pts.
Gettysburg	15	6	4	32
F. and M.	12	6	14	20
Referee, Morgan, Stricker, scorer, Schweizer, timekeeper, Shook.

	G	F	Pts.
Ch. A. McClure, f	2	1	3
Eudoy, f	4	0	8
Bell, c	4	1	7
Bean, g	2	1	5
Davis, g	2	1	5

	Totals	G	F	Pts.
Co. B.	14	4	13	32
Co. A.	10	0	0	20
Referee, Dry, scorer, Schweizer, timekeeper, Shook.

DePaul Tops Cage Teams Of Nation

New York, Feb. 12 (AP)—DePaul's dynamic Demons occupied the No. 1 spot in the nation's college basketball rankings today on the strength of an 11-game winning streak and a record of 17 victories in 18 starts.

Their latest triumph was a 48-46 conquest of highly regarded Oklahoma A. & M. before 14,942 fans at Chicago Saturday night. Once again it was Giant Mikan who paced the Demons with 15 points while holding seven-foot Bob Kurland to only eight.

Vieting with the Demons for top honors are Army and Navy, Iowa, Ohio State, St. John's of Brooklyn, Notre Dame, Bowling Green and Rice. Army meets St. John's at West Point Wednesday and plays Penn Saturday. Navy meets North Carolina pre-flight Saturday. Notre Dame plays Iowa Seahawks Wednesday and Marquette Saturday. Iowa tangles with potent Purdue Monday.

Ed Dudley, 145, Chicago, top the long range drivers within striking distance of the title.

Maroons To Play At Shippensburg

The Gettysburg high Maroons make no secret of their ambition to sweep the six remaining basketball games on their schedule, the first of which will be played Tuesday evening at Shippensburg.

Definitely out of the South Penn title race, the Broom-men are now out to wind up their campaign with a streak of victories.

Waynesboro high will be met here Friday evening in a southern division game of the South Penn league.

TRAVEL POSES MAJOR PROBLEM FOR BASEBALL

Washington, Feb. 12 (AP)—The capital now is expecting an early visit by baseball representatives to look into the probability of further big league travel curtailment next season.

Government sources have suggested that the major leagues be divided into east and west divisions to save approximately 2,000,000 miles.

Baseball has numerous problems to solve before the 1945 season opens, but the transportation pinch is one difficulty that may be gone, into right away.

Ford Frick and Will Harridge, big league presidents, have been appointed to confer with government officials on conditions affecting the game's continuance.

Reaction among baseball men was varied to the suggestion that the majors divide into two divisions to eliminate the long east-west hauls.

Such a merger was broached over a year ago, Harridge disclosed, but there was no public mention of it.

Clark Griffith, Washington Senators' owner, said that baseball men are willing to look into the feasibility of the idea if the situation is tight enough to make additional curtailment necessary.

Government sources, in suggesting the plan, praised baseball's cooperation, acknowledged its value in keeping persons in the bleachers and off the trains, and said that the game should be continued.

Must Curb Travel

But, these sources added, 96,000,000 passenger miles were traveled last year, reaching an absolute physical peak for transportation facilities, and non-essential travel must be cut again.

Col. J. Monroe Johnson, Office of Defense Transportation director, wrote baseball writers and leaders at their recent meeting in New York suggesting a review of the big leagues' transportation needs.

Professional football also will share in this reduction, these sources said, particularly in the elimination of such trips as that of the Washington Redskins to California for training and exhibition games.

SPORT SHORTS

Philadelphia, Feb. 12 (AP)—Jimmy Fox is going to try again.

At 37, the one-time home-run great of the Philadelphia Athletics, has signed a one-year contract with the Phillies.

"He can still hit 'em a mile," said Phillies' General Manager Herb Pennock.

Fox, nurt in a batting practice accident, sat on the bench for the Chicago Cubs last season and then managed Portsmouth in the Piedmont League. He says his injuries are healed.

Villanova, Pa., Feb. 12 (AP)—Navy and Villanova football varlets will meet this fall for the first time since 1917. Villanova announced that its team would play at Annapolis September 29 in the first game of the season for the Midshipmen.

Bethlehem, Pa., Feb. 12 (AP)—Navy again is tops among eastern collegiate wrestling teams.

The Middies successfully defended their title in the 41st annual Eastern Intercollegiate Wrestling association championships during the week-end, placing three individual winners and running up a point total of 35 Army scored 21, the New London, Conn. Coast Guard academy, 14, Lehigh, 12, Penn State and Pennsylvania, 6; Cornell, 2; and Princeton and Columbia, 0.

Sports Roundup

New York, Feb. 12 (AP)—The various new versions of basketball that have been tried out recently in the east can hardly stack up to the way the game is played by an anti-aircraft outfit in the South Pacific.

Eddie Vargon of Kansas City, Kas., former freshman cage star at Kansas City, tells about it. "Biggest event of the holiday season was the inaugural of our basketball season. . . . It was a little tough at first, and we had to build a court—out of coral. . . . It was fine except it was a bit soft in places, so we didn't do much dribbling. . . . Its mostly a passing game. . . . We tried a night game on one occasion, but the ball blended in so much with the foliage that three of our guys came out with busted teeth. . . . 'Alien' conditions wouldn't permit too much light, so we're strictly an afternoon outfit from now on."

HURRY CALL

Sgt. Allen Lacombe, the best fight promoter in the Persian Gulf Command, is in town for a few days while waiting for a plane back to Iran.

"We're having a big boxing tournament at the Khorramshahr Punch bowl, March 14 to 17," he reports. "That's why I have to hurry back. . . . We'll have the British, Indians, Russians, Egyptians and Iran-Arabs as well as our Army champions fighting. . . . I don't know how many of my boys will be left; they have been shipped while I was home. . . . I got a lot of prizes while I was in New Orleans; the folks down there came through fine. And it will be wonderful if the Russians win some; they have fought us nearly every week and never got anything for it. They stand a good chance in the lightweight class, too. . . . Sgt. Lacombe can't quite understand why the army doesn't pay more attention to boxing, since he usually can fill the Punch bowl beyond its 6,000 capacity at a post where only 8,000 soldiers are stationed. . . . 'There's one good thing about fights in the army, though,' he admits. 'No boxing commission.'"

BATHROBE PRICES

Ceiling prices have been established on men's new corduroy bathrobes, in small sizes, that have been turned over by the Army for sale to civilians, the Harrisburg District Office of Price Administration announced today. The ceilings, effective February 10, are $7 each at retail.

Beware Coughs
from common colds
That Hang On

Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

CREOMULSION
for Coughs, Chest Colds, Bronchitis

Electric Water Systems
SOLD — INSTALLED
All Makes Repaired and Rebuilt
J. D. Clapsaddle
Phone 926-R-12, Gettysburg

Bender Funeral Home
The Bender Service
Is Not Expensive

WE WANT YOUR CHILDREN'S PICTURES

To Be Published in
THE GETTYSBURG TIMES

A Tribute to Our Children

Pictures of the children of Gettysburg and Adams County are to be published in The Gettysburg Times as a special tribute to our young citizens. So, Mother and Dad, we will need your cooperation to help make this event colorful and inspiring.

Arrangements have been made with The Woltz Studios, nationally known children's photographers, to take the pictures for us at the time and place given below. All you have to do is bring your children as our guests. There is no charge or obligation. However, all children must be accompanied by one parent or other guardian.

You do not have to be a subscriber to The Times and you do not need to purchase photographs, although you may do so if you wish. Just bring your children down and have the picture taken. Later you will be shown proofs from which you select the pose you prefer having printed in The Times. The pictures will be published at a later date. It is as simple as that!

You can clip these pictures from The Times and thus obtain a memento of childhood which will become a treasured keepsake and memory record for both you and your children when they grow up. Fathers and other relatives in the Armed Forces will get a real thrill when they receive The Times containing pictures of the beloved little faces they know so well.

If your last name begins with any of the letters between "A" and "J" bring your child Friday, February 16. Those with last names beginning with letters from "K" to "S" should come Saturday, February 17, while those with last names beginning with the remaining letters of the alphabet should come Monday.

The above suggestion is not compulsory but your cooperation will be appreciated.

Below is the time and place to have your children's pictures taken without cost.

I.O.O.F. HALL
Friday, Saturday and Monday, Feb. 16, 17 and 19
12 Noon to 8 P. M. Daily

THE GETTYSBURG TIMES

Therman Gibson Ten-Pin Winner

Chicago, Feb. 12 (AP)—The thunder of tumbling ten-pins was still here today as bowlers from Detroit, Pleasantville, N. J., and New York state rested after winning the gold and glory in three big tournaments that made this city the world's bowling capitol for 16 days.

Early this morning husky, 28-year-old Therman Gibson, of Detroit, came up with the prize plum of bowling when he was named winner of the Petersen bowling classic. Gibson, who moved into first place with a score of 1,615 on the next-to-last squad last night, took with him a cash prize of $5,100.

Tilton Lake, of Pleasantville, N. J., meanwhile, was collecting $2,000 cash and a $300 gold ring for winning the Dom Devito tournament with a score of 1,793.

At the same time, Fred Vopel, of Laurelton, N. Y., and George Young, of Baldwin, N. Y., were picking up $1,000 as winners of the Petersen doubles tournament. They turned in a combined score of 1,621 for the four games each rolled.

bet Bez gives them four laps around the track."

DOTS ALL BROTHERS

In Iowa they're talking about Navy Lieut. Ed. Moore, former Waterloo Courier sports editor and Iowa conference commissioner, as successor to Major John L. Griffith as Big Ten commissioner. . . . Joe Scantella, 155-pound freshman football candidate at the University of Georgia whose Clinton, N. J., home isn't too far from Frank Sinatra's Balliwack at Hasbrouck Heights, vows students with his imitations of the voice. . . . That probably won't help his chances of making the team.

BATHROBE PRICES

Ceiling prices have been established on men's new corduroy bathrobes, in small sizes, that have been turned over by the Army for sale to civilians, the Harrisburg District Office of Price Administration announced today. The ceilings, effective February 10, are $7 each at retail.

Beware Coughs
from common colds
That Hang On

Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

CREOMULSION
for Coughs, Chest Colds, Bronchitis

Electric Water Systems
SOLD — INSTALLED
All Makes Repaired and Rebuilt
J. D. Clapsaddle
Phone 926-R-12, Gettysburg

Bender Funeral Home
The Bender Service
Is Not Expensive

WE WANT YOUR CHILDREN'S PICTURES

To Be Published in
THE GETTYSBURG TIMES

A Tribute to Our Children

Pictures of the children of Gettysburg and Adams County are to be published in The Gettysburg Times as a special tribute to our young citizens. So, Mother and Dad, we will need your cooperation to help make this event colorful and inspiring.

Arrangements have been made with The Woltz Studios, nationally known children's photographers, to take the pictures for us at the time and place given below. All you have to do is bring your children as our guests. There is no charge or obligation. However, all children must be accompanied by one parent or other guardian.

You do not have to be a subscriber to The Times and you do not need to purchase photographs, although you may do so if you wish. Just bring your children down and have the picture taken. Later you will be shown proofs from which you select the pose you prefer having printed in The Times. The pictures will be published at a later date. It is as simple as that!

You can clip these pictures from The Times and thus obtain a memento of childhood which will become a treasured keepsake and memory record for both you and your children when they grow up. Fathers and other relatives in the Armed Forces will get a real thrill when they receive The Times containing pictures of the beloved little faces they know so well.

If your last name begins with any of the letters between "A" and "J" bring your child Friday, February 16. Those with last names beginning with letters from "K" to "S" should come Saturday, February 17, while those with last names beginning with the remaining letters of the alphabet should come Monday.

The above suggestion is not compulsory but your cooperation will be appreciated.

Below is the time and place to have your children's pictures taken without cost.

I.O.O.F. HALL
Friday, Saturday and Monday, Feb. 16, 17 and 19
12 Noon to 8 P. M. Daily

THE GETTYSBURG TIMES

BASKETBALL SCORES (East)

(By The Associated Press)
Penn State, 51; Colgate, 34.
Muhlenberg, 47; Columbia, 44.
St. Joseph's, 39; Lassalle, 36.
Brooklyn, 58; St. Francis, 41.
Army, 79; Rochester, 42.
Navy, 60; West Va., 40.
Duke, 51; Temple, 46.
Cornell, 50; Dartmouth, 35.
Geneva, 61; Carnegie Tech, 45.
Bucknell, 62; Scranton, 55.
Notre Dame, 66; New York, 60.
Pennsylvania, 66; Princeton, 52.
Yale, 79; Connecticut, 41.
Trinity, 55; Holy Cross, 54.
Haverford, 55; Dickinson, 23.
Lincoln, (Pa.), 32; Hampton Institute, 21.

Albright, 57; Ursinus, 37.
RPI, 70; Union, 44.
Georgia Preflight, 46; North Carolina Pre

Bonds on Sale Day and Night! — Immediate Delivery

MAJESTIC Today and Tomorrow
Features 7:30 - 7:25 - 9:30

GARY LEAVES HIS BRAND ON MERLE!

THE COOPER
BRAND OF ROMANCE!

SAMUEL GOLDWYN
PRESENTS
GARY
COOPER
MERLE
OBERON
THE *Cowboy
AND
the Lady*
WITH PATSY KELLY - WALTER BRENNAN
FUZZY KNIGHT - MABEL TODD - HENRY KOLKER
World's Latest News Events

Keep Your Car In GOOD CONDITION

Motor Tuneup Carburetor Service
Brake Service Wheel Balancing
Front End Alignment Complete Motor Overhaul

NO WAITING

Body and Fender Work
Washing — Simonizing — Lubrication
US Tires — Delco Batteries — Fleet-Wing Products

GLENN L. BREAM
Olds — Cadillac Sales and Service
100 BUFORD AVE.

Bendersville Community Hall
FEBRUARY 13TH
SHORTY FINCHER and his PRAIRIE PALS
Featuring Ray Myers, the Armless Wonder Doing
Things You Must See To Believe
Show Starts at 8:00 P. M.

SAVE COSTLY OVERHAULS
WITH A
NEW MOTOR

Sometimes it's cheaper to replace than repair. This very often applies to motor overhaul jobs. The installation of a complete NEW motor saves considerable time and assures new car or truck performance.

Before investing in what may turn out to be a costly overhaul, first investigate the advantages of installing a new motor assembly. You will get lower operating costs and better performance.

GETTYSBURG MOTOR SALES
GATES Glenn C. Bream ALUMITE
TIRES and TUBES EDWIN H. CHRYSLER LUBRICATION
Open 7 to 9 — PHONE 484 — Closed Sundays

PUBLIC SALE
OF PERSONAL PROPERTY
FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 16, 1945

The undersigned, intending to quit farming, will sell at public sale on his farm known as Ash Spring Farm, 2 miles east of Greencastle, on Route 16, on above date, the following personal property.

38 HEAD OF HOLSTEIN CATTLE—19 are milk cows, most of which will be fresh by day of sale; 5 Bulls of serviceable age, 14 Young Heifers and Bulls, 1 to 4 months old. This herd is Registered, T.B. tested and certified blood tested.

HORSES—Gray horse, 6 years old; Bay horse, 5 years old; Bay mare, 5 years old. Horses to be sold before the cattle.

FARM MACHINERY—4-horse wagon with 20 ft. hay carriers, low-down wagon with 20 ft. flat 2-horse wagon with bed, McCormick Deering Farm Machinery—8 ft. binder, 5 ft. mower, hay loader with closed bottom, side rake, dump rake, grain drill, 10 disc corn planter with fertilizer attachment, 2 riding corn plows, cultipacker, New Idea manure spreader, 2 No. 30 Syracuse barshare plows, 2 22-tooth spring harrows, hay tedder, log land-roller.

POWER MACHINERY—Farmall F 20 Tractor on rubber with McCormick-Deering cultivators, John Deere disc plow, good as new; disc harrow, 7 ft.; McCormick-Deering power mower, 7 ft.; Bear Cat hammermill, 10 in., good as new; 6-in. endless belt 60 ft.; fodder shredder, wheelbarrow. This machinery is in very good condition mostly nearly new.

HORSE GEARS—2 sets Yankee fronts, good as new; 3 sets Yankee breechbands, pair check lines, good as new; plow lines, bridles, collars, halters, single, double and triple trees, spreaders, jockey sticks, grain cradle, shovels, forks, and many articles too numerous to mention.

DAIRY EQUIPMENT—Surge milker complete with 2 single units, 17 milk cans, buckets and strainers.

Sale will begin at 11 A. M. TERMS CASH.

SAMUEL HYKES

BUY U. S. WAR BONDS

RADIO PROGRAMS

New York, Feb. 12 (AP)—The St. Louis Post-Dispatch, which also owns and operates station KSD, is continuing its campaign against what it describes as the use of "interrupting middle commercials" in news broadcasts. It also objects to sponsorship of news programs by what it classifies as "objectionable advertisers."

The newspaper also is directing its campaign toward a type of radio advertising which it prefers to as not in "good taste."

MONDAY

6:00-WFAP-454M

4:00-Stage Wife
4:15-Stella Dallas
4:30-Lorenzo Jones
4:45-Widder Brown
5:00-Girl Marries
5:15-Portia
5:30-Plain Bill
5:45-Front Page
6:00-News
6:15-Serenade
6:45-L. Thomas
7:00-Perry Como
7:15-Vandercook
7:30-Roth's Orch.
7:45-Kaltenbach
8:00-Cavalcade
8:30-C. Swarthout
9:00-N. Eddy
9:30-Information
10:00-J. Antoine
10:30-Dr. I. Q.
11:00-News
11:15-R. Harkness
11:30-Playhouse

7:00-WOR-422M

4:00-News
4:15-Vocalist
4:30-Forum
5:00-Uncle Don
5:15-H. Harkness
5:30-Mystery
5:45-Tom Mix
6:00-News
6:15-Ramona
6:30-News
6:45-Specter
7:00-News
7:15-Answer Man
7:30-Forum
8:00-C. Brown
8:15-Vocalist
8:30-Drama
8:45-Heater
9:15-Stories
9:30-L. Lincoln
10:00-Dr. Seegar
10:15-P. Schubert
10:30-Dr. Eriker
11:00-News
11:15-Dance Orch.
11:30-Dance Orch.

7:00-WJZ-682M

4:00-News
4:15-Rambler
4:30-News
4:45-H. Harkness
5:00-Terry
5:15-Dr. Seegar
5:30-Capt. M'Knight
6:00-News
6:15-Dup
6:30-Whose War?
6:45-Vocalist
7:00-News
7:15-R. Swing
7:30-Tone Ranger
8:00-News
8:15-Lum. Abner
8:30-Blind Date
9:00-Ed. Wynn
9:30-Spot Band
10:00-Louie and Or.
10:30-Sen. Vanberg
11:00-News
11:15-Trio
11:30-Amigos

8:00-WAC-675M

4:00-Home Party
4:30-Story
4:45-Off Record
5:00-Service Time
5:30-Vocalist
5:45-Wilderness
6:00-News
6:15-Sunbe
6:30-Vocalist
6:45-World Today
7:00-J. Kirkwood
7:15-H. Hopper
7:30-Thanks Yanks
8:00-Vox Pop
8:30-Burns, Allen
9:00-Theatre
10:00-Screen Guild
10:30-Morgan Show
11:00-News
11:15-Vocalist
11:30-Dance Orch.

TUESDAY

6:00-WFAP-454M

8:00-News
8:15-Listen
8:30-News
8:45-Talk
9:00-Variety
9:30-A. Hawley
9:45-Classics
10:00-L. Lawton
10:15-R. St. John
10:30-Finders Keep
11:00-Road of Life
11:15-Rosemary
11:30-Playhouse
11:45-David Harum
12:00-News
12:15-M. McNeill
12:30-AAP Band
1:00-Mary McBride
1:45-M. Beatty
2:00-Guiding Light
2:15-Sketch
2:30-Woman in Wh
2:45-Hymns
3:00-Woman
3:15-Ma Perkins
3:30-P. Young
3:45-Happiness
4:00-Stage Wife
4:15-Stella Dallas
4:30-Lorenzo Jones
4:45-Widder Brown
5:00-Girl Marries
5:15-Portia
5:30-Plain Bill
5:45-Front Page
6:00-News
6:15-Serenade
6:45-L. Thomas
7:00-Perry Como
7:15-Vandercook
7:30-Roth's Orch.
7:45-Kaltenbach
8:00-Cavalcade
8:30-C. Swarthout
9:00-N. Eddy
9:30-Information
10:00-J. Antoine
10:30-Dr. I. Q.
11:00-News
11:15-R. Harkness
11:30-Playhouse

PAUL B. WENGER Auct. RAIFSNIDER & GINGRICH, Clerks.

PUBLIC SALE
OF PERSONAL PROPERTY
FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 16, 1945

The undersigned, intending to quit farming, will sell at public sale on his farm known as Ash Spring Farm, 2 miles east of Greencastle, on Route 16, on above date, the following personal property.

38 HEAD OF HOLSTEIN CATTLE—19 are milk cows, most of which will be fresh by day of sale; 5 Bulls of serviceable age, 14 Young Heifers and Bulls, 1 to 4 months old. This herd is Registered, T.B. tested and certified blood tested.

HORSES—Gray horse, 6 years old; Bay horse, 5 years old; Bay mare, 5 years old. Horses to be sold before the cattle.

FARM MACHINERY—4-horse wagon with 20 ft. hay carriers, low-down wagon with 20 ft. flat 2-horse wagon with bed, McCormick Deering Farm Machinery—8 ft. binder, 5 ft. mower, hay loader with closed bottom, side rake, dump rake, grain drill, 10 disc corn planter with fertilizer attachment, 2 riding corn plows, cultipacker, New Idea manure spreader, 2 No. 30 Syracuse barshare plows, 2 22-tooth spring harrows, hay tedder, log land-roller.

POWER MACHINERY—Farmall F 20 Tractor on rubber with McCormick-Deering cultivators, John Deere disc plow, good as new; disc harrow, 7 ft.; McCormick-Deering power mower, 7 ft.; Bear Cat hammermill, 10 in., good as new; 6-in. endless belt 60 ft.; fodder shredder, wheelbarrow. This machinery is in very good condition mostly nearly new.

HORSE GEARS—2 sets Yankee fronts, good as new; 3 sets Yankee breechbands, pair check lines, good as new; plow lines, bridles, collars, halters, single, double and triple trees, spreaders, jockey sticks, grain cradle, shovels, forks, and many articles too numerous to mention.

DAIRY EQUIPMENT—Surge milker complete with 2 single units, 17 milk cans, buckets and strainers.

Sale will begin at 11 A. M. TERMS CASH.

SAMUEL HYKES

BUY U. S. WAR BONDS

F AND M FIVE HALTS BULLETS BY 42-30 SCORE

Franklin and Marshall's Navy trainee quintet proved too strong for the Gettysburg college courtmen here Saturday evening and romped off with a 42-30 decision after getting plenty of opposition from the fighting Bullets throughout the first half.

The F. and M. outfit presented a fast-breaking outfit that time and again capitalized on that style of play to score comparatively easy goals. Frequently the Bullets missed comparatively easy shots from beneath the hoop.

Bobby March was easily the outstanding performer for the Bullets, racking up 20 points and playing a fine all-around game. Lang, F. and M. forward, connected for 14 points to pace the Diplomats.

The Bullets threatened to stage an upset in the first period when they took a 15-12 margin, thanks to five goals by March along with single twin-pointers by Tripler and Andrews. March opened the game with a one-handed toss and Martini looped a foul. The visitors spurred and moved into an 8-3 lead before March landed a long shot. Nagle landed an easy shot when he eluded his guard. March landed three straight goals and Tripler, subbing for Moore, scored on a lay-up. Crestani got away for an easy close shot and just before the period ended Andrews looped a long throw.

The experience of the Diplomats began to tell in the second period and successive goals by Fullerton and Crestani and a pair by Lang put the Blue and White ahead 21-15 never to be headed. The half ended with F. and M. out in front 26-21.

Close guarding by both teams kept the scoring low in the third period. The Bullets blew seven straight chances from the free throw lane in the round. March's two field goals were the only Bullet tallies. F. and M. led 31-25 going into the last round.

F. and M. sent its advantage rocketing in the fourth period with the scoring being evenly divided among the regulars. Coach Bream's outfit fought gamely but could not keep pace.

Co. B defeated Co. A of the ASTP outfit in the preliminary game 50-32. Albright will meet the Bullets here Wednesday evening.

Gettysburg
G. F. Pts.
Andrews, f. 0 0-2 2
Pegg, f. 0 0-1 0
Moore, f. 0 0-1 0
Tripler, f. 1 0-0 2
Shepherd, c. 1 1-1 3
March, g. 8 4-9 20
Martini, g. 1 1-1 3

Totals 12 6-14 20

F. and M.
G. F. Pts.
Keteltas, f. 1 0-1 2
Hood, f. 2 0-0 4
Lang, f. 6 2-5 14
Carlson, f. 0 0-0 0
Fullerton, c. 1 0-2 2
Beach, c. 0 0-0 0
Crestani, g. 4 2-3 10
Werner, g. 0 0-0 0
Nagle, g. 4 2-4 10
Wolfe, g. 0 0-0 0

Totals 18 6-15 42

Score by quarters: 15 6 4 5-30

F. and M. 12 14 5 11-42

Referee, Morgan, Strickler; scorer, Schweizer; timekeeper, Shook.

Preliminary Game

Co. A
G. F. Pts.
McClure, f. 2 1-3 5
Buzby, f. 4 0-0 8
Bell, c. 4 1-7 9
Bean, g. 2 1-1 5
Davis, g. 2 1-2 5

Totals 14 4-13 32

Co. B
G. F. Pts.
Prater, f. 10 0-0 20
Kiscadden, f. 3 1-3 7
Kemp, c. 5 5-9 15
Yogizinski, g. 3 1-2 7
Papafava, g. 0 1-4 1

Totals 21 1-8 50

Score by quarters: 6 6 11 9-32

Co. B 5 15 9 21-50

Referee, Dry; scorer, Schweizer; timekeeper, Shook.

DePaul Tops Cage Teams Of Nation

New York, Feb. 12 (AP)—De Paul's dynamic Demons occupied the No. 1 spot in the nation's college basketball rankings today on the strength of an 11-game winning streak and a record of 17 victories in 18 starts.

Their latest triumph was a 48-46 conquest of highly regarded Oklahoma A. & M. before 14,942 fans at Chicago Saturday night. Once again it was Giant Mikan who paced the Demons with 15 points while holding seven-foot Bob Kurland to only eight.

Vieng with the Demons for top honors are Army and Navy, Iowa, Notre Dame, Bowling Green and Rice. Army meets St. John's at West Point Wednesday and plays Penn Saturday. Navy meets North Carolina pre-flight Saturday. Notre Dame plays Iowa Seahawks Wednesday and Marquette Saturday. Iowa tangles with potent Purdue Monday.

Ed Dudley, 145, Chicago, top the long range drivers within striking distance of the title.

Maroons To Play At Shippensburg

The Gettysburg high Maroons make no secret of their ambition to sweep the six remaining basketball games on their schedule, the first of which will be played Tuesday evening at Shippensburg.

Definitely out of the South Penn title race, the Bream-men are now out to wind up their campaign with a streak of victories.

Waynesboro high will be met here Friday evening in a southern division game of the South Penn league.

TRAVEL POSES MAJOR PROBLEM FOR BASEBALL

By BUS HAM

Washington, Feb. 12 (AP)—The capital now is expecting an early visit by baseball representatives to look into the probability of further big league travel curtailment next season.

Government sources have suggested that the major leagues be divided into east and west divisions to save approximately 2,000,000 miles.

Baseball has numerous problems to solve before the 1945 season opens, but the transportation pinch is one difficulty that may be gone into right away.

Ford Frick and Will Harridge, big league presidents, have been appointed to confer with government officials on conditions affecting the game's continuance.

Varied Reaction

Reaction among baseball men was varied to the suggestion that the majors divide into two divisions to eliminate the long east-west hauls.

Such a merger was broached over a year ago, Harridge disclosed, but there was no public mention of it.

Clark Griffith, Washington Senators' owner, said that baseball men are willing to look into the feasibility of the idea if the situation is tight enough to make additional curtailment necessary.

Government sources, in suggesting the plan, praised baseball's cooperation, acknowledged its value in keeping persons in the bleachers and off the trains, and said that the game should be continued.

Must Curb Travel

But, these sources added, 96,000,000 passenger miles were traveled last year, reaching an absolute physical peak for transportation facilities, and non-essential travel must be cut again.

Col. J. Monroe Johnson, Office of Defense Transportation director, wrote baseball writers and leaders at their recent meeting in New York suggesting a review of the big leagues' transportation needs.

Professional football also will share in this reduction, these sources said, particularly in the elimination of such trips as that of the Washington Redskins to California for training and exhibition games.

SPORT SHORTS

Philadelphia, Feb. 12 (AP)—

Jimmy Fox is going to try again. At 37, the one-time home-run great of the Philadelphia Athletics, has signed a one-year contract with the Phillies.

"He can still hit 'em a mile," said Phillies' General Manager Herb Pennock.

Pox, hurt in a batting practice accident, sat on the bench for the Chicago Cubs last season and then managed Portsmouth in the Piedmont League. He says his injuries are healed.

Villanova, Pa., Feb. 12 (AP)—Navy and Villanova football varities will meet this fall for the first time since 1917. Villanova announced that its team would play at Annapolis September 29 in the first game of the season for the Midshipmen.

Bethlehem, Pa., Feb. 12 (AP)—Navy again is tops among eastern collegiate wrestling teams.

The Middies successfully defended their title in the 41st annual Eastern Intercollegiate Wrestling Association championships during the week-end, placing three individual winners and running up a point total of 35. Army scored 21, the New London, Conn., Coast Guard academy, 14; Lehigh, 12; Penn State and Pennsylvania, 6; Cornell, 2; and Princeton and Columbia, 0.

Lingayen Gulf was one of the chief landing spots of the Japanese when they stormed the Philippines in December, 1941.

GETTYSBURG ICE and STORAGE CO.

Phone 175

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Feb. 12 (AP)—The various new versions of basketball that have been tried out recently in the east can hardly stack up to the way the game is played by an anti-aircraft outfit in the South Pacific.

Eddie Vargon of Kansas City, Kas., former freshman cage star at Kansas City, tells about it.

"Biggest event of the holiday season was the inaugural of our basketball season. . . . It was a little tough at first, and we had to build a court—out of coral. . . . It was fine except it was a bit soft in places, so we didn't do much dribbling. . . . Its mostly a passing game. . . . We tried a night game on one occasion, but the ball blended in so much with the foliage that three of our guys came out with busted teeth.

"Alien conditions wouldn't permit too much light, so we're strictly an afternoon outfit from now on."

HURRY CALL

Sgt. Allen Lacombe, the best fight promoter in the Persian Gulf Command, is in town for a few days while waiting for a plane back to Iran.

"We're having a big boxing tournament at the Khorranshahr Punch bowl, March 14 to 17," he reports. "That's why I have to hurry back. . . . We'll have the British, Indians, Russians, Egyptians and Iran-Arabs as well as our Army champions fighting. . . . I don't know how many of my boys will be left; they have been shipped while I was home. . . . I got a lot of prizes while I was in New Orleans; the folks down there came through fine. And it will be wonderful if the Russians win some; they have fought us nearly every week and never got anything for it. They stand a good chance in the lightweight class, too."

Sgt. Lacombe can't quite understand why the Army doesn't pay more attention to boxing, since he usually can fill the Punch bowl beyond its 6,000 capacity at a post where only 8,000 soldiers are stationed. . . . "There's one good thing about fights in the army, though," he admits. "No boxing commission."

TASKMASTER

Major Steve Hamas, the old heavyweight, who has returned to Mitchell Field after 14 months with the Army Air Forces in Europe, was discussing college days when someone mentioned his former football coach at Penn State, Hugo Bezdek.

"Bezdek now lives on a chicken farm near Doylestown, Pa., and one of the old grads commented: 'I'll bet those chickens are tough.'"

Steve grinned and added: "Yes, and if they don't produce every day, I'll be in trouble."

BATHROBE PRICES

Ceiling prices have been established on men's new corduroy bathrobes, in small sizes, that have been turned over by the Army for sale to civilians, the Harrisburg District Office of Price Administration announced today. The ceilings, effective February 10, are $7 each at retail.

Beware Coughs

from common colds

That Hang On

Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you it to have your money back.

CREOMULSION

for Coughs, Chest Colds, Bronchitis

WE WANT YOUR CHILDREN'S PICTURES

To Be Published in

THE GETTYSBURG TIMES

A Tribute to Our Children

Picture of the children of Gettysburg and Adams County are to be published in The Gettysburg Times as a special tribute to our young citizens. So, Mother and Dad, we will need your cooperation to help make this event colorful and inspiring.

Arrangements have been made with The Woltz Studios, nationally known children's photographers, to take the pictures for us at the time and place given below. All you have to do is bring your children as our guests. There is no charge or obligation. However, all children must be accompanied by one parent or other guardian.

You do not have to be a subscriber to The Times and you do not need to purchase photographs, although you may do so if you wish. Just bring your children down and have the picture taken. Later you will be shown proofs from which you select the pose you prefer having printed in The Times. The pictures will be published at a later date. It is as simple as that!

You can clip these pictures from The Times and thus obtain a memento of childhood which will become a treasured keepsake and memory record for both you and your children when they grow up. Fathers and other relatives in the Armed Forces will get a real thrill when they receive The Times containing pictures of the beloved little faces they know so well.

If your last name begins with any of the letters between "A" and "J" bring your child Friday, February 16. Those with last names beginning with letters from "K" to "S" should come Saturday, February 17, while those with last names beginning with the remaining letters of the alphabet should come Monday.

The above suggestion is not compulsory but your cooperation will be appreciated.

Below is the time and place to have your children's pictures taken without cost.

I.O.O.F. HALL

Friday, Saturday and Monday, Feb. 16, 17 and 19

12 Noon to 8 P. M. Daily

THE GETTYSBURG TIMES

Therman Gibson Ten-Pin Winner

Chicago, Feb. 12 (AP)—The thunder of tumbling ten-pins was still heard today as bowlers from Detroit, Pleasantville, N. J., and New York state rested after winning the gold and glory in three big tournaments that made this city the world's bowling capitol for 16 days.

Early this morning husky, 28-year-old Therman Gibson, of Detroit, came up with the prize plum of bowling when he was named winner of the Petersen bowling classic. Gibson, who moved into first place with a score of 1,615 on the next-to-last squad last night, took with him a cash prize of $5,100.

Tilton Lake, of Pleasantville, N. J., meanwhile, was collecting $2,000 cash and a $300 gold ring for winning the Dem Devito tournament with a score of 1,793.

At the same time, Fred Vopel, of Laurelton, N. Y., and George Young, of Baldwin, N. Y., were picking up $1,000 as winners of the Petersen doubles tournament. They turned in a combined score of 1,621 for the four games each rolled.

bet Bez gives them four laps around the track."